

All Three Stand the Valspar Boiling Water Test!

Valspar Varnish—The exceptional durability of Valspar is due to its great elasticity and toughness plus absolute waterproofness. Test after test has proved its resistance to accidents that mean destruction to ordinary varnishes. Valspar's absolutely unique combination of qualities enables it to meet the countless requirements of everyday use in a way unequalled by any other varnish. Nothing can turn it white.

Valspar Varnish-Stain—Valspar Varnish in six beautiful and permanent colors-Mahogany, Light and Dark Oak, Cherry, Walnut and Moss Green. With Valspar Varnish-Stains you can Valspar and stain at one stroke of the brush, bringing out all the beauty of grain in the woodwork. Like clear Valspar they are absolutely waterproof and weatherproof.

Valspar-Enamel—Valspar Varnish combined with the highest grade pigments to produce Enamels beautiful in color and Valspar in quality. Made in twelve colors—also Black and White, Gold Aluminum, Bronze and Flat Black. For every day use indoors and out—on woodwork, furniture, automobiles—they furnish superior protection coupled with unsurpassed beauty of color.

Beachwood Property Owners' Map

The full blocks of Beachwood are 600 feet long and 200 feet wide, so that it is easy to tell the distance from one point to another in the borough. The streets are 33 feet wide, with the following exceptions: Atlantic City Boulevard is 50 feet wide; Beachwood Boulevard is 50 feet wide from the water to the railroad crossing, and 40 feet south of this; Barnegat Boulevard, Club House Road and Railroad Avenue are 40 feet wide.

FOREWORD

E, the pioneers of Beachwood, have faith in its future, and, therefore, believe that even in its infancy some effort should be made to put on record its history, the names of its early residents, and such other information as is pertinent. And not only as a matter of history, but as a very convenient and useful necessity, we venture to bring out the first issue of this Borough Directory and Who's Who.

The idea of such a volume occurred to the editor in the midst of other pressing labors, and was received so favorably by those with whom we consulted, that we could not help entering upon the project with pleasure, as a labor of love for Beachwood and as a means of still further spreading the name and fame of the beautiful borough in the pines so fortunately founded by Bertram C. Mayo and the great daily newspaper which backed his efforts and lent him its influence and support.

We wish to thank the many friends who so promptly sent in their subscriptions in advance, proving, as so often in the past, that no effort for the welfare of our borough ever failed to receive a spontaneous and public-spirited support. We only hope that what has been so hurriedly prepared for the season of 1924 may, at least to some extent, meet the expectations and approval of our subscribers. If the Directory fills a real want we may be tempted to issue it annually, and in that case shall be pleased to receive suggestions for added interest and improvement.

Nor must we forget to thank our advertisers, without whose important assistance a large deficit would surely have stared us in the face. A blessing upon their heads and may the people of Beachwood give each one of them a bounteous share of patronage.

Also let us study the "Who's Who" feature and let it prove an introduction to one another. There are many excellent men and women, who are interested in Beachwood, and if some of the pioneers are missed, other desirable people are taking their places. Learning more about each other, let us come together more closely and foster to a still greater extent the fine community spirit which has done so much for Beachwood in the first decade of its existence. We now have an opportunity, also, to learn something about the lines of business in which our residents are engaged, and it will be the neighborly and graceful thing to make use of this knowledge for mutual advantage and benefit.

Beachwood, the beautiful, began as a summer health resort in the great New Jersev pine belt. Its rapid growth and development, despite the temporary setback caused by the world war, indicates that it has a great future and should it be enabled, as we hope, to add more territory to afford still greater growth along the waters of Barnegat Bay (for we are located on an arm of that famous body and not, strictly speaking, on a river), the time may be not far distant when we shall be a winter as well as a summer resort, with increased opportunities for development, prosperity and healthful recreation and enjoyment. For the attainment of this greatness and eventual national distinction, two things are absolutely necessary. First, the preservation of the pines without which the distinctive character, charm and attraction of Beachwood would be wiped out; and, second, the rigid cooperation of the present inhabitants to guard well the character of those who are encouraged to settle among us. No commercial consideration or prospect of gain should tempt those who love and honor this lovely spot, to do anything that would lower the standard of its property owners. And we should take an equal pride in seeing our ordinances enforced so that Beachwood may continually add to its reputation as a decent, law-abiding Christian community.

All-vear resident.

Mr. Burnett was born in Seneca Falls, N. Y. His parents removed to Yonkers, where he attended the public schools. At sixteen years of age he struck out for himself at Maplewood. N. J., where he started in the oil business and succeeded on a capital of $5. He told us the story in his quiet, humorous way, and it is so good that we shall try to reproduce it as an example of what a plucky and honest American lad can do.

"I wished to get up a route to sell kerosene oil," he said, "but I had no horse or wagon. I happened to read in a paper the advertisement of a man in Orange Valley who wanted to sell a rig. So I went to see him and told him I would like to buy the horse and outfit. 'But,' said I, 'I have no money.' 'Neither have I,' he replied, 'and the horse is starving. Have you any feed?' I said no, but I would get some. 'All right,' he then said, 'take and try him for two weeks, and if you like him you can pay me fifty dollars for him, wagon and harness and all.' Then I went to a farmer and said, 'I want 500 pounds of hay, but have no money to pay for it just at present.' He replied, 'All right, back your wagon up and pay me when you can.' So I got the hay, but how about feed? I went to the mill and said I needed either a bag of feed or a bag of oats. The miller replied, 'you can have both.' 'But,' I said, 'I have no money to pay for them yet.' looked at me and said, 'You look as if you would pay for them; you can have them.

"So far so good. Then I drove down to Newark and saw Mr. McKurgen, who was in the oil business there, and I bought a barrel of oil. It cost me $4.38, and as my entire capital was only $5, it nearly ate it up. I had to have a faucet, but a man in the yard said, 'We have several lying around here that are not in use and you can have one.' Then I bought a measure and a funnel for sixty-two cents cash and had twenty cents left. I worked hard and at the end of a whole week I found I had sold just one quart of kerosene; but I had some promises and kept right at it and at the end of another week I found I had sold three barrels. I felt like a young Rockefeller."

And Warren T. Burnett kept at it for six years, and while he did not amass a fortune like John D., he was able to marry at the age of twenty-three, Miss Mary F. Van Riper, of Newark. After that, with Mrs. Burnett, he removed to Ocean Grove and Asbury Park, where he worked as a carpenter for a time and afterwards became a builder. Later he removed to Newark and while there went on an excursion to Ocean Gate, with the result that he purchased lots at this resort and opened a store in 1918. In 1921, however, upon seeing Beachwood he and Mrs. Burnett decided to settle here, and they built a two-story dwelling and store combined on Beachwood Boulevard.

Wife, Mrs. Mary F. (Van Riper) Burnett; children, Milton T., Warren F. and Florence Edna Burnett.

Milton T. Burnett, of East Orange, married Cynthia Morris, and their daughter married Jack Wines, of East Orange, and they have a son, Milton, thus making Warren T. Burnett a great-grandfather. His second son, Warren E., of Newark, married Lizzie Richards; they have three children. Florence Edna Burnett married Eugene L. McKee. and they have one child and reside at Gray. in the State of Maine. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Burnett are members of the Peachwood Property Owners' Association; Mr. Burnett is a member of Volunteer Fire Co., No. 1, and a trustee of the Firemen's Benefit Association.

BUSCH, ANITA N., north side of Compass Ave., near Lookout St., Block D-12. Other address, 1809 University Ave., San Diego, Cal. Miss Busch writes, under date of May 22, 1924: "I do not expect to live East again."

BUTLER, WILLIAM MILL, south side of Bayside Ave., near Harpoon St., Block D-13. All-year resident of Beachwood. Business address, 487 Broadway, New York City.

Beachwood. Business address, 487 Broadway, New York City. "Is a native of Rochester, N. Y., where he was for six years connected with the Daily Post-Express, resigning as editor-in-chief when that paper changed its political policy. He was also for several years city editor and associate editor of the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle. Later he became editor of the Home Magazine and, still later, chief of the foreign correspondence department of the Philadelphia Commercial Museum, which voted him a diploma for meritorious services in connection with the National Export Exposition in 1900. He was in the consular service for several years, and paid a visit to Paraguay and reported to the State Department at Washington an offer which he obtained from the Paraguayan government of a subsidy for a direct steamship line to that country, if the United States would give similar support. The Congress of Paraguay passed him a vote of thanks and $500 in gold for his book on Paraguay. Among his other literary productions are, the Whist Reference Book, Democracy and Other Poems. and a comic opera, The Sea-Serpent, which was set to beautiful music by Clifford W. Walsh. During the war, his poem, Democracy, was set to music by twelve American composers, in a contest which was won by Carrie Jacobs Bond, author of "The Perfect Day."

"For a number of years past he has been part owner of two trade journals. He is a life member of the New York Zoological Society; a member of the Polyhue Yacht Club of Beachwood, and a Scottish Rite Mason and Shriner."—American Journalist and Author

LAWRIE, JUSTIN, corner Lookout St. and Barnegat Boulevard, Block D-29. Born at Stoneham, Mass., near Boston, on September 8, 1889. Profession, singer. Wife, Mrs. Winifred McCall

Lawrie, native of Rochester, N. Y.; children. David, aged 41/2 years, and Theodore, one year. Mr. Lawrie has. for a number of years, made Beachwood his vacation home. Last year he remained over the winter with his family. He came here originally to recuperate his health and has been so delighted with the place that his desire is to spend as much time here as he possibly can. And if Mr. Lawrie is delighted with Beachwood, it is only fair to say that Beachwood is delighted with him and highly honored to num-ber him and Mrs. Lawrie, and their lovely children, among our residents. A detailed account of Mr. Lawrie's artistic career is vet to be written. From a voluminous scrapbook of his, delving here and there, we have been able to glean some interesting facts. As already stated, he was born at Stoneham, Mass. At the age of eleven his parents removed to Lewiston, Me., and, consequently, he was afterwards claimed by that city as a Lewiston boy. He began his musical career as a drummer, at the early age of fourteen, in Payne's Second Regiment Band of Lewiston, at the same time doubling as 'cellist for orchestral work. Being very ambitious and energetic, he was also engaged as supervisor of public school music in five different communities before he reached the age of twenty. He had not taken his own voice seriously until 1909, when he was solo tenor in St. Mark's Church, Augusta. Next year he was singing much appreciated solos with a chorus at Lewiston. He was also a member of the Lewiston lyric quartette, and song leader at the Littleton Assembly. His success prompted him to seek more thorough voice culture. As a boy he had at-tended the Maine musical festival and fallen under the spell of its leader, William R. Chapman. In 1912 he heard Nordica sing at one of these festival concerts and made up his mind, then and there, that he would go to New York and study, and some day come back as a festival soloist.

His studies in New York were arduous but effective and caused him to be hailed as a new lyric tenor. The Brooklyn Eagle spoke of his marvelous range and quality of voice. In January, 1913, he led a chorus of 400 voices in a record-breaking evangelistic campaign at the Fourth Avenue M. E. Church in Brooklyn, and sang solos "with thrilling and dramatic effect," according to the papers. The New York Tribune spoke of his making a hit also "as one of the Madison Square Garden forces." In fact, his scrapbook of press clippings is full of the highest compliments from musical critics. His wonderful, rich tenor voice, resonant and of great dramatic power, natural and flexible, and full of emotional ardor and fine discrimination, is described in these and other terms, and he was also said to have the gift of singing himself right into the hearts of his hearers. David Bispham, the famous baritone, spoke of his olorious voice and fine personality. H. E. Krehbiel, the noted critic, declared that Lawrie's voice was one of extraordinary beauty. In the fall of 1913 Mr. Lawrie was at Lake Ontario, and Rochester, N. Y., where he made a splendid impression as one of the Metropolitan Lyric Four, and he also made other good impressions in the Kodak City, for he won one of its fair and accomplished daughters, whose musical taste and talent were to prove of great assistance to him. His marriage to Miss Winifred McCall took place on November 25th, 1914, in New York. In 1918 a photograph of Mr. Lawrie was taken on shipboard in the English Channel. He was in uniform on his way to France, engaged by the "Over There Theater League," as an entertainer, to sing to the American troops. He sang also in England, remaining abroad for many months and returning home late in 1919. He now appeared with Fernando Guarneri, a distinguished baritone of the San Carlo Opera Company and other brilliant connections, whose voice was said by the critics to come nearest to that of Titta Ruffo. They filled a three weeks' engagement, with much success, at the Century Theater in Baltimore and also sang for the radio. Mr. Lawrie filled the leading rôle of "Abu Hassan," in Frank Damrosch's School in New York. Mr. Damrosch had chosen him for five consecutive years to do the tenor solos for the Musical Art So-ciety in New York, saying: "Mr. Lawrie is one American singer with genuine temperament." Early August, 1911, we see him directing the chorus work of the Aroostook Camp Meeting in Maine, and on the 26th of that month he sang to over 10,000 people in an open-air concert in Battery Park, New York, with the New York Police Band, on which occasion the New York Evening Journal said: "Mr. Lawrie has a remarkable tenor voice, which has been predicted will land him in grand opera." Nor did he forget Rochester and Lake Ontario, where we find him enjoying the beach with Mrs. Lawrie and their first baby boy. During the summer he was soloist in the Lake Avenue Baptist Church of Rochester. This year his long standing ambition to sing as a soloist in the Maine musical festival was also realized. Mr. Chapman appreciated his genius and he sang in Portland, Bangor, Lewiston, Bath and elsewhere with Guarneri, Rosa Raisa, and other famous artists, to record-breaking audiences. In October he took leading tenor parts in the operas "Otello" and "La Giaconda," and sang the tenor part in Rossini's "Stabat Mater." In February, 1921, Mr. Lawrie gave a

In February, 1921, Mr. Lawrie gave a very successful joint recital, with Marjorie Squires, at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, on the occasion of the afternoon musicale of the Rubinstein Club, and in March he began a concert tour with Guarneri and Mlle. Sokoloff, the violinist, in Maine, under the management of Mr. Chapman. Bangor, Waterville, Old Town, Machias, Biddeford, and Presque Isle were among the places visited and everywhere old friends and new were delighted.

friends and new were delighted. The same year Lawrie and Guarneri determined to try their fortunes in musical burlesque, and they made an excellent team, always confining their efforts to high-class music. They were the greatest sensation ever heard in this field.

In March, 1922, Mr. Lawrie was again on the program of the Rubinstein Club, at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, and in the same month he sang a solo part in Handel's Messiah, given by the Baltimore Oratorio Society. In April he was engaged in costume singing for several weeks, with Hone Hampton and Guarneri, at the Branford Theater in Newark, N. J.; also in Paterson, N. J. Later the Baltimore Sun announced Lawrie and Guarneri for twenty weeks at the Century Theater and roof, breaking all records. They were described as an inimitable vaudeville team, "with a painless method of administering high-brow music." On July 3rd, they gave an enjoyable concert in Beachwood. In September Mr. Lawrie began a five weeks' engagement at the Capitol Theater, on Broadway, New York, being selected by Mr. Rothapfel out of fifty tenor applicants, to sing the "Kol Nidrei" for the Jewish holidays, lasting one week. Mr. Lawrie made up in character, impersonating Sirota, the great Russian cantor. He also sang the rôles of Faust and the prologue of the Prisoner of Zenda at the same theater.

Next he was off again for the twenty-sixth season of the Maine musical festival, which closed with the opera of Carmen, in costume, at Bangor and Portland in October. He took the part of El Doncario, and Guarneri that of Escadrillo. Lucrezia Bori, Margaret Silvia and Helen Yorke were also in the cast. Mr. Lawrie also gave an excellent characterization of the part of El Doncario, the smuggler, in act four of the opera "El Forza del Destino," at Bangor.

Early in 1923 he filled a six weeks' engagement at the Capitol Theater, New York, again supplementing the regular program with beautiful solo work. He also sang for the inmates of the Soldiers' Home and the patients of the home for incurables at Richmond, Va. When he terminated his engagement at the Century Theater and roof garden in Baltimore, on January 2nd, he determined once more to devote himself to evangelistic work, as he had become convinced that the operation stage held out a future only to these who were willing to employ methods which he refused to use. Being of a high strung, emotional temperament, his experience with operatic managers was most unsatisfactory. During his entire life, at camp meetings and elsewhere, religious singing had appealed to him, and in this we trace the influence of his mother, who was a devout member of the Lutheran Evangelical Church. In February he was engaged for three weeks in most congenial labors with Rev. Charles L. Goodell, D.D., of New York, at St. Paul's Methodist Church, Houston, Texas. In April he was singing glorious gospel solos with this noted preacher at Athens, Ga. In March they were at the Abbott Memorial Presbyterian Church in Baltimore. Dr. Goodell said of him: "He is the finest recruit from the stage whom we have ever known about." Richmond, Lexington, Ky., and other cities were also visited. In addition to his singing in the churches, Mr. Lawrie also sang before Rotary, Kiwanis and Lion clubs all over the country, at their lunches, and he talked along evangelistic lines, too, winning their heartiest response. In July he returned to Beachwood to rest and recuperate, but even here his intense activity would not permit him to remain idle, as all who have heard him here and in Toms River can testify. In August, 1923, he sang at the services in the Beachwood nondenominational chapel, and at the same time filled the pulpit for the evening, giving his personal experiences. October he went to join Dr. Goodell in Waterbury, Conn., for ten days, and from there they went to Portland, Me., for a three weeks' evangelical campaign. While in the latter city Mr. Lawrie also sang before the Rossini

After enjoying a vacation from December 1st, and gathering new health and strength, he is preparing for a strenuous season beginning this fall. In the meantime he is doing summer work at Ocean Grove auditorium, Spring Lake, Asbury Park and other New Jersey resorts. He is tenor soloist at the first M. E. Church in Asbury Park, which has a chorus of sixty voices, one of the finest in the East. He has also consented to appear in two concerts in Beachwood for the benefit of the chapel of the sixty of the sixty of the chapel fund.

Wife, Mrs. Cornella G. Levett, children, Postsion Cornelia G. Levett; children, Beatrice A. and Warren A. Levett. Paternal grandparents came to America from England in 1820; father was of English and Dutch descent; mother born in Jamaica of English mother and Portuguese father; she came to the United States in 1846. The subject of this sketch was born in Hartford, Conn., in 1873. At the age of six months he left with his parents for Reading, Pa. Later removed to New York City, where he received his education in the College of the City of New York. He studied law in the office of Robert T. Lincoln and was admitted to the bar in Illinois in 1894. In that year returned to New York and was admitted to the bar here also; became associated with a patent law firm until he entered the government service with the Court of General Appraisers, which is the customs court. He was admitted to practice in the United States Supreme Court in 1900, and in the United States Court of Claims and Court of Customs Appeals. In 1906 he became Treasury assistant counsel to the Department in Customs cases and traveled to Hawaii to handle such cases and was admitted to the bar there. Later he engaged in private practice, and in 1912 made a tour of the world in the interest of clients, being accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Levett.

Is chairman of the Committee on Customs Matters of the New York Merchants' Association, makes a specialty of customs cases and is the author of a book, "Through the Customs Maze," which has stamped him as an authority on tariff laws and regulations. He has written works and music for a number of songs; also published short stories of fiction. At one time taught shorthand and typewriting in the New York Evening High School. During the war he was a member of the New York Ninth Coast Artillery; he was also a Four-minute man and outdoor speaker.

In Beachwood he was active in organizing the Property Owners' Association and was its first secretary. He also took an active part in organizing the Beachwood Borough Government, and helped to secure the passage of the bill at Trenton which provided for it. Is a member of the Rotary Club, Circumnavigators' Club, Adventurers' Club, University Club and the Masonic Fraternity. Charter member Polyhue Yacht Club.

Mrs. Levett is a member of the Property Owners' Association and has taken a prominent part in the affairs of the Beachwood Woman's Club. For a number of years she has been chairman of the winter card parties of the club in New York City, and has made the stay of the members pleasant on each occasion at the Sherman Square Hotel, where she and Mr. Levett and children spend the winters. Has also been very helpful in other activities of the woman's club, at the fair in the cake sales and the card parties and dances in Beachwood. Her mother, Mrs. A. B. Gulick, and her sister, Miss Carrie Gulick, a teacher in the New York public schools, enjoy an annual vacation in Beachwood.

NICKERSON, ADDISON D., Club House Road and south corner Spring St. and Beacon Ave., Block D-30. Also west corner of Lookout St. and Barnegat Boulevard, Block D-25. Born in Harwich, Mass.

Mr. Nickerson attended the public schools at Harwick and also a private school in West Newton. He next entered the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston, from which he was graduated in 1888, in engineering, with the degree of S. B. He followed the profession of civil engineering for twenty-five years until he came to Beachwood in 1914, at B. C. Mayo's request. He had met Mr. Mayo in California, where the project of the development of what was to be Beachwood was discussed. They met again in the East when Mr. Mayo renewed the subject and Mr. Nickerson agreed the subject and Mr. Nickerson agreed to undertake the work.

His first duty was to secure title to the big tract which was to be divided up into lots. Mr. Mayo had tried to obtain the property in 1912, but found the price too high, when the owners learned his plans. So the purchase was made in Mr. Nickerson's name and he was furnished a description of the tract and had to come alone and survey it without asking questions or exposing his plans. The property was known as the Carpenter tract and consisted of nearly 2,000 acres. Mr. Nickerson surveyed the boundary first, making a field map and from this the acreage was computed. The map was next cut up into flats and blocks and in the neighborhood of 30,000 lots were staked out, and 28,000 eventually sold, some being not as good as Mr. Mayo wished and these he would not sell. The maps of the various flats and blocks were made by Mr. Nickerson and as fast as he could finish them, submitted to the Berkeley township committee for approval. Then they were filed in the County clerk's office and only when this was actually done did Mr. Mayo allow the New York Tribune salesmen to sell the lots. They sold lots as fast as the maps could be made and filed. The tract consisted of nearly 2,000 acres and secured at $27 per acre. Mr. Nickerson, with a large force of men, cleared and gravelled some of the main streets and every other street running crosswise, and named all of them, using as far as possible nautical terms. When he ran out of these he took names of trees, etc. He also erected the various public buildings for Mr. Mayo, the club house, lodge, restaurant (afterwards Borough Hall and Auditorium), the yacht club, bathing pavilion and the railroad station. He managed them during 1915. Altogether he also erected seventy bungalows in Beachwood. Is now engaged in real estate, and is collector of taxes. Born in the parish of St. James, Island of Barbadoes, of English parents, his father being a planter. Educated in private schools there and in the Coleridge School, an academy. Heard much about the United States and at the age of seventeen came to this country, and became a drug clerk in Philadelphia. He had studied the British Pharmacopæa before leaving home and now applied himself also to the study of the American Pharmacopæa. In 1892 he was registered as a pharmacist in New York City, where he remained several years and became chief apothecary of the Presbyterian Hospital before he had attained his majority, being technically put on "probation" a year on this account. About 1903 he entered Bellevue Hospital Medical College, graduating in 1897. Engaged in general practice for several years and then entered the New York Post Graduate Medical School and Hospital in New York, and studied diseases of the nose and throat. For a time he was assistant to the chief of clinic in rhinology and laryngology at this institution, and he also served as assistant in the genito-urinary clinic at the Presbyterian Hospital Dispensary. His practice having reached a point requiring all his time, he gave up hospital and dispensary work. For the past eighteen years or more Dr. Robinson has devoted his studies to the nature of the cell, and from these re-searches he wrote his epoch-making hypothesis on the cause of cancer and his reasons for the use of potassium nitrate in its treatment. His contributions to medical publications include: Use of Paraffin in Surgery, New York State Journal of Surgery, May, 1902; Artificial Cell Proliferation with Horse Serum in the Treatment of Burns, Annals of Surgery, March, 1917; A Plea for Potassium Nitrate in Cancer, Medical Record, May 4, 1918; Does Analogy Exist Between Animal and Vegetable Tumor? Medical Times, August, 1918; Does the Cure of Cancer Depend Upon Oxidization of the Tissues? Medical Record, July 5, 1919; The Influence of Potassium Nitrate in Nephritis, Medical Council, May, 1919; Is the Endamoeba Buccalis the Real Cause of Pyorrhea? Dental Cosmos, October 1919; Electrochems Cosmos, October, 1919: Electrochemism in the Etiology and Therapeusis of Cancer, Medical Record, July 24, 1920. Other important contributions since. Dr. Robinson was married to Miss Annie Reinacher in New York, 26 years ago. They have one son, Beverly Kerr Robinson, who served in the infantry overseas during the war, as a runner, carrying messages in the thickest of battles, without being harmed. Dr. Robinson is a member of the College of Pharmacy of New York. Is a charter member of Polyhue Yacht Club, at present serving his second term as Commodore. Also a member of the Property Owners' Assn. His son is also a charter member of the Polyhue Yacht Club.

ROSS, PATRICK HONE WARRIN-ER, corner Barnegat Boulevard and Harpoon St., Block D-17. Other address, 134 Second Ave., Newark, N. J. Born in Bombay, India. Business, trade consultant to the City of Newark, N. J.; office, 515 Chamber of Commerce Bldg., Newark, N. J. Wife, Florence Louise Kellett Ross, who owns a bungalow on the south side of Barnegat Boulevard, near Harpoon St., Block D-17. Mr. Ross was the founder, and for twelve years president of the National Marine League of the United States, and editor of its monthly publication. It was an enterprise which had the support of leading business men of this country and did much to impress upon the people the importance of an American merchant marine, and that our shipping is a necessity and an asset not only to cities on the seacoast, but to the farming and other communities of the inland states.

Is vice-president of the Writers' Club of New York, member of the Auth-Northern Lodge, No. 25, F. and A. M., Newark, N. J. He writes in response to our request for information: "Mine was the fifth or seventh house built at Beachwood. Our marriage was the that is, among the householders or regular Beachwoodites. We may, therefore, claim to be among the pioneers of this charming community and locality."

ROST, O. FREDERICK, south side Forepeak Ave., near Spring St., Block D-24. Other address, 125 Ridgewood Ave., Glen Ridge, N. J. Of European birth; citizen of the United States. Wife, Mrs. Emma Mills Rost; was a widow when she married Mr. Rost and had two daughters, Dolores and Lor-

Mr. Rost is one of the leaders in the Mr. Rost is one of the leaders in the electrical supply industry, being president of the Newark Electrical Supply Co., 223 Market St., Newark, N. J.; president of the Hudson Electrical Supply and Equipment Co., Jersey City, N. J., and president of the Trenton Electrical Supply Co., Trenton, N. J. Like many others, a self made J. Like many others, a self-made man, he began as an errand boy in a wholesale house, earning four dollars a week, out of which he paid his room rent, sixty cents car fare a week and other expenses. He supplemented his education by night study and courses in engineering, business law, and elocution. During the war, was chairman of the electrical section of the Newark Liberty Loan Committee. Was the first in the electrical industry for creating retail stores, selling only electrical home appliances. Is chairman and head of the National Asso-ciation of Electrical Supply Johbers (they have no president), and author of their Code of Ethics; chairman of the committee on dealer education, chairman publicity committee, author of numerous articles on finance, distribution and merchandising, and of addresses on similar subjects which he delivered before national and State organizations. Is a member of the Masonic fraternity and of the A. A. O. Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Mr. Rost is also an artist of merit, self-taught, and enjoying painting as a relaxation from business. His remarkable painting of the Beachwood pines has been greatly admired for its faithful presentation of Beachwood scenery and atmosphere. Among his other compositions, done in moments of leisure, is a night scene of the "Four Corners" at Broad and Market Streets, Newark, which was reproduced in colors on his business calendar in 1920. It shows the skyscrapers at the corner, and a block or so down the street can be seen the sign of his own business place. The four corners are said to be one of the busiest spots in the world, vying with Forty-second Street and Broadway, New York. Mr. Rost has always taken an active interest in Beachwood and has been one of the hardest and most devoted workers in the interest of this beautiful place in the pines. For six consecutive terms he has been elected president of the Property Owners' Association and during his long and successful administration many things have been proposed and energetically carried through by him and his fellow members of the board of trustees, of which he is also the head. Among these are the fair which resulted in the purchase of Beachwood's first fire apparatus and led to the foundation of its volunteer fire company. Rost has been guite as active also in the foundation and incorporation of the Beachwood Religious Association Religious Association (non-denominational) of whose board of trustees he is the chairman. To his hard work and persistent efforts is principally due the erection of the commodious and really handsome chapel in which religious services are held every Sunday evening during the summer season. He is also a charter member of the Polyhue Yacht Club, and member of the Rod and Gun Club.

Member Peoples' Presbyterian Church, Bridgeport, Conn.
- TALMAGE, WILLIAM H., north side Barnegat Boulevard, between Spring and Lookout Streets, Block D-29. Other address, 79 Linden St., Maplewood, N. I.

Mr. Talmage was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and received his education in the public schools and Cumberland Academy. Having shown some talent for drawing, he was placed under the tuition of a German professor for two or three years and won a prize at the Brooklyn Academy of Design for one of his pictures, an animal head. He tried again with a drawing of a wolf, but not finding himself able to draw a satisfactory tree, in his estimation, he turned it over to a classmate, William Huffington, who afterwards became a noted art critic and who finished the picture, which also won a prize at the Academy of Design. Mr. Talmage next turned to law and studied it for two years when he took advantage of an opportunity to enter business with N. H. Woodman & Co. He remained twenty-three years with this firm and then accepted a position with the A. B. See Electric Elevator Company, in time becoming treasurer of the company and confidential manager of all of Mr. See's personal affairs. He has been with Mr. See's concern for thirty years and for twenty years everything of a financial nature has been entrusted to him. In 1880, in Brooklyn, he was married to Ida L. Blake. They have three children, Arthur Blake Talmage, Ella Villette Talmage and Jessie Elliott Talmage. Arthur was married in 1921 to Myrtle Smith; they spent Christmas of that year in Beachwood and now reside at Port Arthur, Texas. W. H. Talmage was a member of the first borough council of Beachwood and, as chairman, was acting mayor in the absence of Mayor Senior. Finding it impossible, like Mr. Senior, to be in Beachwood all the time, George D. Suydam, an all-year resident at that suydani, an an-year resident at that time, was made acting mayor in the absence of Mr. Senior. Mr. Talmage was also the first treasurer of the Property Owners' Association and treasurer of the old yacht club before the Polyhue Yacht Club was organized. He became one of the charter members of the latter. Is a member of the Royal Arcanum; also of the Machinery Club of New York City, and of the Jersey City chamber of com-merce. Mrs. Talmage was for two terms president of the Woman's Club and is also a member of the Property Owners' Association.

TICE (JAMES) HOWARD, south corner Mermaid Ave. and Atlantic City

Boulevard, Block B-42. Year-round resident of Beachwood. Born in Toms River; business, riding academy at Seaside Park, N. J., and Brooklyn, N. Y. Wife, Catherine W. Tice.

Mr. Tice was the first to serve the people of Beachwood with ice, and in doing so he had many difficulties to over-come. While Toms River supplied gas, electricity and merchandise of all kinds willingly for cash, the ice dealer, who had a monopoly, refused to include Beachwood in his territory, even when the wants of little children called for his services. He claimed the streets were not sufficiently improved and, besides, he had all he could do. And Mr. Tice helped solve the situation despite the fact that high blood pressure made it dangerous for him to handle such a heavy commodity. This tribute is only his just due. He afterward sold out to Philip S. Allen, who is courteous and untiring in supplying the needs of Beachwood. We are also glad to note that C. W. Wills, old-time ice dealer of Toms River, recently sold out to a modern and obliging successor. Mr. Tice is a member of the Patriotic Order of Americans.

1865 IN MEMORIAM 1920

We, the people of Beachwood, coming together as one large family, in Borough Hall, on this evening of Sunday, August 8, 1920, desire to do honor to the memory of Bertram C. Mayo; to place on record our admiration, appreciation and respect for the man whose love for humanity, far-seeing vision, and tireless energy made Beachwood possible. We wish to tender to his wife and other surviving relatives our sympathy and condolence upon his all too early going hence from this world which he strove to make more beautiful and which needed him so much.

We rejoice in his labors in bringing into existence and building up pleasant, healthful attractive communities which shine like gems of purest ray serene, from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean, and which will always constitute his best and truest monument. Born in Boston, at the close of the Civil War, of the earliest Pilgrim stock; achieving success and comparative affluence through his own honorable efforts, it was (as pointed out this evening by some of those who were in his confidence) his ambition to do good to others and especially to enable as many city dwellers as possible to enjoy the pleasures and benefits of country life, because he became convinced how desirable this is, and how difficult for many persons of moderate means to achieve such a laudable aim for themselves and their families. He. therefore, applied himself, with the assistance of great daily newspapers in various parts of the country, to open up desirable tracts of land, at a very low cost, to inspire the building of bungalows, and to make the wilderness bloom and resound to the sweet and merry laughter of children.

In this noble work he was a benefactor to the human race, and thousands in Beachwood and other similar summer resorts, already rise up and called him blessed. Bearing uncomplainingly, for years, bodily infirmities which would have utterly discouraged others, he worked for our welfare unceasingly. He has gone to his reward in his Father's House of Many Mansions, and to us his memory will always remain precious.

Beachwood in the Pines

CITUATED in the famous pine belt of New Jersey, half way between Atlantic City and New York, and on the southern shore of an arm of Barnegat Bay, where the Toms River empties into it, Beachwood is one of the most beautiful and rapidly growing of the younger South Jersey resorts. Over 6,000 taxpayers, owning 28,000 lots, are directly interested in the progress of Beachwood. Most of them purchased their lots as a speculative proposition when Bertram C. Mayo and The New York Tribune opened up the tract of virgin pine forest in 1914, but today nearly 300 have already built pretty bungalows and substantial residences, and it is freely predicted that eventually Beachwood in the Pines will prove an all-year-round resort. The idea is to make it a family resort and, therefore, no large hotels have been encouraged or built, but good hotel accommodations will be found at Toms River, only a mile distant, and at Pine Beach, not far from the Beachwood borough line. For visitors directly interested in Beachwood there is a lodge and restaurant. Seventy families reside here the year round, and this number is steadily increasing. The summer population is not far from 1,500 and also steadily growing.

The affairs of the new settlement were at first largely looked after by the Beachwood Property Owners' Association, headed for two terms by William Mill Butler, who was succeeded by O. Frederick Rost. Mr. Rost was last year re-elected for the sixth term. On March 22, 1917, Beachwood was incorporated as a borough, and its first officers were elected as follows: Mayor, Joseph H. Senior; assessor, J. G. Browning; collector, Frank E. McCraigh; justice of the peace, John Cannan; councilmen, William H. Talmage, Charles H. Haring, O. Frederick Rost, M. L. Stimson and Albert H. Williams. At the next general election the same officers were re-elected. On September 10, 1918, the borough declared for a commission form of government, the commissioners elected being Joseph H. Senior, Charles H. Haring and Frank O. Price. Mr. Senior was designated as Mayor. At the next election, May 9, 1922, Edwin D. Collins, George F. Middleton and John J. Nolze were elected borough commissioners, and Mr. Collins was chosen Mayor.

Beachwood has from its beginning enjoyed the advantage of a community spirit which has been helpful in advancing its interests. In this respect the Property Owners' Association has taken the lead, ably assisted by the Woman's Club, a splendid organization which expects soon to have its own club house. The Polyhue Yacht Club, of Beachwood, enjoys the distinction of having introduced a new feature in yachting—the use of various colored sails for its boats, the colors thus far used being red, green, lavender, pink, orange, dark blue and yellow. Races are held every week during the season, and the club is also a member of the Barnegat Bay Yacht Racing Association, competing in the various races of the latter organization. The yacht club house is the center of social activities during the season, among these being the regular Saturday evening dances, to which admission is confined to the members and their invited friends. At this writing a new and handsome club house is under construction. Nor must we overlook the Beachwood Rod and Gun Club, which is quite active in its way.

In the matter of fire protection Beachwood has kept step with the needs of the times. The first agitation was started several years ago by Mrs. Wanda E. Lohr and resulted in the co-operation of the various organizations and the borough officials, and the holding of a grand fair under the auspices of the Property Owners' Association in 1921, by which sufficient funds were raised for the purchase of a chemical fire engine which was presented to the borough. The borough itself responded to this by building a new fire house and borough hall combined, which was dedicated on July 4th, 1923, the improvement costing $6,500. Here the Beachwood Volunteer Fire Company No. 1 has its headquarters and also the Firemen's Relief Association.

Another splendid illustration of the community spirit may be cited in the erection of a new non-secretarian chapel on the corner of Spring and Compass streets, facing a triangle donated by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Baker, which was dedicated in 1923 and cost in the neighborhood of $8,000. Of this sum, $2,000 was subscribed at one meeting of the Beachwood Religious Association the year previous, when it started the campaign. While there is unity in Beachwood in the matter of religion, the borough is restricted so far as its inhabitants are concerned, all deeds providing that only persons of the Caucasian race may own or lease property here. The bathing beach, the club house and promenade, the lodge and the auditorium, in which many of the social activities and meetings take place, are controlled entirely by the borough commission. The borough also owns the railroad station with seven lots surrounding it, both of the railroads running through Beachwood having refused to put up buildings of their own, a lack of co-operation which never daunted Mr. Mayo, the founder, who put up his own building, afterward acquired by the borough. Mr. Mayo, in April, 1918, gave the borough a deed for the reservation or river front upon which the public buildings are located and at the same time sold to the borough 209 lots located on both sides of Bayside Avenue, from the club house to Harpoon Street, and this has been named Mayo Park in his honor, Mr. Mayo having passed away in 1920.

The bathing beach is a great attraction and affords splendid inland bathing which is enjoyed by great crowds every season. The distance to the ocean across Barnegat Bay (by bridge) is but five miles so that fine surf bathing may also be enjoyed. Barnegat Bay is celebrated in history and story and is one of the great fishing and hunting grounds of this country, its shores being visited by thousands each vear.

The pines are Beachwood's chief adornment and glory, lending healthful perfume to the ocean breezes, and helping to make the climate ideal, a fact attested by many invalids who have been restored to health here. Several years ago a committee of three, consisting of William Mill Butler, chairman; Addison D. Nickerson, and Rev. Martin Luther Stimson, was appointed by the Property Owners' Association to look after the welfare of the pines; to study their diseases and remedies; to investigate how they may be increased and preserved, so that our borough may achieve enduring fame as Beachwood among the Pines. In 1924 the commissioners appointed a shade tree commission consisting of William Mill Butler, A. D. Nickerson and Winfield Scott Nobis, which will also co-operate toward this end. Other resorts have advertised their location in the pines, but neglected the trees upon which their claim was founded. Beachwood, with the cooperation of her public spirited residents, proposes to set a new example. It extends the warm hand of friendship to all who love an enterprising, wide-awake, orderly borough, whose assessed valuation has risen from $20,000, in 1915, to $834,145 in 1923, and whose tax rate is among the lowest in Ocean County. Home builders are especially welcome, as we have plenty of room in which to erect new bungalows and other houses and in which to expand in all desirable directions as a community.

Protection and Increase of the Pines

The Beachwood Property Owners' Association, at its annual meeting on August 9, 1919, voted unanimously in favor of the protection and increase of the pines, which are the chief asset of this beautiful family resort, the resolutions adopted being as follows:

Whereas, the pines are the chief adornment and glory of our landscape, bringing sweet perfume to the delightful, balmy air and helping to make the climate of Beachwood ideal; and

Whereas, without the pines Beachwood would sink to the level of commonplace and lose its greatest charm as a health-giving family resort, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the Beachwood Property Owners' Association urges its members to do everything possible for the preservation, protection and increase

Resolved, that we recommend to the Mayor and Commissioners of our Borough the enactment of rules and regulations forbidding unnecessary destruction of pine trees on borough property.

Resolved, that a committee of three be appointed by the President of this association to look after the welfare of the pines, to study their diseases and remedies, and to investigate how such trees may be increased, planted and transplanted, in order that our borough may in years to come be more than ever embowered among them and achieve enduring fame as Beachwood among the Pines.

The Committee, consisting of William Mill Butler, Rev. Martin L. Stimson and Addison D. Nickerson, immediately began to investigate the subject, obtaining expert advice for this purpose and called a public meeting which was largely attended at the clubhouse, August 23. An address was delivered by James E. Stillaway, a well known horticulturist and landscape engineer. This was followed by a general experience meeting and interchange of views. Many instances were related by physicians and others showing the wonderful influence of the pines in cases of illness: Insomnia, bronchitis, catarrh, infantile paralysis, hay fever, fever as an after effect of influenza and other ailments were shown to have been relieved or entirely cured. From the valuable and practical address of Mr. Stillaway we take the following points which, followed by all lovers of the pines, will combat their diseases and the insects which are the cause. This information will also aid us in increasing the pines by transplanting.

Some say the Jersey pines are not the most beautiful, but proper care will improve any tree. Besides this, we can introduce and plant other varieties of pines. In fact, the committee on the protection and increase of pines has in view an arboretum in which various kinds of pines suited to Beachwood will be planted as an object lesson.

Do not allow sellers of nursery stock or others with designs upon your pocketbook to persuade you that the pines draw the heat and are of no value. Why are places among the pines celebrated as health resorts? Is a health producing tree not of the greatest possible value?

Is health not the greatest blessing?

PINE PROTECTION

(From the address of James E. Stillaway)

Ladies and Gentlemen:-

I have been asked by the committee for the preservation and increase by transplanting of the pine trees in this resort, to address this meeting of the Property Owners, to urge their co-operation in this praiseworthy object, to retain and, if possible, to increase the attractiveness of Beachwood in the Pines.

The pines form one of the chief features of the landscape in this section of country, and are able to thrive upon soils where very few other trees could exist. But like nearly all other members of the vegetable kingdom, it has its enemies, chief of which is the borer or larva of a small black beetle, which deposits its eggs upon the lower part of the trunk of the tree near the ground and up to a height of 5 or 6 feet in the loose bark. When first hatched it seeks the soft inner bark. As its jaws gain in strength it finally enters the trunk of the tree, and the effect is soon apparent as the tree is soon killed. Their presence can easily be detected by a quantity of turpentine mixed with borings issuing from the tree trunk. Clearing the opening and inserting a piece of copper wire will generally prove effective and end his career, as copper wire, being pliable, will follow the ramification of his gallery or runway.

A good plan against infection is to scrape all loose bark from the lower part of the tree trunk. Borers are generally more prevalent where a quantity of pine brush and logs have been left to decay, which forms an ideal breeding place; therefore all pine brush and logs should be destroyed, which will go a long way towards eradicating the pest; all dead limbs should be removed and burned.

Another enemy of pines is the fungus, especially the white, thread-like spores of the purple stemmed boletus, which often penetrates and disrupts the bark of the roots, forming a white network upon the roots. Many years ago I had an experience with this disease when as many as 6 to 8 trees would be attacked in a limited area. I resorted to opening trenches to stop the spawn from running and treating the infected sections with powdered sulphur.

The pinus strobus or white pine is subject to attack of the pith borer which attacks the young growth. When hatched this insect follows the pith in the young growth. The eggs are deposited in August, but the damage is not apparent till the following spring when the preceding year's growth dies. In this case it is the young trees which are attacked.

But to return to the case immediately before us; it is only by eternal vigilance that the ravages of the borer pest can be eradicated and if every one will co-operate, they will have the satisfaction of knowing that they have helped to retain the chief feature of this resort.

This is not all. How few realize the health-giving properties given off by pines, especially when in blossom, when the pollen is prevalent in the air and is inhaled with great benefit, especially by those suffering with pulmonary diseases. I know of two cases of bronchitis which were greatly benefited by residence here.

Few people stop to consider when chopping down a tree how long it will take to replace it. The rapid rate at which our forests are being depleted is causing the high cost of lumber today, and it may be of interest to many to know that the average increase of one acre of mixed timber trees is 14 ft. of sawed lumber per year.

But to return to our subject, I would state that April and part of May and August and September are the best times of the year to plant pines and other cone-bearing trees successfully. In the first period named growth is just commencing and at the second it is just completed. If moved at other times of the year there will be many cases for the undertaker. I am speaking from 45 years' experience in this line of business. To many people a pine tree is just a pine tree and nothing more. There are 30 varieties in this country today, some of which are pinus strobus, or the white pine; pinus cirops, the Jersey pine.

In concluding, I would urge the property owners of this borough to co-operate with the committee to preserve the existing pine trees and by planting to fill in all vacant spaces, and so retain the natural beauty of this resort. By so doing they will have the satisfaction of knowing that they have helped not only to preserve the physical aspect of this place, but will be conferring a lasting benefit to posterity.

If anyone should wish to consult me upon any point in connection with this subject, I shall be most happy to confer with them and to render any advice they may need.

JAMES E. STILLAWAY, Arboriculturist and Landscape Engineer.

PINE PLEDGE

(Unanimously adopted at a mass meeting of the residents of Beach-wood, August 23rd, 1919.)

I believe in a still more beautiful Beachwood among the pines. I believe that one of the best means to enhance her fame as a healthful family resort is to preserve, protect and increase the trees which are her chief glory and adornment, which lend sweet perfume to her atmosphere and help to make her climate truly beneficial.

I pledge myself to do all I can to advance the interests of Beachwood, to prevent the unnecessary destruction of the pines and to foster their growth and welfare.

Beachwood Shade Tree Commission (Extract from Ordinance finally adopted September 29, 1923)

An Ordinance creating and establishing a shade tree commission in and for the Borough of Beachwood, in the County of Ocean, and prescribing the powers and duties of said commission. The Board of Commissioners of the Borough of Beachwood, in the county of Ocean, do ordain:

Section 1. That a commission be hereby created and established consisting of three residents of the said Borough of Beachwood, and to be known as the "Shade Tree Commission of the Borough of Beachwood, in the County of Ocean," pursuant to the provisions of an act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey, entitled "An Act providing for the regulating, planting, care and control of shade trees and shrubbery upon the public highway and in municipal parks, and for the care, control and improvement of such parks; authorizing the continuance of existing shade tree commissions and the appointment of shade tree commissions, and prescribing their powers and duties (Revision of 1015)" approved April 14, 1915, and the acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto.

Section 2. That the said commission shall have and exercise full, sole and exclusive control over the regulation, planting and care of shade and ornamental trees and shrubbery now situate, or which may hereafter be planted in any public highway, park or parkway of said Borough, except county parks or parkways. including the planting, trimming, spraying, care and protection of the same for the public good; to regulate and control the use of the ground surrounding for their proper growth, care and protection; to move, or require the removal of any tree, or part thereof dangerous to public safety, at the expense of the owner of such tree; and to remove any tree or part of a tree at the request and expense of the owner of such tree; to care for and control such parks and parkways; to encourage arboriculture; to make, alter, amend and repeal in the manner prescribed for the passage, alteration, amendment and repeal of ordinances by the Board of Commissioners of the said Borough any and all ordinances necessary or proper for carrying out the provisions of the said Act; and to contract with the owner of any real estate in said Borough to supply the owner material and labor for the purpose of planting, cultivating or removing trees, grass, flowers, or shrubbery, and to charge the actual cost thereof to such owner; or if, after such material or labor is supplied, payment thereafter is not made on demand to certify the actual cost thereof to the Collector of Taxes, whereupon the sum so certified shall be collected by said Collector as other taxes on real property are collected in said Borough and all such other and further powers as are now vested or which may hereafter be vested in such a Commission under and by virtue of the Laws of this State.

Section 3. That this ordinance shall become effective immediately upon its passage and publication according to law.

NOTICE TO LOVERS OF THE PINES

The Shade Tree Commission, cooperating with the Committee on the Preservation of the Pines, will prepare a large number of pine trees of fairly good size this fall, for transplanting in the spring. Your orders for the placing of such trees on your premises will be received up to October 1st, and the work will be completed for you next spring at actual cost. Draw a plan of your lots and indicate where you would like the trees placed. Authorize us to remove old and diseased trees. Also to remove scrub oaks and make the pines as nearly 100 per cent as possible.

WILLIAM MILL BUTLER, Chairman.
ADDISON D. NICKERSON,
WALTER SCOTT NOBIS,
Shade Tree Commission.

A Chronological History of Beachwood

Pictures, in Brief Paragraphs, of the Rise and Progress of the Beautiful Resort in the Pines on Barnegat Bay, and the Social, Economic and Political Life of its Summer Population of 1,500 or More People

In November, The New York Tribune, cooperating with Bertram C. Mayo, the founder of Beachwood, issued an "Extra" containing many illustrations and the following announcement, in large letters, on its first page: "Subscribe for The New York Tribune and secure a lot at Beautiful Beachwood. Greatest subscription premium ever offered by a newspaper—nothing equal to it was ever attempted in the United States. Act at oncesecure your lot in this Summer Paradise now." On another page came this assurance: "The Tribune does not do things halfway. A fortune has been put behind this offer. Already plans are being made to start a building company." price of lots was placed at $19.60 apiece, each lot carrying with it a six months' subscription to the pap-The first official map of the Beachwood tract, comprising 1763 acres, 18 lots to the acre, was filed November 11th. In The Tribune of December 30th it was announced that "work on the new summer resort which The Tribune is developing is progressing by leaps and bounds. About seventy men are now at work laying out streets." The surveying was done under the direction of A. D. Nickerson.

In February B. C. Mayo, head of The Tribune's promotion department, and who was the moving spirit of the enterprise for which he had secured The Tri- bune's cooperation, published an illustrated 38-page pamphlet setting forth the natural attractions of Beachwood, "which," he said, "lies in the center of the coast resort region of New Jersey, just far enough from New York to escape the Sunday excursionists. houses of Toms River are built almost to the property line on one side, and on the other side of Beachwood is the popular resort of Pine Beach with its well-known hotel. The State highway, known as the Atlantic City Boulevard, running from New York to Atlantic City, passes right through Beachwood." It also announced the erection of a club house, bathing pavilion, dining room and a hotel, which was afterwards christened the lodge. The pamphlet contained warm letters of commendation for Beachwood from a number of well-known people, among them William H. Fischer, editor New Jersey Courier, Henry A. Low, president, First National Bank, and George W. Holman, Jr., all of Toms River, showing how from the very beginning Beachwood had the friendship of its neighbors. On April 23rd The New York Tribune contained an article stating that the formal opening of Beachwood's first season would take place on Memorial Day. the club house, Yacht Club house, the pier, the bath house, the lodge. with its 37 rooms; the dining room (which later became Borough Hall and is now the auditorium), and the new railroad station, all being ready for the event. A water system had been provided to supply running water for the lodge and dining room, and gas, for illuminating and cooking purposes, was piped from Toms River. Regular stops were already being made by the New Jersey Central trains at Beachwood. The Memorial Day opening proved a great event, and on November 12th The New Jersey Courier pronounced the first summer at Beachwood "an enjoyable and successful one." The names of 93 "cottage owners" were published.

In April a jealous newspaper rival in New York, made a laughable and vain attempt to discredit The Tribune's Beachwood development. Beachwood answered by growing more vigorously than before.

The New Jersey Courier of July 14th said: "Quite a number of boats are anchored off the yacht club house and dock, and the club house is becoming a center of attraction. Dances are held there each Saturday evening." Two store buildings, each two stories in height, were being erected on Beachwood Boulevard, near the railway station. The still water bathing proved very popular. The Beachwood café was kept busy.

About the same time the Pennsylvania Railroad build a platform in Beachwood and began stopping trains here, so that New York travelers could come and go by two railway routes.

Indian Joe, who, a little over a year ago was Beachwood's sole resident, returned for the season and set up his wigwam in its old location just below the little bridge on the way to Toms River. A number of gypsies were encamped near the same spot.

From Beachwood news published July 21st: The first store to open in Beachwood was that of Frank E. McCraigh. A young people's social club, known as the Beachwood Juniors was organized July 18th, with Beverly K. Robinson as president; George D. Pioselli, vice-president;

Central R.R. Station, built by B. C. Mayo and owned by the Borough

Miss Margery Ramson, secretary, and Fred Yucher, treasurer. Electric light service was installed in many homes; also several telephones. Prof. Frank O. Price, instructor in the Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, built his own bungalow, with the assistance of several of his students. The ladies of Beachwood organized a card party club. Beachwood added half a million dollars of assessed valuation (ratables) to Berkeley township and Ocean county.

In a communication to the residents of Beachwood, dated July 20th, B. C. Mayo, on behalf of himself and The Tribune, said: "We believe that it has been wisely suggested that the active management of all that pertains to the upbuilding of Beachwood be placed in the hands of those who have evidenced their faith in our beautiful resort by building cottages at Beachwood," and he suggested that they meet and appoint committees to handle the following matters: Railroad crossings and taxes, bathing and sports, lighting and telephones, mail and express, police and fire protection, transportation, street improvements, social life and entertainment, health and sanitation. These suggestions were well received and resulted in concerted and organized effort, so that on Saturday, July 29th, the Beachwood Property Owners' Association was organized with seventy-five members to begin with, and the following officers: President, William Mill Butler; First vice-president, Rev. Martin Luther Stimson; Second vice-president, James Beggs; Secretary, B. A. Levett: Treasurer, William H. Talmage. The foregoing, together with the following, constituted the board of trustees: Dr. E. P. Robinson, George C. Usher, Ex-Judge James A. Butler, Edward J. Knoke, O. Frederick Rost, P. H. W. Ross, Charles H. Haring, Joseph H. Senior, Marion W. Brashears and Mary B. Cleveland. A committee reported that B. C. Mayo, in an interview, stated that it was the intention of The New York Tribune eventually to turn over to the association the control of the club house, yacht club, and other buildings which had been erected for the use of the community.

The Ladies' card club gave its first card party at the Yacht Club on July 27th and on the 31st the Beachwood Juniors held a very successful paper dress dance. In fact, parties, sails, dances, tennis, bathing and picnics were the order of the week.

An enthusiast wrote in The New Jersey Courier of September 1st: "As the fall months slowly draw near, Beachwood is becoming more and more like fairyland. The beautiful woods are putting on their gay and brilliant colors of gold, red and deep brown; the pure water is almost of a sapphire hue, while the evening skies are tinted gloriously in pinks, blues and delicate shades of orange and gold. There are times when Beachwood resembles a true Italian scene—all she lacks are the gigantic Alps as a background. The sky, the water dotted with graceful sail-boats, and gaily colored canoes; the fragrant woods and the red-roofed cottages lost in the dim-shaded forests, with the constant sound of many happy voices and of songs ever ringing over the waters, truly reminds the traveler of a northern Italian landscape, perhaps Lake Como."

Sunday morning Paul S. Harmon and Miss Harmon gave a concert in the club house, assisted by Miss Haines, E. J. Knoke and Miss Bertha D. Knoke. The previous Friday evening, during a visit here, Justin Lawrie, a noted concert and choir singer, had delighted a Beachwood audience with some fine solos, being accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Lawrie.

Labor Day marked the season's close, so far as the transient residents were concerned, the opening of the schools in the cities calling the youngsters from their vacation. Great preparations had been made to make the holiday a success. Charles H. Haring was chairman of the committee on bathing and sports, and had associated with him other willing workers, including a committee from the Beachwood Juniors to look after the arrangements for the games. The celebration proved a great success, including a masquerade dance in the club house on Saturday evening; a sacred concert on Sunday evening, and games and sports on Monday. In the masquerade first prize was awarded to Miss Senior as the Green Harem Girl. A prize was also awarded to Master Nicholas Scoble as the Peddler. The following took part in the concert: Paul S. Harmon, violin; Edward J. Knoke, 'cello; Miss Emily Williams. reading: Miss Estelle Hines. Miss Bertha Knoke, Miss Frances Pouch, sopranos; Miss Silvers, contralto; Irwin Mutch, baritone; J. Henry Nienstedt, bass. The winners in the athletic games and sports were: Obstacle race, first, Ellston Meyers; second, Robert Nickerson, Swimming race, Master Holman. Tug-of-War, Messrs. Swanson, Carmody, Arthur Butler and James Butler. Canoe tilting, Arthur and James Butler. Ladies' canoe race. Misses Talmage and Erickson. Canoe dress, first, Beverly Robinson; second, George D. Pioselli. Peanut race, first, Miss Beatrice Levett. second, Miss Frances Moore. Potato race, Miss Erickson. Sack race, first, Munn Craig; second, Albert Williams, Three-legged race, Sheldon and Vought. Diving contest, first, Albert Williams; second. Master Schwartz. Junior swimming race, first, Master Schwartz; second, Master Mills. Pie-eating contest, first, Norman Rowe; second, Elliott Knoke. In tennis the greatest doubles match played on the Beachwood courts was won by Dr. Frank Miller (our first osteopath) and Arthur Butler over Mr. Ash of New York and Mr. Bowman of Jersey City, by a score of 9-7, after a see-saw, to and fro, of about two hours.

B. C. Mayo, founder of Beachwood, and his family, spent considerable time here during the season, and having acquired a large tract of land at Brown's Mills, he engaged A. D. Nickerson to survey and lay it out.

The Beachwood Woman's Club was organized on September 20th, with the following officers: President, Mrs. Marion W. Brashears; first vice-president, Miss R. B. Holmes; second vice-president, Mrs. Henrietta K. Hoard; third vice-president, Mrs. Mary L. Nickerson; secretary, Mrs. Ida Talmage; treasurer, Mrs. Anna Robinson. Chairman of committees: On entertainments, Mrs. Lily W. Senior; on cards, Mrs. Ida Craig; on music, Mrs. Lucretia Knoke; on dancing, Mrs. Mary L. Nickerson.

In November it was reported that the Central Railroad of New Jersey had laid out ground for a freight house, a freight siding and a 1,500-foot excursion passenger siding, but nothing came of it. A D. Nickerson was reported seriously ill with fever at Brown's Mills.

Beachwood being in Berkeley township, Ernest L. Worth, tax collector, Bayville, N. J., found his work greatly increased by 6,000 new lot owners.

Frank J. Turner and M. R. De-Miege were re-appointed fire wardens for the year.

The picturesque Japanese pagoda house erected on Capstan Avenue by Mrs. Wanda E. Lohr was completed in January.

In October agitation was begun for a much needed Beachwood post office, mail matter having been up to this time kindly handled for the residents at the club house.

A two-story building designed for store purposes completed by Mrs. Samuel N. Green, on Beachwood Boulevard, near the station.

It was reported that M. Maximillian R. DeMiege, who spent the summer in Beachwood, was an agent of the French Government and had signed a $35,000,000 contract for munitions and supplies.

The two leading building firms erecting bungalows in Beachwood were the Rohdenburg Co., Inc., George D. Suydam, manager; the Nickerson-Glenn Company, and Clarence Polhemus. J. G. Browning did a large business in the sale of lots, and also represented the Mayo interests.

The Clubhouse, erected by Mr. Mayo, for the Property Owners

Agitation for a borough was begun by the Property Owners' Association, the reason given being that taxes paid here should be applied for improvements in Beachwood. A committee consisting of J. H. Senior, O. Frederick Rost, Charles H. Haring, B. A. Levett and Judge J. A. Butler met in Beachwood, early in February, to make arrangements for the introduction of a bill in the legislature for the new borough which would embrace all of the Beachwood tract of nearly 2,000 acres.

Skating during February was the best in twenty years, on the ice in Windy Cove, to the east of the club house, and enjoyed by throngs from Beachwood, Toms River, Island Heights and other nearby places. Sheltered from the cold west winds, and perfumed with the odor of the pines, the cove made an ideal skating rink. During the evenings bonfires supplied light and heat and were also utilized by the skaters to roast marshmallows.

The idea of a community store, to keep down the high cost of living caused by the World War, was broached and discussed, with a view to getting the members of the Property Owners' Association to subscribe to stock in the project. Nothing came of it.

Despite the winter weather, many summer residents ran down for a few days and every day familiar faces were seen, heeding the call of the pines and wishing it were summer.

On March 5th it was announced that "the Beachwood borough bill, introduced in the New Jersey legislature last Tuesday, by Senator Conrad, was passed by the Senate without a dissenting vote." The bill was subsequently passed by the House and signed by the Governor.

A. D. Nickerson was reported as having recovered from his long illness at Brown's Mills.

Dr. E. P. Robinson, of Beachwood boulevard, showed his public spirit by planting, by setting out twenty-five young maples along that street.

Windy Cove (on right), looking from Mayo Park, east of Clubhouse

April 16th. The invitation was addressed to the mayor or chief executive of Beachwood, but the mayor of the borough not having been elected yet, it was deemed appropriate that the head of the Property Owners' Association should act,

On May 3rd, Stanley D. Brown, as trustee, appealed from the assessment of unsold lots in Beachwood, appearing by counsel before the State board of equalization. He claimed that these lots should be assessed as undeveloped acreage at $20.00 an acre. There are 18 lots to the acre.

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Beachwood Property Owners' Association, a committee on nominations for the coming borough election was appointed by William Mill Butler, president of the Association, Mr. Butler stating that, owing to conditions over which he had no control, he could not personally accept any nomination for office. The ticket agreed upon by the committee was unanimously endorsed and elected without opposition at the special election held on May 11th, as follows: Mayor, Joseph H. Senior; assessor, J. G.

Browning; collector, Frank E. Mc-Craigh; justice of the peace, John W. Cannan; councilmen—three years, William H. Talmage and Charles H. Haring; two years, George D. Suydam and O. Frederick Rost; one year, M. L. Stimson and Albert H. Williams. Twenty-eight voters had registered for the election and 23 voted. The council organized on May 14th, with Wm. H. Talmage as president. Mayor Senior appointed Max Blasberg, clerk; James A. Butler, borough attorney, and John W. Cannan, recorder. Also the following committees: Police and fire, Suvdam, chairman, and Committee of the Whole; Highways, Rost, Stimson and Suydam; Finance, Talmage, Haring, Stimson; Ways and Means, Haring, Talmage, Stimson; Lighting and Telephones, Stimson, Rost, Suydam: Stationery and Supplies. Haring, Rost, Williams: Public Improvements, Stimson, Suydam, Williams; Building, Williams, Rost, Talmage; Health, Suydam, Talmage, Haring; Special Committee, Talmage, Stimson, Suydam.

Agitation for a post-office was renewed. It was explained that the department at Washington would have granted the request the previous year but for the difficulty in selecting a name, there being other places in the State with the same name.

On May 26th the council authorized a five-year contract with the Toms River Electric Company, for street lighting, on a basis of 40 tungsten lamps of 100 candle power for six months each year, at $960 per year. In order to have some one in authority on the spot, in the absence of the Mayor, George D. Suydam was made president of the council in place of William H. Talmage, who, like Mr. Senior, could not be in Beachwood all the time. Frank J. Turner was elected borough marshal at $60.00 per month. to be on duty nights.

An intensive gardening contest, "to help win the war," was instituted by The New York Tribune in June, with prizes ranging from $5 to $50 for the best displays of garden products. The soil being all sand here, The Tribune also arranged to supply topsoil and fertilizer at a nominal expense to each of the thirty or more lot owners who enrolled. Inspection by a committee of judges on July 4th was arranged for and the prizes were to be awarded on Labor Day.

At a meeting of the Beachwood Property Owners' Association, June 30th, it was decided to appoint a committee of three to make arrangements for union religious meetings at the club house each Sunday evening.

The first season dance was held at the club house on the evening of July 4th. It was preceded by a musical program, as follows: Chorus, "Star Spangled Banner," piano and violin, Miss Steinert and Max Blasberg; tenor solo, Mr. Loree; soprano solo, Miss Bertha D. Knoke; baritone solo, J. Henry Nienstadt; declamation, "Our Flag," Master

A. Blasberg; soprano solo, Mrs. Alice Brady, of Newark.

The borough council decided that dogs must be licensed and not allowed to approach within 200 feet of the bathing beach without a leash.

Frank W. Goodrich became the owner of the Beachwood garage, formerly conducted by A. B. Talmage.

The first religious service on Saturday evening, July 22nd, was conducted by Rev. M. L. Stimson and drew a large audience at the club house.

By August 1st Beachwood was again in the midst of a busy social season. Dances and entertainments at the club house drew large crowds, the scene on the bathing beach was animated and picturesque during the afternoons. Mail delivery from Toms River began on August 1st, but still no local post office.

The cake sale given by the Beachwood Woman's Club netted $85.00 for the erection of a flagpole and flag on the club house grounds. Mrs. Ida M. Craig had charge of the sale.

The electric street lights added greatly to the attractiveness of the borough.

No trouble for romantic Beachwood misses to get their fortunes told, with a gypsy camp on the outskirts of the borough.

At the annual election of the Beachwood Property Owners' Association, William Mill Butler was re-elected president. The board of trustees was also re-elected.

The Red Cross carnival and card game, at the club house, on August 10th, proved a great success. Mrs. J. H. Senior, assisted by Mrs. W. J. Moore had charge of the card game, and Mrs. J. J. Kearin, assisted by Mrs. Ida M. Craig, had charge of the carnival, in which there were a number of booths. The young lady workers were dressed in Red Cross nurse costumes. Saturday evening, August 11th, during an intermission in the dance. Miss Mildred T. Perrine, of Rochester, N. Y., sang several muchappreciated solos. She sang again at the Sunday evening services in the club house and Miss Ruth M. Holmes, of Brooklyn, played Decker's beautiful "Trinity Chimes." Other successful events were the children's fancy paper dress dance, August 17th, and the society dance for Beachwood residents and their guests at the club house, on August 18th.

The new flagpole having been erected, the flag raising took place on the afternoon of August 18th. Appropriate addresses were delivered by C. H. Haring, Mayor Senior and others. The Lakewood Home Guards, 75 strong, attended the ceremonies in a body.

The council decided to gravel a number of the streets in the thickly settled section of the borough, the cost to be assessed on properties benefited.

The Beachwood Tennis Club was organized, and adopted a constitution and by-laws August 25th, with the following officers: President, P. H. W. Ross; vice-president, Dr. Frank Miller; secretary, George Pioselli; treasurer, Miss F. L. Kellett. The board of governors consisted of the officers and C. H. Hoard, Harry Jacobson, Miss M. E. Miller, H. B. Orchard and J. A. Spears.

C. H. Haring, chairman of the sports and games committee, prepared a fine program for Labor Day and it was carried out without a hitch in the presence of big crowds. He was ably assisted by Clinton H. Hoard and Newell D. Yale. The winners in the morning events were: ¼-mile run, senior boys, Leonard Heintz; potato race, junior girls, Maude Brown; 220-yard dash, junior boys, Albert Williams;

Hurdle race, 220 yards, Armand Rhens; sack race, junior boys, Master Grossman; sack race, senior girls, Miss Daisy Erickson; fat men's race, Judge J. A. Butler; relay race, F. Moore, J. Master Oktavec; canoe race, mixed couples, Oktavec brothers.

During the evening the garden prizes given by The New York Tribune were awarded to the successful contestants. William Widmaier received first prize and Mrs. G. S. Thain second prize. Both turned over the prizes to be applied toward the purchase of an organ for the Sunday evening services.

At the annual masquerade, on September 1st, there were said to have been 300 in costume and the attendance of spectators was large. Miss Daisy Erickson was awarded the prize for the prettiest costume (a blue bird dress); Miss Mills, dressed as an ear of corn, took the prize for the most original costume. H. Grossman (a movie producer), dressed as the Cave Man, was awarded the prize for the most unique costume. His acting of the part was superb. Miss Beatrice Levett, dressed as a large white cat, won the prize for the best comic costume. Many others received commendation.

William Mill Butler was called to Washington, September 4th, to address the House Committee on Military Affairs, in favor of a movement to care for American soldiers who died of wounds or disease during the war and to return their bodies, in a sanitary condition, to their relatives from overseas.

The primaries for the fall election were held September 25th. when a Republican ticket was nominated, as follows: Mayor, Joseph H. Senior; councilmen for 3 years. George D. Suydam and Charles H. Haring; councilmen for 2 years, O. Frederick Rost and M. Luther :Stimson; councilmen for one year, Albert H. Williams and William H. Talmage; assessor, Joseph G. Browning; collector, Max Blas-There being no opposition, the ticket was unanimously elected on November 6th, thus endorsing the action of the special election on the formation of the borough.

After 47 years of good and faithful service on the railroad, B. M. Munn was retired by the Central Railroad of New Jersey.

The annual election of officers of the Beachwood Woman's Club resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Henrietta K. Hoard; first vice-president, Mrs. J. H. Seaman; second vice-president, Mrs. W. J. Moore; secretary, Mrs. W. H. Talmage; treasurer, Mrs. C. T. Ziegler. Committee chairmen: ways and means, Mrs. J. A. Butler; entertainment, Mrs. J. H. Senior; cards, Mrs. B. A. Levett; press, Mrs. O. F. Rost. A loving cup was awarded the club for doing the best work for Beachwood.

As the farewell event of the season, Mayor and Mrs. J. H. Senior gave a reception and dance at the club house, on September 29th, which was greatly enjoyed by over 250 guests. During an intermission William Mill Butler, by request, read "Beachwood Days."

Deserted cats and dogs became quite a nuisance in the fall. Heartless owners received much censure.

A delegation from Beachwood and Toms River appeared before the State Utilities Board at Trenton on October 16th to ask for a grade crossing over the tracks of the Jersey Central and Pennsylvania tracks where these two roads cross each other at Beachwood boulevard. It was urged that with 47 houses on the south side of the tracks, on what is now known as the heights, the residents should not be obliged to go out of their way nearly a mile by the only available crossing. The railroads opposed the application. Nothing was done.

On November 24th, C. W. Mathes & Co., of Seaside Park, were awarded contracts amounting to $6,650 for graveling streets in Beachwood.

In December an interesting offer was made to the borough by B. C. Mayo, founder of Beachwood. When the resort was laid out all the water front and what is known as Beachwood Point was reserved by Mr. Mayo. On the point, below the bluff, were the bathing pavilion, dock and yacht club. Above the bluff were built the club house. the lodge, the dining room, etc. Running southeast from the club house, on each side of Bayside Avenue, were 209 choice lots, worth from $250 to $500 each. Mayo's generous offer provided that the entire reservation and these lots should be deeded to the borough in perpetuity, providing the borough agreed to purchase the lots at $19.60 each, the price at which all lots were sold through The New York Tribune's promotion department, payment to be made in bonds. Mr. Mayo also offered to deed to the borough, free of charge, some 5,000 lots in the Beachwood hinterland, which are of no great value. Mr. Mayo's offer was duly accepted, and the borough decided to set aside the 209 lots as a park.

Mayor Senior and the borough council met, on the evening of January 4th, for organization. George D. Suydam was elected president of the council. The mayor appointed Max Blasberg clerk, Frank J. Turner marshal, and William Howard Jeffrey borough attorney. John J. Kearin was appointed collector in place of Mr. Blasberg. A budget of $12,000, to be raised by taxes in 1918, was adopted.

The death announced of Mrs. Reeves, wife of Lieut. J. W. Reeves, U. S. Navy, who was on foreign service in European waters. Mr. and Mrs. Reeves owned two cottages in Beachwood and spent their summers here. The first annual dinner of residents of Beachwood was held on January 15th, at Healy's Golden Glades, 66th Street and Columbus Avenue, New York. Forty-seven were present and the occasion was thoroughly successful and enjoyable. Pleasing and pertinent remarks were made by Mayor Senior, P. H. W. Ross, Mrs. C. H. Hoard, Charles H. Haring, George D. Suydam, J. J. Kearin, F. M. Vom Saal, William Widmaier and H. Grossman. It was proposed that the dinner should be an annual event.

Quite a number of summer residents came down from New York to observe Washington's birthday. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hoard entertained a party of sixteen.

A forest fire during the first week in March touched the southwest end of Beachwood, and had the wind been favorable, it might have been serious. The lot-owners were urged to comply with the ordinance to clean up the underbrush.

At a meeting of the borough council, on April 27th, an ordinance received its final reading and passage, "to acquire certain lands for the purposes of a public park and playgrounds," from B. C. Mayo. The ordinance provided that should the lands be diverted from public use they would revert to Mr. Mayo and his heirs; also that no intoxicating liquors may ever be manufactured or sold on the property, and no part shall be rented to any but Caucasians.

Beachwood's first board of Education was organized on April 18th, with the following officers and members: William Mill Butler, president; M. L. Stimson, vice-president; George D. Suydam, clerk; Harry Edwards, Mrs. Wanda E. Lohr, Frank O. Price, Ida M. Talmage, Miss Ethel Kelly and Miss Della Marsh. Six pupils had attended school in Toms River the past year.

On April 27th, Mayor Senior appointed Frank J. Turner borough clerk in place of Max Blasberg, who was obliged to resign on account of illness.

Army officers from Lakehurst and Camp Dix were among those renting bungalows in Beachwood.

An ordinance was passed early in the year compelling all dogs to be licensed.

Good news was received from Washington, early in June, to the effect that Beachwood's request for a post office had been granted. One of the most active leaders in the fight for this necessity was Councilman Charles H. Haring.

Decoration Day, as usual, marked the opening of the season. Among the enjoyable features was a dance at the club house, under the auspices of the Woman's Club.

The cake sale, on July 19th, was an enjoyable affair. Mrs. William Mill Butler, of the Woman's Club, was the chairman in charge and B. A. Levett was the auctioneer. The bidding was spirited and $90 was realized for the benefit of the soldiers' entertainment fund.

Frank Moore and his brother developed a newspaper route with between 125 and 150 customers.

The death of Max Blasberg, our first borough clerk, took place in July. The death of William Widmaier, which occurred since last season, was also announced. He was one of the pioneers of Beachwood.

In July Beachwood was still waiting for its post office. Some of the residents went to Toms River for their mail; some had it brought to the club house; and some put up rural delivery boxes. In August, however, Edmund A. Smith, formerly of Peekskill and New York City, was appointed our first postmaster, thanks to the efforts of Mayor Senior, C. H. Haring, and the Property Owners' Association.

Bernard M. Munn retired as an engineer of the New Jersey Central Railroad after 47 years of continuous service.

The farmers of Ocean County finding Beachwood a most attractive spot, held their annual picnic and exhibition here for the first time on August 24th. On the same day a large flagpole was raised by Major F. G. Young, in front of his bungalow on Bayside avenue. Mayor J. H. Senior and Councilman C. H. Haring made addresses.

On August 31st Beachwood had its first baby parade, with many entries up to 14 years of age. The winner of the grand prize, a beautiful loving cup donated by B. C. Mayo, was awarded to Maude Manson, aged four, who appeared as a munition worker. First prizes, Baby John Reeves, as Moses in the bullrushes, a silver service tray donated by The New York Tribune; Iack Burrell as Cupid; Donald Smith as Farmer; Edward De Rochemont and Sagred Piatt as Hawaiians; Howard Warrick as Huckleberry Finn: Ruth Liedtke as Farmerette: Winifred Turner as Ballet Girl in pony cart. Patton, Mildred Patton, John Parr, Helen Forsythe and William Roll.

Sunday, September 1st, was celebrated as heroes' day, with community singing, solos and addresses. Among the speakers was Sergeant L. Shannon Cormack, of the Canadian artillery. Mrs. Herbert W. Zahn, of Rochester, N. Y., was among the soloists.

The non-sectarian religious services, regularly held at Borough Hall, Sunday evenings, resulted in the formal organization of the Beachwood Religious Association with a board of trustees consisting of William Mill Butler, chairman; Mrs. Wanda E. Lohr and Harry Edwards. O. Frederick Rost, to whose efforts more than any one else the founding of this organization and its success is due, acted as treasurer from the beginning. Among the clergymen who were most generous in addressing the meetings from time to time were Rev. M. L. Stimson, Rev. E. A. Francke, both summer residents;

Rev. James Dykema, of East Orange, and Rev. Charles H. Holmead of Toms River.

The Labor Day sports on land and water were very successful and enjoyable and drew the usual large attendance of spectators. C. H. Haring was chairman of the committee of arrangements.

The last Red Cross meeting of the season was held by the ladies at the home of Mrs. E. F. Parker on Labor Day afternoon.

The Beachwood Property Owners' Association met at the club house, September 7th, and unanimously endorsed a proposition for a commission form of government. The difficulty in obtaining an adequate attendance of members of the borough council was one of the reasons for the proposed change. A petition was filed with the borough clerk calling for an election to pass upon the question, and this election, on September 10th, by a vote of 16 to 1, decided in favor of the proposition.

The council, on the evening of September 14th, approved ordinances, on first reading, relating to the erection of commercial buildings, out-houses and the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing at Atlantic City Boulevard.

Provision was made for the instruction of Beachwood children in the schools of Toms River.

The first mail was received at the Beachwood post office on Thursday, September 17th. One mail a day was all the post office department granted in the beginning, as against three for Toms River.

The Beachwood service flag, conspicuously displayed in the street at Borough Hall, contained the fol-

Baker, Roland Broderick Brown, Stanley D. Burchell Burrell Butler, Arthur Butler, James Cameron, G. W. Carberry, John

Christensen, J. Dunscombe Emerson, Calvin Haves, Linton H. Knowles, Joseph McGuinn, James McGuinn Mills, Richard Reeves, Lieut. John W. Robinson, Beverly K. Siner, Col. Steffens, Dr. Charles Stillman, Dr. Ralph Yale, Newell D. Young, Major Frank G. Zucker, Frederick A.

Bankruptcy announced of the Rohdenburg Company, Inc., which built many bungalows in Beachwood.

Mayor and Mrs. Senior gave their second annual reception and dance on September 28th, and all Beachwood turned out in honor of the occasion. Mrs. Senior was presented with a large bouquet of American beauty roses by the ladies, through Master Warren Levett, and Mayor Senior with a goldmounted ivory gavel, Ex-Judge James A. Butler making the presentation speech.

Miss Georgiana Marie Oktavec, one of Beachwood's lovely girls, was married to Lieut. Robert Mc-Donald Graham, a graduate of West Point.

Poor gas service was complained of during the season.

On October 15th an election for the borough commissioners, was held and resulted in the unanimous choice of Joseph H. Senior, Charles H. Haring, and Frank O. Price. The commissioners met on October 29th when Mr. Senior was selected as Director of Public Affairs and Public Safety (mayor); Mr. Haring as director of streets and public improvements, parks and public property; and Mr. Price as director of revenue and finance. Frank J. Turner was appointed borough clerk and borough marshal; William Howard Jeffrey, borough attorney, and Joseph J. Kearin, borough collector.

The Auditorium (originally the Dining-room and later Borough Hall), built for the Property Owners by Mr. Mayo

O. Frederick Rost, in a typewritten "Beachwood Bulletin," issued on February 15th, called attention to a number of improvements made since the previous fall. Among these were a porte-cochère for the club house; an enlarged parking space east of the club house; the graveling of a cross-road to reach that section of the borough lying west of the New Jersey Central Railroad; additional electric lights. and the proposed policing of the bathing beach during the entire summer.

The New Year saw the second business trouble in Beachwood, when Sheriff Chafey and Under Sheriff Brown attached the goods of Samuel N. Green and wife, contained in their store on Beachwood Boulevard near Atlantic City Boulevard. The officers broke a door in order to effect an entrance.

At the annual school meeting on February 15th, the voters decided that $750 would be necessary for the school year.

Members of the Beachwood Card Club, to the number of twenty-four, held a winter session, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Siffert, in New York, on March 6th.

Announcement was made of the death from appendicitis of Albert H. Williams, Jr., one of the most popular boys among the summer residents.

Dissatisfaction with the ice supply and service caused many residents to join in an agitation for a community ice-plant in Toms River. Nothing came of the project, but a better supply was obtained. Beachwood was particularly unfortunate, because the only ice dealer in Toms River refused to deliver here, even in cases where little children were ill, and it was necessary, before a local iceman could be secured, to drive or send to Toms River and get ice. It was, however, only one of the incidents of pioneering. A new Board of Education, to consist of three members, was elected on March 18th, with Frank J. Perry, 3 years; Dr. A. E. Slonaker, 2 years, and Frank J. Turner, one year. Dr. Slonaker was made president.

A. D. Nickerson, engineer and surveyor, arrived home from Camp Eustis, Florida, where he had completed the building of a cantonment for the Coast Artillery.

The first public sale of property for unpaid taxes (lots) was held beginning April 19th. The sum of $800 was realized.

Daniel O. Prettyman, 27, of Pine Beach, suffering from the delusion that a Beachwood bungalow belonged to him, was taken in charge by Borough Marshal Turner and, after examination, taken to the State hospital at Trenton.

The season of 1919 again opened on Decoration Day. The club house and lodge were open and many families occupied their bungalows.

President Rost of the Property Owners' Association, in another "Bulletin," called attention to the new boardwalk on the bathing beach, built by the borough from the bathing pavilion to the yacht club house. Also the placing of a concrete wall around "cold spring," or "Indian Tom's Spring," by the Woman's Club. Among other improvements decided upon were a 12-foot wide veranda around Borough Hall, and a dining-room in the club house. It was urged that lot-owners observe the ordinance requiring the removal of underbrush.

A brush fire in the woods on the southeast part of the borough was put out by Mrs. F. W. Goodrich and two small boys.

Twenty-five girl scouts, comprising Troop 15, of the First Congregational Church, Jersey City, in charge of Misses Puster and Wilkinson, were here for a week's outing.

"Democracy," a poem by William Mill Butler, was set to music by a dozen leading composers in a contest which was won by Carrie Jacobs Bond, author of "Perfect Day." Mrs. Bond's setting was published. A Boston publisher who saw the words of "Democracy" going the rounds of the press, asked Mr. Butler to make a collection of his poems for a book.

The Beachwood Athletic Club, a boys' organization, elected Munn Craig, president; Patsy De Rochemont, vice-president; Frank Moore, secretary; Booker De Rochemont, treasurer; Junior Grossman, manager of the baseball team.

The first moonlight excursion of the season was held by the Woman's Club, July 11th, on the boats Ariella and Dorianna. A marshmallow roast was enjoyed at Seaside Park.

The card club held its first meeting at the yacht club, July 10th, with Mrs. B. A. Levett as hostess of the afternoon. It was decided to have prizes for the players.

Mrs. Barton J. Forsythe chaperoned the first children's dance of the season on July 9th, at Borough Hall. Messrs. Holman, Dennis, and Zucker furnished the music.

The borough council ordered Atlantic City Boulevard oiled, to keep the dust down during the summer.

John Ryan, a seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan, of Newark, fell out of a boat and was drowned at the bathing beach, on July 25th. This was Beachwood's first drowning accident.

On Sunday evening, July 27th, at a meeting of the trustees of the Beachwood congregation (nondenominational) in Borough Hall, after services, the purchase of an organ was authorized. A large share of the fund was contributed by the residents of Beachwood, the late William Widmaier, and Mrs. G. S. Thain, who turned in the Tribune prizes they received for growing fine vegetables.

The first moving of a building in Beachwood took place when the yellow garage of Major F. G. Young, on Bayside Avenue, was purchased by William Mill Butler, and moved into the latter's backyard across the way.

The inability to obtain a suitable railroad crossing was considered a serious drawback to the development of the south side of Beachwood. At this time tunneling under the tracks on Beachwood Boulevard was even suggested.

Sergeant Newell D. Yale, shot through the right shoulder in France, was home on a furlough from the hospital in Washington, D. C.

It was reported that Beachwood now had 207 houses, all occupied, and a summer population of 1,200.

The mid-week paper costume dance for the children drew an attendance of 450 on the evening of July 30th, at Borough Hall. There were many entries and the costumes were very attractive. Hon. William Howard Jeffrey, Mrs. C. H. Hoard and Mrs. Wanda E. Lohr acted as judges and awarded prizes as follows: Louise Downs and Catharine Ortel, as fairy and butterfly; Donald Boyce, blue-jay; William Wawson, Hawaiian lad; Helen Green, Beachwood rose, and William and Jack Sprecht, Gold Dust Twins.

There were over 300 present at the regular Saturday evening dance which was held on August 2d, for the benefit of civic improvements. Judge James A. Butler improved an intermission in the festivities to help Mrs. C. H. Hoard collect $72.25 toward the proposed memorial to Ocean County boys who took part in the war.

Howard Tice did his best to supply the people of Beachwood with ice this season, but it was still found difficult to obtain a prompt supply.

The annual cake sale, on the evening of August 1st, netted $95.00, the proceeds to be used by the Woman's Club to improve the Yacht Club house. Mrs. William Mill Butler was in charge, and Commissioner Charles H. Haring was the persuasive auctioneer. Miss Greer won the prize for the cake which brought the highest price, $15.00.

At the annual meeting of the Beachwood congregation (unde-nominational) on August 3rd, after the regular service, a new board of trustees was elected as follows: O. Frederick Rost, chairman, three years; C. E. Burchell, two years, and Rev. M. L. Stimson, one year. Mrs. C. H. Hoard was elected treasurer.

At the pink domino dance for the younger set, on August 4th, prizes were won as follows: First, Jack Newbury, 3rd, of Porterville, Calif., and Miss Caroline Zucker of Beachwood; second, Junior Grossman and Miss Hollister; third, William Scoble and Miss Louise De Rochemont.

The tennis courts were open free this summer, with certain rules to be observed as follows: "Unless a tournament is on, singles must double up if others are waiting to play. Only persons with rubber-soled shoes, without heels, are allowed to play. Persons in bathing suits are not permitted to play. No one is allowed to play more than 1½ hours if others are waiting. Boys and girls under fifteen are permitted to play Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings."

The offer of the borough to lay out a ball field for the boys' athletic club, if the youngsters would help clear the ground, met with some promises, but no enthusiastic performance.

At the annual meeting of the Beachwood Property Owners' Association on August 9th, the following ticket was unanimously elected: President, O. Frederick Rost (reelected); vice-president, J. A. Spears; secretary, C. H. Hoard; treasurer, E. D. Collins (re-elected); trustees, Dr. E. P. Robinson, F. O. Price, F. W. Goodrich, George F. Steinert, Max De Rochemont, Harry Edwards, J.T. Holmes and D. J. Pioselli. The movement for the purchase of a chemical fire engine, started by Mrs. Wanda E. Lohr, was warmly endorsed. Rev.

M. L. Stimson's motion for a cleanup prior to Labor Day was unanimously adopted, as was also a series of resolutions offered by William Mill Butler, in which he made a strong plea for the protection of the pines. A committee of three, consisting of Mr. Butler, A. D. Nickerson and Rev. M. L. Stimson, was appointed to look after the welfare of the pines, to study their diseases and remedies, and how pine trees may be increased, planted and transplanted.

Bertha D. Knoke, soprano; Helen Miss, pianist, and Lacy Coe, violinist, all of Beachwood, gave an enjoyable musicale at the Pine Beach Hotel, on the evening of August 21st.

The Beachwood "races," a novel and amusing entertainment, in aid of the purchase of a chemical fire engine, drew a large attendance at Borough Hall on the evening of August 15th. The idea was to cut long narrow pieces of tape into two strips and those who finished first in the various "heats" were the winners and ran again in the finals. Mrs. Wanda E. Lohr, chairman of the committee on fire protection, was the moving spirit, assisted by Mrs. A. Keller and Dr. J. H. Richards. Many beautiful prizes were secured by them in Toms River, among them being a gold watch donated by W. L. De Graw. Cash donations were also received and the event proved a great success, between $300 and $400 being realized for the engine.

At a largely attended public meeting, at the club house, on August 23rd, after addresses by James E. Stillaway, a well-known horticulturist and landscape engineer, and others, all present, with a single exception, pledged themselves to protect the pines and foster their growth and welfare.

The first electric pleasure car in Ocean County, outside of Lakewood, made its appearance on the streets of Beachwood, being a five-passenger Ohio, a birthday gift to Mrs. William Mill Butler from her husband.

At the annual children's masquerade, at Borough Hall, August 27th, there were about 65 entrants for the prizes to be awarded for the most original, beautiful, unique and age groups. The prize costumes were: Bolshevic, Sunbonnet Sue, Ice Cream Cone, Harem Girl, Iceman (a Miniature Mr. Tice), Hawaiian Girl, Wall-paper Hanger and Swiss Peasant.

The following officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Woman's Club, August 28th: President, Mrs. Wm. H. Talmage; first vice-president, Mrs. J. H. Senior; second vice-president, Mrs. O. F. Rost; secretary, Mrs. E. D. Collins; treasurer, Mrs. C. T. Ziegler.

Rhynhart, as Sir Walter Raleigh; Miss Carrie Main, as a black butterfly; Miss Daisy Erickson, as a popcorn girl; Mrs. Ida M. Craig and Mrs. Eva L. Powell, colored bride and groom, and Robert Swanson and James Butler, pirates. Honorable mention, Miss Louise De Rochemont, Miss Bertha D. Knoke, Miss Adele Senior, Mrs. Zucker, Mrs. Keller, Mrs. Hedden, Mrs. Kennedy and Francis Butler.

Again the farmers of Ocean County honored Beachwood with their annual picnic and an exhibition at the club house. There was a large attendance and among the speakers present was Governor William N. Runyon. A committee consisting of Mayor Senior, Commissioners Haring and Price, A. D. Nickerson and William Mill Butler welcomed the Governor.

About 250 people attended the sacred concert at Borough Hall on Sunday evening, August 31st, under the auspices of the Beachwood Religious Association. A musical program was beautifully rendered by Lacy Coe, violinist; Mrs. Florence Perrine Zahn and Miss Bertha D. Knoke, vocalists: Miss Maude Brown and Herbert W. Zahn at the piano, and Edward J. Knoke, 'cello. After the concert the trustees, O. Frederick Rost, Rev. M. L. Stimson and E. C. Burchell, submitted a constitution and by-laws which were adopted. The trustees were instructed to have the association incorporated.

The men were allowed to p'ay cards with the ladies one evening during the season, and it proved a gala affair at Borough Hall, on the evening of August 23rd. Bridge, five hundred, whist and pinochle were played, and many prizes awarded.

The land and water sports on Labor Day drew a large attendance as usual and passed off with great credit to all concerned. The winners were: 100 yard dash, first, Arnold Craig; second, H. Oktavec. Peanut scramble, boys, first, E. Boyce; second, J. Moore. Peanut scramble, girls, first, V. Rynehart; second, M. Brockmaier. 440 vard run, first, H. Oktavec; second, Gordon Lewis. Charles Jones, owner of the "Suits Us" bungalow on Barnegat boulevard, and Ralph Knudson, aged 14, were instantly killed by a train at the Main Street crossing of the New Jersey Central Railroad in Toms River, September 1st. They were on their way home to Tottenville, after spending Labor Day here.

Count Ilya Tolstoy, son of the great Russian philosopher, humanitarian and novelist, was announced to speak at Borough Hall, but on account of illness a later date was found necessary, and he appeared September 5th. The speaker gave a most interesting account of his father's philosophy and what his views of the Russian situation would be today were he alive. Count Tolstoy was induced to come to Beachwood by A. W. Perelstrous, one of the summer residents, and his address was for the benefit of the protection and increase of the pines. Owing to bad weather and the uncertainty of the date of the lecture there was a small attendance.

Fourteen Saturday evening dances were held during the season, under the auspices of the Women's Club. The club appointed a committee, with Mrs. Joseph Oktavec as chairman, to plan for the continuance of the dances next year.

At a Sunday evening musicale at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Nickerson, on September 7th, the performers were: Lacy Coe, violinist; E. F. Knoke, 'cellist, and Mrs. Bertha D. Knoke, soprano. William S. B. Dana, a well-known New York organist, presided at the piano.

Some seasons mosquitoes are not at all troublesome. During others they are a pest and the present season was the worst thus far. Flies were also very troublesome. In the meantime the mosquito commission is busily at work.

The trustees of the Property Owners' Association provided an interesting booklet concerning Beachwood, for general distribution dur-

The annual reception and dance given by Mayor and Mrs. Senior, at the close of the season, was again a great success. About 200 took part in the grand march, and after the dancing refreshments were served by George Arway of the Beachwood Club. Walton's Lakewood Orchestra furnished the music. A basket of beautiful chrysanthemums was presented to Mrs. Senior by Miss Alice Goodrich, on behalf of the ladies of Beachwood.

Mayor Senior purchased the bungalow of Frank H. Lewis, Bayside Avenue.

Postmaster and Mrs. Smith gave a clambake to many friends, in honor of Mrs. Smith's birthday, early in October.

Dr. A. G. Slonaker, having received the contract to transport the school children to and from Toms River, resigned from the board of education and as its president, Frank E. McCraigh was appointed to succeed him.

The work of cleaning out the underbrush in the lots of the builtup section of Beachwood, progressed considerably in the fall.

Mrs. Wanda E. Lohr and A. D. Nickerson, of Beachwood, were among the judges of the Toms River mardi-gras for the benefit of its fire department.

The Beachwood Rod and Gun Club, recently organized, at a meeting in Borough Hall, November 14th, voted to build a cabin clubhouse on Jake's Ranch, at the westerly end of Chestnut Street. Members cleared the grounds and built a roadway to the creek. The officers are: President, A. D. Nickerson; vice-president, Frank W. Goodrich; secretary, Frank E. McCraigh; treasurer, Harry Edwards; field captain, Jacob J. Hoffman.

The second drowning accident in Beachwood took place on December 18th, when Dr. D. S. Spellman, a prominent New York physician and summer resident, broke through the ice while skating off Buhler's Point. Arthur Hoffman, son of Jacob J. Hoffman, also broke through the ice with Dr. Spellman, but managed to clamber out and was saved.

The Rod and Gun Club held a beefsteak and 'possum supper at Borough Hall, on the evening of January 16th. The 'possum was furnished by J. J. Hoffman. It had tried to steal some of his chickens.

The resignation of Frank O Price, as borough commissioner, was announced. Mr. Price found it impossible to spend the time in Beachwood which the position demanded.

The term of E. A. Smith as tax collector expired January 1st. He had consented to act in place of I. I. Kearin when the latter resigned, but now asked to be relieved, as his work as postmaster and plumber kept him more than occupied. The commissioners, on January 30th, appointed William M. Grover in Mr. Smith's place.

At a special election on February 21st, Addison D. Nickerson was elected a borough commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Frank O. Price.

On February 21st Mrs. William Talmage, president of the Beachwood Woman's Club, entertained a number of the members at her winter home in Wyoming, N. J.

Bids for the removal of garbage, from May 16th to October 16th, were advertised for by the Borough on April 27th.

Mrs. J. H. Senior won two first prizes, one second, one third and one fourth, for her exhibits of rabbits at Madison Square Garden, New York.

At a meeting of the Commissioners it was decided that Charles H. Haring take over the department of revenue and finance formerly in charge of Frank O. Price and A. D. Nickerson, the department of streets and public improvements, parks and public property, which Mr. Haring had looked after. Mayor Senior was absent on a business trip in the West Indies.

Frank W. Goodrich was recently appointed assessor.

Mrs. Frederick M. Vom Saal entertained a large number of Beachwood ladies at her home in Cedarhurst, L. I., on March 16th.

Improvements on Borough Hall, to cost $1,900, were begun in March. These included a new dining-room and kitchen. The dining-room and kitchen in the clubhouse were abandoned.

Joseph A. Spears, having started to burn rubbish and accidentally set the brush afire, was fined $25.00 for failing to obtain a permit.

Ray LeVan leased the borough concession — club house, diningroom, lodge and bath-house-for the season.

The post office was removed from W. T. Burnett's building to the little office building of J. G. Browning, corner Beachwood and Atlantic boulevards.

William Mill Butler started to enclose his water front lots on Bayside Avenue with a concrete wall, which caused some wonder as to whether it was to be a cemetery, a reflection on Beachwood as a health

The Commissioners passed an ordinance permitting stores in Beachwood Boulevard, between the railroad station and Atlantic City Boulevard, to be built up to the street line, instead of back 20 feet as required of all dwellings.

H. B. Christenson, landscape engineer, of Lakewood, made some fine improvements to the grounds of Mayor J. H. Senior, B. A. Levett, Major F. G. Young and A. D. Nickerson.

Miss Adele Senior, of Beachwood, arranged a fine vaudeville entertainment for the benefit of the American Legion at the Toms River Opera House, May 28th and

The mimeograph edition of the Beachwood Bulletin, "issued now and then by O. Frederick Rost for the benefit of the Beachwood Property Owners' Association," was succeeded in May by a more ambitious medium, regularly printed named the Beachwood Echo. initial edition of nearly 10,000 was printed and most of the copies were sent out with the tax notices. The second number was issued July 1st, and in it Mr. Rost stated that 125 subscriptions at $1.00 had been received and that 500 would be needed to make the venture cover expenses each month. It was a fine public-spirited effort and met with deserved praise.

Mrs. Frank G. Young, of Bayside Avenue, had a narrow escape from drowning on May 31st, when her canoe upset in a squall and she was thrown into the cold water, encumbered with skirts. Beverly K. Robinson, son of Dr. E. P. Robinson, reached her in time to rescue

The commissioners, on June 4th, introduced an ordinance prohibiting the construction of privy vaults between Bowline Street and the water front.

Charles R. De Graw's store, combined with White's butcher shop, opened for the season on Beachwood Boulevard.

Bids were invited for a small tractor "suitable for pulling a brush plow to clean up roots and underbrush in the unimproved streets of Beachwood."

Allen Ridgway, of Barnegat, the veteran conductor of the Barnegat Express, running between Barnegat and Jersey City, on the Central Railroad of New Jersey, was honored by a public presentation, at Borough Hall, Beachwood, July 3rd, on the occasion of the completion of his fortieth year of continuous and faithful service. idea of the presentation originated in Beachwood and was taken up at various points along the line. Beachwood and Toms River cooperated and raised a purse of $203 in cash, and to this was added a fishing outfit that cost $88.00. Speeches were made by Mayor Senior, Charles H. Haring, Judge W. Howard Jeffrey, Division Superintendent S. B. Zartman, of the railroad company, and William Mill Butler, who made the presentation. It was stated that in his 40 years of service, Mr. Ridgway had traveled 2,046,000 miles, equal to 85 times around the world. The presentation was a complete surprise to him and for some time he could not find voice to express nis appreciation and his love and admiration for Beachwood and her

At the meeting of the Beachwood Property Owners' Association, July 10th, E. D. Collins, treasurer, reported on hand: Fund for fire protection, $331.78; fund for the preservation of the pines, $47.05; general dues account, $111.03. Total, $489.86.

A great shock was caused by the receipt of news that Bertrand C. Mayo, founder of Beachwood, had died at Asheville, N. C., on Monday, July 12th, at the age of 55. He left a wife and one son, Geoffrey G. Mayo.

Briggs, the famous cartoonist of The New York Tribune, and his family, paid a visit to Beachwood, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry

P. Staton.

The borough commission decided to prohibit the parking of cars along the side of streets, in fact, anywhere except in places set aside for parking purposes.

Saturday evening dances at Borough Hall, and the children's dances on Wednesdays, showed that the season was ushered in. Coming events included a straw ride, moonlight excursions, cake sale, costume parties, etc.

Rev. W. W. Payne, of Toms River, opened the Sunday evening services on July 2nd.

The Woman's Club started the social activities of the season with a card party on July 8th. Mrs. W. H. Talmage, president, was hostess.

initiation fee; to admit associate members on payment of a fee of 75 cents, such members to have no vote and be ineligible to election to office. Members to be permitted to bring guests on payment of a fee of 25 cents for each guest.

The musicale under the auspices of the Beachwood Woman's Club, at Borough Hall, July 23rd, proved very enjoyable. Mrs. J. H. Senior was chairman of the committee of arrangements. Several artists of distinction took part, including Miss Mayflower Beasey, violinist, formerly with the Russian Symphony Orchestra: Miss Helen Desmond, pianist, of the Boston Symphony Orchestra; Miss Cora De Sylvia, recently with the Chicago Grand Opera Company; Leo De Teipofelli, baritone, and Frank Dyllon, New York society entertainer.

The children's costume party, on July 29th, was largely attended. Each child was dressed to represent an advertisement. The prize winners were: Donald Rowe, as Value Clothes; Bable Ortell, as Paas Egg Dyes; Junior Hunter, as Spearmint gum; Mary Decker, as Baker's cocoa; Helen Forsythe as Jonteel Tal-cum Powder, and Frances Wemple, as Palm Olive soap.

John J. Breslawski, of Paterson, a summer resident of Beachwood, ran down and fatally injured Miss Elizabeth Messick, aged 84. at Toms River, on July 30th. Miss Messick, being very deaf, did not hear the horn.

At a meeting of the committee for the preservation of the pines, on July 31st, it was decided to divide the borough into three sections, each member to inspect a section from time to time. Pending Mr. Stimson's trip to China, Thomas Dunn was invited to act in his place, during his absence.

Rev. James Dykema, of Red Bank, was the speaker at the meeting of the Beachwood Religious Association, August 1st, at Borough Hall.

An exhibition of paintings and water colors by artists residing in Ocean County was opened on the afternoon of August 4th, at the club house, by a tea given by the Beachwood Woman's Club to the exhibitors. Among these were Mrs. Nestor Sanborn, E. W. Boulton, W. F. Clark, and Miss M. Y.

Bloodgood, of Point Pleasant, N. J.; Englebert and Theo. Gramm, of Lavallette; Carl Buergeniss, of Island Heights; E. P. Knox, Mrs. E. A. Barnett, W. F. Wightman, and Frank Buchanan, of Toms River. All told, there were some seventy pictures displayed, and a number were sold on the opening day. The exhibition continued for two weeks.

On the evening of August 6th, a vaudeville entertainment and dance was given at Borough Hall, as Beachwood's contribution to the building fund of Vanderveer Post, American Legion, of Toms River.

Impressive memorial services were held at Borough Hall, August 8th, in honor of Bertram C. Mayo, founder of Beachwood, whose death has been previously an-The hall was crowded nounced. with those who desired to show their love and respect for the man whose brains and energy had made Beachwood possible. The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. M. L. Stimson, and presided over by Mayor Senior, who, in his introductory remarks, spoke feelingly of Mr. Mayo and gave some personal experiences illustrating the man's fine character. On one occasion the conversation turned on his lifework when Mr. Mayo asked: "Do you know why Beachwood is Beachwood? Because of its natural beauty and advantages? That is only partly true." Then he told of his early life in Boston when he was struggling to make his way, and how he had one pleasure, that of visiting the suburbs with his family on the trolleys on holidays. He then resolved that if it should ever be in his power he would try to provide suburban homes and recreation for the people at a low cost. The result, in after years, was a famous resort near Los Angeles; another near Chicago, then Beachwood, and, still, later, Brown's Mills. These exacting efforts, however, undermined his health and he died at the early age of 55 years. Other speakers were A. D. Nickerson, who became acquainted with Mr. Mayo while at school in Massachusetts, and was afterward associated with him in laying out and developing Beachwood; Commissioner Charles H. Haring; R. E. Maxfield, treasurer of The New York Tribune: Ex-Judge James A. Butler, O. Frederick Rost, president of the Beachwood Property Owners' Association, and William Mill Butler. The latter offered a memorial tribute which was unanimously adopted and ordered to be sent to Mrs. Mayo and her family as the expression of the meeting. The addresses were interspersed with appropriate selections by a quartette consisting of Mrs. J. Oktavec, Mrs. Mildred T. Perrine Barton, Robert A. Decker, and Chester Zucker. The closing prayer was made by Rev. Father J. A. Linnane, of Toms River, who emphasized the beautiful thought that to be enshrined in the hearts of a community is not to die.

The organization of the Community Club was perfected by the enrollment of fifty members and the election of the following officers: President, Mayor J. H. Senior; vice-president, James A. Butler; secretary, Clinton H. Hoard; treasurer, Max De Rochemont.

A card party was given at Borough Hall, August 14th, for the benefit of St. Joseph's R. C. Church, Toms River, where quite a number of Beachwood families attend services.

The annual cake sale, at the club house, on Friday evening, August 13th, under the auspices of the Woman's Club, again proved a gratifying success. Mrs. William Mill Butler was in charge, and Commissioner C. H. Haring was the auctioneer, both being in bakers' costume. As usual there was a lot of merriment during the bidding. The highest bid for a cake was $12.50, by the auctioneer himself; O. Frederick Rost received one at $8.00, and Mr. Perelstrous another at $7.00. Altogether, $127.40 was realized for the benefit of civic improvements.

The bathing beach was crowded and popular, especially week-ends. The borough went to considerable expense to maintain the pier, settees, umbrellas and other conveniences, but it was rather disconcerting to see how outsiders abused these things.

At a meeting of the Rod and Gun Club, on August 14th, it was decided to build a concrete block house on the club's tract, instead of a log cabin, as at first proposed, as the logs taken to the place were destroyed by a fire. F. C. Jussen was elected secretary in place of Frank E. McCraigh, and J. J. Hoffman as treasurer in place of Harry Edwards, resigned.

The worst lightning and thunder storm in the recollection of the oldest inhabitant hereabouts broke loose on the afternoon of August 16th. The lightning struck Major Young's flagpole and sent the splinters flying; also several trees in various parts of the borough. Mayor Senior had a hammer knocked out of his hand.

The musical extravaganza, "A Dream Romance," in a prologue and three acts, was given at Borough Hall, August 20th and 21st, under the direction of the composer, J. E. Joy, of Lakewood, for the benefit of the Woman's Club's civic improvement fund. Beachwood home talent was fully equal to the occasion and two delightful evenings were enjoyed. The cast of characters included: Mother, Miss Ruth Collins; Child, Shirley Bruger; Towsee Mongalay, Mrs. Midred Perrine Barton; Richard Sharp, F. A. Zucker; Mandarin, J. Nienstadt: Chinese dancers. Miss Beatrice Levett and Robert Nickerson; Cabin boy, W. Robertson; Oriental dancer, Miss Ruth Collins; Sweethearts, Miss Betty McLoughlin and C. Zucker; Jazz girl, Miss Caroline Zucker; Count De Presadieux, D. McLaughlin; Betty Price, Miss Louise De Rochemont; Bobby Weldon, J. McLaughlin: Mrs. Price, Mrs. C. H. Hoard; Henry (black face), H. Oktavec; Dinah (also black face), Mrs. Ida M. Craig; Miss Chasem, Mrs. F. A. Zucker; Society dancers, Mrs. D. Ewart and A. A. Ward. Tourists, ship's passengers, crew, party guests, etc., were made up by Misses Caroline Zucker, Jessie Merritt, Helen Wisham, Daub, Urania Price, Edith Spencer, Dolores Mills, Beatrice Levett, Rosemary Butler, Rosalind Spencer, Emma Ziegler, Alma Zubrod, Helen Robinson and Mrs. Mullins; Beverly K. Robinson, Wainwright Wemple, William Robertson, George Perelstrous, Jack Merritt, Robert Wisham and Robert Nick-Miss Adele Senior assisted the composer as stage manager, and special scenery was painted by E. P. Knox, of Toms River. During an intermission, Saturday evening, Judge Butler collected $165 with which to buy the electric outfit for future theatricals. A theater for Beachwood was even hinted at.

On August 15th a meeting was held to consider plans for a real yacht club While, nominally, there was a Beachwood Yacht Club from the beginning, to which all lot owners were supposed to belong, without payment of dues, and while it had several commodores from time to time (B. F. Mayo, F. D. Keeler and Charles H. Haring), there was a gradual demand for a more active and distinctly functioning organization. At a second meeting, held August 28th, Dr. E. P. Robinson's scheme for many colored sails was approved, and the name Polyhue Yacht Club adopted. The first officers of the new club were: Commodore, F. M. Schermerhorn; vice-commodore, O. Frederick Rost; rear commodore,

C. H. Haring; secretary, Horace B. Wemple; treasurer, Barton F. Forsythe; directors, E. D. Collins, Major F. G. Young and Dr. E. P. Robinson.

The Ocean County farmers' picnic was again held in Beachwood, on August 28th. Although the crowd was large as usual, everybody was well behaved and welcome. The exhibits of prize vegetables attracted much attention.

A civil service examination was held at Toms River, on August 28th, for a postmaster at Beachwood to succeed Mrs. E. A. Smith, who had taken the position temporarily because Mr. Smith's plumbing business demanded all his time. The post office department stated that the receipts for the past year were $650, but Mrs. Smith pointed out that from this must be deducted the expenses of the office, fixtures and incidentals, even such small sundries as pens and ink which she had to furnish.

Dunn's Service was incorporated by Thomas Dunn, Gustave Kettner and John H. D. Grannis, with an authorized capital of $10,000, to do a general construction business in Beachwood. Among their first work was the grading of Harpoon Street, from Bayside Avenue to the water front, for Major F. G. Young, who had agreed to make this improvement at his expense when the borough granted him permission to build his underground garage in front of his house.

The children's annual masquerade, on September 1st, was, as usual, a big event for the little ones as well as for the grown-ups of Beachwood. The smaller children receiving prizes were: Junior Hunter, as a Chinaman; Foster Hunter, black cat; Janet Swanson, butterfly; Maud Manson, "Huckleberry Finn." The larger children to win prizes were: Eleanor Jacobs, pine girl; Sarah Plat, skating girl;

One of the Parking Spaces near the Beach

Helen Forsythe, snow girl; Janet Grossman, brown flower basket; Evelyn Henry, green flower basket. These received honorable mention: Dorothy Armstrong, as Mary Pickford in Suds; Althea Thain, farmer boy; Roland Carberry, milkman; Helen Busfind and Dorothy Ehlers, shepherd girls; John Oktavec, two-hour-day laborer; Madeline DeMiege, baby shepherdess; Donald Boyce, organ-grinder; Edward DeRochemont, country girl; Betty Jussen, Scotch girl; Joseph Hunter, white dog; Alice Staton, snow-ball girl; Muriel Smith, orange girl; Lily Kennedy, little oak leaves girl; Ethel Price, big oak leaves girl.

The annual masquerade for grown-ups at Borough Hall, Saturday evening, September 4th, was the closing social event of the season and attended by about 400 people. Through some oversight, a report of the event was not published in the papers.

Similarly, although some $175 had been collected for the occasion by a committee headed by Judge

Butler, and there was a very large attendance and participation in the Labor Day sports, the public prints were silent concerning the winners of the various events. Even the Echo said, "Such a list is not available."

The Sunday preceding Labor Day was, as usual, given up to a sacred concert and Borough Hall was filled to its capacity. The soloists were: Mrs. J. Oktavec, Mrs. Mildred Perrine Barton, Miss Bertha D. Knoke, O. Frederick Rost and J. H. Nienstadt.

The first shoot of the Beachwood Rod and Gun Club took place on Saturday, September 4th. Composition targets are sprung from the trap. We joined the club only on condition that we should never be obliged to shoot any of God's creatures. There were over 80 contestants in the first contest, among them several ladies.

At the annual meeting of the Woman's Club the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. William H. Talmage; first vice-president, Mrs. George D. Siffert; second vice-president, Mrs. J. Cyphers; secretary, Mrs. E. D. Collins; treasurer, Mrs. C. T. Ziegler.

The Beachwood Property Owners' Association elected its officers for 1920-21, as follows: President. O. Frederick Rost; vice-president, J. A. Spears; secretary, Clinton H. Hoard; treasurer, E. D. Collins; trustees, Dr. E. P. Robinson, F. O. Price, George F. Steinert, J. T. Holmes, F. W. Goodrich, William Mill Butler, M. L. Stimson and DeRochemont. Sufficient funds were voted to get out a special edition of the Beachwood Echo for distribution with the 1921 tax bills. The association, following up the example previously set, voted in favor of holding an annual dinner in or near New York City, and a committee was appointed to make the arrangements for 1921. A resolution was also adopted providing that the association should conduct a carnival and fair during 1921, for the purpose of raising the additional money necessary for the purchase of fire apparatus.

The first regatta of the new yacht club, was held on September 6th. In the power-boat race, final heat, B. J. Forsythe's Nautilus won over Mr. Godfrey's Ajax. In the sailboat class, H. R. Wemple's boat won over that of Mr. Godfrey, while Max DeRochemont came in third. It was decided by the club to have J. H. Perrine, the famous Barnegat boat builder, build a fleet of 15-foot sneakboxes, during the winter, for use in the races next season. Plans for a new yacht club house were also discussed and a building committee appointed consisting of E. D. Collins, Dr. E. P. Robinson, Dr. F. A. Zucker, B. J. Forsythe and Major F. G. Young.

Pending the appointment of another postmaster, Beachwood residents had to get their mail at Toms River again.

A fine painting of the Beachwood pines, on exhibition over the great fireplace in the Beachwood club house, was admired by all. It was from the brush of O. Frederick Rost.

The Federal census of 1920 gave Beachwood a population of 40, meaning the all-year-round population. There was another borough in Ocean County with a smaller permanent population—Mantoloking, with 37.

The work of building the concrete block club house of the Rod and Gun Club started on September 23rd.

Another civil service examination for postmaster, to fill the Beachwood vacancy, was set for October 8th, there having been no applicants so far.

Rev. and Mrs. M. L. Stimson sailed for China, where he was once engaged in missionary labors.

A suggestion that the part of the tract across the railroads should hereafter be known as Beachwood Heights met with popular approval.

A big Hallowe'en party was held at the club house, in charge of Mrs. J. H. Senior.

The Rod and Gun Club, now numbering over 80 members, had a house warming and celebrated its first anniversary on October 30th. There was a flag-raising, trapshooting and supper. The club house cost $846.42, and there was a balance still due of $220.24. Thanksgiving Day there was trapshooting, a turkey dinner and dancing.

On October 30th, at Elizabeth, N. J., Miss Wemple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Wemple, summer residents of Beachwood, was married to Russell Patton, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. A. D. Nickerson was made chairman of the Red Cross roll-call in Beachwood.

William Mill Butler purchased the water front elevation where the Beachwood and Pine Beach boundaries meet.

Howard Tice entered the business of selling horses at the Pine Beach stables.

The November election showed that 56 ballots were cast in Beachwood, forty for Warren G. Harding, Republican candidate for President.

Mrs. Annie H. Green, who had tried to conduct a general store in Beachwood, was, on November 26th, sentenced to six months in the county jail, after being convicted of selling liquor during the sum-Judge Jeffrey, in imposing sentence, declared that fines would not break up this kind of lawlessness. Mrs. Green took an appeal and her husband, Samuel N. Green, furnished a bond in the sum of $1,-000. In violating the liquor law the defendant also violated the provision contained in all Beachwood real estate deeds prohibiting the manufacture or sale of liquor here.

In December the township of Berkeley included in its budget an appropriation for a boulevard to run from Beachwood to Ocean Gate.

Beachwood residents were grieved to hear of the death of Albert Horton Williams, one of the early residents of the borough, who passed away in East Orange, N. J., on December 13th. Mr. Williams always took a deep interest in Beachwood, serving on its first borough council for several years. His health was affected by the untimely death of his beloved son, Albert H. Williams, Jr., eight months previously.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Nickerson entertained a number of friends and had a beautiful tree on Christmas Day. In the afternoon their son Robert played Santa Claus and distributed gifts.

Beachwood borough is the only municipality in the county which does not organize on January 1st, owing to its commission form of government. Its organization comes after the election in the fall.

The Rod and Gun Club held a "shoot" on New Year's Day, with two matches, the first of which was won by Edward Snyder and the second by F. C. Jussen.

F. W. Goodrich having resigned as borough assessor, Commissioner Charles H. Haring, who has charge of the department of finance, obtained clerical help and started to complete the assessment.

The first winter meeting of the Beachwood Woman's Club was held at the Robert Treat Hotel, Newark, on January 6th, with four tables of bridge, five tables of five hundred, and a number of members who preferred just to visit. Mrs. George D. Siffert had charge of the arrangements; and Mrs. William H. Talmage, president, and Mrs. E. C. Collins acted with her as hostesses.

A triple birthday was celebrated at the bungalow of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Lanning, January 6th. The party was given in honor of Mr. Lanning and of Mrs. Lanning's mother, Mrs. W. B. Singleton, and her aunt, Mrs. D. O. Parker. The house was beautifully decorated, the color scheme being blue.

The county engineer began surveying the route of the boulevard to connect Beachwood with Ocean Gate.

On January 12th at All Saints' Church, Leonia, N. J., occurred the wedding of Miss Flora Augusta Chickering to Nathan Trowbridge Pulsifer, president of the Valentine Varnish Company. The marriage was the culmination of a Beachwood romance, both bride and groom being among our summer residents and greatly esteemed by all.

Lieut. Joseph Clancy, having retired from the United States Navy, after thirty-two years' service, decided to settle in Beachwood. He bought the house of James Beggs on Forepeak avenue. Lieut. James McDonald, of the New York police force, also retired and settled here.

The board of commissioners, on January 28th, adopted a budget providing for $13,661 taxation for the fiscal year.

Mrs. William James Moore entertained the members of the Beachwood Woman's Club at her town home in Brooklyn, February 10th. Mrs. C. H. Hoard assisted Mrs. Moore in receiving.

William B. Brown, on February 11th, was appointed postmaster of Beachwood, relieving much anxiety for the coming season.

Sergeant Newell D. Yale, who was gassed and wounded in the war, faced a charge of selling a pint of whiskey to Edward E. Bonner on February 15th, but was allowed to go on his own bail pending trial.

Some 30 Beachwood ladies were entertained by Mrs. William Mill Butler at her home, 454 Fort Washington Avenue, New York, February 17th. Her sister, Mrs. Charles H. Washburne, of Rochester, N. Y., received with her.

The Beachwood Rod and Gun Club held another "shoot" on Washington's Birthday. The club at this time had 110 members.

Dr. Takameni, a Japanese scientist connected with the Rockfeller Institute, spent a week-end in Beachwood during February.

Postmaster William B. Brown, on March 1st, opened the post office in the Jersey Central railroad station, which, by the way, is not the property of the railroad company. So unwelcome was Beachwood in its eyes that it refused to provide an accommodation of this kind, claiming that this was only another wildcat land scheme such as had many times been witnessed in New Jersey. Mr. Mayo thereupon built his own railroad station. Since then the railroad management has acknowledged its error, but not to the extent of providing express or freight facilities.

Twenty-five members, and other invited guests, attended the March card party of the Beachwood Woman's Club, at the Hotel Washington, Newark, on March 10th. Green was the prevailing color. Mrs. O. F. Rost was in charge, assisted by Mrs. W. H. Talmage, Mrs. E. F. Parker and Mrs. B. J. Forsythe.

Newell D. Yale was tried on a charge of selling liquor and honorably acquitted by a jury, in Toms River, on March 22nd. It was testified that his accuser had worked on his sympathies on the plea of sickness, but Sergeant Yale had refused to accept pay for the liquor which he himself was allowed to have medicinally, owing to his wounded condition.

The annual winter dinners in New York enjoyed by residents of Beachwood, inaugurated by Mayor J. H. Senior in 1918, led to a formal borough day celebration this year under the direct auspices of the Property Owners' Association, at the Robert Treat Hotel, Newark, on Friday, April 1st. A dinner committee consisting of Clinton H. Hoard, chairman, E. D. Collins, George F. Steinert, Mrs. George D. Siffert and Mrs. O. F. Rost, had charge of the very successful affair, which was attended by about 200 persons. O. F. Rost, president of the Beachwood Property Owners' Association, was toastmaster, and after a fine dinner had been enjoyed addresses were made by W. C. Hope, general pas senger agent of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, Judge W. Howard Jeffrey, Mayor J. H. Senior and Mr. Rost. Mr. Hope stated publicly, as reported in The New York Tribune, that "Beachwood is one of the few places in southern New Jersey that have made good."

Rod and Gun Clubhouse, Beachwood Heights

He expressed his desire to do all in his power to bring about better transportation facilities. Judge Jeffrey, always the friend of Beachwood, dwelt on the progress of the borough which now had an assessed valuation of $850,000 and the lowest tax rate in southern New Jersev, being $2.82 as against $5.28 in some other municipalities. Mayor Senior said: "Beachwood is the finest place in the world and one of the few places where the commission form of government has been successful." He urged the property owners to establish their voting residence in Beachwood and take part in the elections. During the evening the christening of "Beachwood Heights" took place by Mrs. Frank O. Price, and it was agreed that the term "over the tracks" should no longer be applied to that section of the borough. There was also community singing and singing by the Stuvvesant male quartette. Cordes' dance band furnished the music for the terpsichorean exercises. One of the surprises of the evening was the presentation, to each one present, of a bronze paper weight, artistically designed and bearing the inscription: "Beachwood Property Owners' Association. First annual dinner, April 1, 1921. Robert Treat Hotel, Newark, N. J."

The Beachwood Rod and Gun Club's new officers were elected as follows: President, Frank W. Goodrich; vice-president, William E. Nolte; secretary, F. C. Jussen; treasurer, J. J. Hoffman.

George Arway was awarded the concession for restaurant, lodge and club house for three years.

At a meeting of the Beachwood Woman's Club, April 14th, at the home of Mrs. George D. Siffert in New York, Mrs. William T. Ropes, former president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, made an address on club helps. Plans for the big affair in August were discussed.

A. D. Nickerson and William Mill Butler were members of the Ocean County Grand Jury which concluded its labors in April.

The county board of freeholders decided to spend $8,000 on Spring-field Avenue, running from Beachwood to Pine Peach, the township of Berkeley to defray $2,000 of the amount.

Many of the bungalows are rented year after year to the same parties, showing that people are in love with Beachwood. Physicians send their patients here to recuperate.

On Friday morning, May 27th, the first installment of eight 15-foot racing boats arrived for the Polyhue Yacht Club, from the boat yard of J. H. Perrine at Barnegat. The boats made a unique appearance as they were towed up to the yacht club dock. The first races, on Memorial Day, were finished in the following order: 1. Gee Whizz, Dr. F. A. Zucker (Mr. Hall at tiller), light blue sail. 2. Red Wing, H. R. Wemple (himself at tiller), red sail. 3. Helen Irene, William Mill Butler (William Ashton Stephan at tiller), green sail. 4. The Vamp, Adele Senior (Wainright Wemple at tiller), lavender sail. 5. Lydia, B. J. Forsythe (E. D. Collins at tiller), pink sail. 6. Pompero II, Dr. E. P. Robinson (Beverly Robinson at tiller), orange sail. 7. Hoggle-Boggle, A. H. Garrigues (himself at tiller), dark blue sail. 8. Tweet-Tweet, Major Frank G. Young, U. S. A. (himself at tiller), yellow sail. sight of the many colored sails on the blue waters was a beautiful one. The course was a triangular one, starting at the club house and stretching on the first leg down to a point close to Pine Beach, opposite Money Island, where stake number two was anchored. last leg of the course was a straight run back to the club house.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year, at the Polyhue Yacht Club meeting on May 30th: Commodore, Dr. Edward P. Robinson; vice-commodore, Major F. G. Young; rear commodore, F. M. Schermerhorn; secretary, E. R. Wemple; treasurer, B. J. Forsythe; chairman of house committee, E. D. Collins.

The house committee of the Polyhue Yacht Club rented Borough Hall for Saturday evenings during the season, from June 11th to September 10th, with a view to regulating and looking after the dances. It was decided that admission should be by card, the cards to be issued to members of the club, residents of Beachwood and their friends. The Beachwood Woman's Club and the Beachwood Athletic Club were invited to have a representative of each to act with the Yacht Club house committee.

Henry C. Jagels, president of the Second National Bank of Hoboken; Mayor Merrill of Summit, and a large party paid Beachwood a week-end visit, on June 4th, arriving in twenty automobiles. They were hospitably cared for at the lodge and had a private dance at Borough Hall on Saturday evening. Sunday was spent on a trip down the bay on Mr. Jagel's large cabin cruiser, The Spindriff.

A new electric pressure pumping outfit was installed by the borough to replace the wooden tower and tank which collapsed in a storm. The new tank has a capacity of 1,600 gallons and the pump a capacity of 720 gallons per hour.

The trial of Lieut. S. A. Loveman, Lieut. James A. Lillie, Corporal Nelson Cowdrick and Corporal Harold Hyers, on charges of assault and battery and malicious mischief, growing out of the Ya'e case, was set for June 1st, and resulted in an acquittal.

Four generations were represented at a party given by Mrs. Henry S. Gamp, to her girlhood friends.

Among the visitors to Beachwood were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Young, of Young's Magazine, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanley, the latter a playwright and Broadway favorite. They were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Nickerson.

A forest fire which threatened Beachwood on the afternoon of June 20th was said to have been set at Pinewald by a Jersey Central train. The fire in Beachwood burned around several houses on Beachwood Heights, but thanks to a small army of fire-fighters, under direction of Fire Warden Joseph E. Abbott, and the Toms River fire company, the conflagration was extinguished without loss of life or property.

News was received from China that owing to Mrs. Stimson's health, she and her husband, Rev. M. L. Stimson, would start for home in June.

George Saxton, manager of the Peop'e's Palace, Jersey City, together with his wife, three sons and daughter, visited Beachwood, the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Norman L. Rowe.

The Polyhue Yacht Club had two races on the 4th of July. The morning race was what is known as a drifting match, in light, fluky winds with many calms. The boats finished in the following order: H. R. Wemple (red), B. J. Forsythe (pink), A. H. Garrigues (dark blue), Dr. F. A. Zucker (light blue), Major F. G. Young (yellow), Dr. E. P. Robinson (orange), William Mill Butler (green). Best time, Mr. Wemple, 1:42:15. In the afternoon the wind was still light but more steady. The finishes were: Forsythe, Wemple, Robinson, Senior, Garrigues, Butler, Young, Zucker, F. C. Jussen. Mr. Forsythe's time: 41 minutes, 29 seconds. The club decided to join the Barnegat Bay Yacht Racing Association.

J. Howard Perrine, of Barnegat, builder of the Polyhue racing fleet, and Mrs. Perrine were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Mill Butler, Bayside Avenue. Mr. Perrine had come to witness the 4th of July races. He declared himself delighted with the color scheme of the sails originated by Commodore Robinson.

The operatic concert given at Borough Hall, July 15th, by Justin Lawrie, tenor, and Fernando Guarneri, leading baritone of the San Carlo Opera Company, was much enjoyed by all who attended.

President Rost of the Property Owners' Association, in the July number of The Echo, urged his readers to say whether or not sufficient support would be forthcoming to warrant its publication in the future

Max DeRochemont, chairman, and Mrs. W. H. Talmage, vice-chairman of the fair committee, both being away from Beachwood much of the time this summer, the president of the Property Owners' Association, O. Frederick Rost, found most of the arrangements devolving upon him as ex-officio chairman of the whole committee.

Rev. N. C. Gause was the speaker of the Sunday evening meeting of the Beachwood Religious Association, Borough Hall, July 17th.

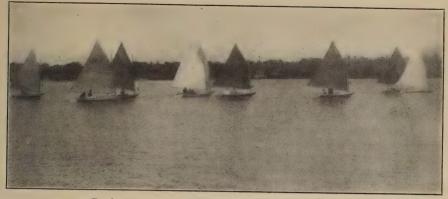

A number of Beachwood girls are expert horsewomen, and are often seen on a morning canter.

Members of the Beachwood Woman's Club formed a class in parliamentary law under the instruction of Miss Hilliard, of Barnegat boulevard.

The card club became busy in July and the porch meetings of the Woman's Club were also popular.

The first hollow tile bungalow in Beachwood, built by Prof. Frank O. Price on Beachwood Heights, is much admired. The first California bungalow in Beachwood, built from plans of a Los Angeles architect who won the Ladies' Home Journal prize, is that of William Mill Butler on Bayside Avenue.

The trap-shooting contest of the Rod and Gun Club, on July 23rd, caused some forty automobiles to gather at the club grounds on Beachwood Heights. The winners were: Class A, King, 48; Smith, 48. Class B, Clayton, 38; Harker,

Racing Fleet of the Polyhue Yacht Club in Action

38. Class C, Finley, 31; Costello, 23. Class D, Forsythe, 26; Collins, 20. A clam chowder supper was enjoyed by fifty people.

The members of the Polyhue Yacht Club presented their show, "Back to Minstrel Days," "Beachwood Brevities," and "Polyhue Follies," at Borough Hall, July 30th, with great success. Dr. F. A. Zucker was the interlocutor and the end men were: F. G. Young, E. D. Collins, B. J. Forsythe and D. J. McLaughlin. C. H. Hoard was director and R. B. Smith stage manager. This minstrel show proved that the Yacht Club has plenty of splendid talent among its membership

Another $3,000 in legal fees was asked for in July, in the Rhodenburg bankruptcy proceedings. As usual, in such cases, the lawyers are the chief beneficiaries. The claim that property of the concern was removed from Brown's Mills was met by the explanation that the material transferred was used in the construction of a house in Beachwood and turned over to the receiver.

Another race of the Polyhue Yacht Club, with more light and puffy wind, was finished as follows: Garrigues, Robinson, Wemple, Zucker, Butler, Young, Forsythe, Jussen. The club was incorporated and leased the old Beachwood Yacht club house as temporary quarters pending the erection of the new club house.

Rev. J. Dykema spoke at the services July 24th, and Rev. Roand S. Nichols, of Toms River, on July 31st.

The bungalow of Mrs. Marion W. Brashears, formerly a summer resident of Beachwood and now residing in California, was purchased this season by Mrs. Catherine Ruh. This bungalow was the first of several which Nickerson & Glenn built for B. C. Mayo as models for intending purchasers of lots, and was bought at the time by Mrs. Brashears.

A case of drowning was narrowly averted on July 25th, by the use of the boat kept at the bathing pier for life-saving purposes.

Mrs. Walter Scott Nobis was the delegate for New York at Cornell University, during the biennial convention of the Kappa Delta association.

William Broderick, pay officer in the Naval Reserve force, left for his annual cruise to Guantanamo Bay.

A speed trap was set in this borough on Sunday, July 31st, and resulted in a number of fines being imposed.

Mrs. B. J. Forsythe had charge of the very successful children's Wednesday dances during the season.

The leading event of the 1921 season was the Beachwood fair in aid of the fire apparatus fund. Borough hall was beautifully decorated with pine and oak and red, white and blue bunting and flags. Fifteen booths were arranged around the sides of the hall, with a five-foot aisle between the booths and the partition separating the main floor from the veranda. The chairmen in charge of the booths were:

1. Fancy work, executive committee, Mrs. G. D. Siffert, chairman.

2. Cake and bakery products, Mrs. William Mill Butler, assisted by B. A. Levett. 3. Candy and sweets, Mrs. B. J. Forsythe, assisted by Mrs. E. D. Collins, Mrs. E. P. Robinson and Miss Adele Senior. 4. Fish pond, Mrs. F. G. Young and Mrs. Philip Ortel. 5. Refreshments, Mrs. F. C. Jussen, assisted by Mrs. Staton, Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Bleecker, Mrs. J. A. Butler and Mrs. Burchell, 6. Tea room, Mrs. George W. Daumont, assisted by Mrs. John Carberry, 7. Fortune telling, Miss Payne as palmist and Mrs. Rose as card reader. 8. White elephant. Mrs. Leggett, assisted by Mrs. Keller, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Oktavec, Mrs. Pioselli, Mrs. Thain, Mrs. Wemple and Mrs. Widmaier. 9. Canned and package food, Frank O. Price, assisted by George D. Siffert. 10. Kitchen and household utensils, J. Oktavec, assisted by Mrs. Ida M. Craig. 11. Electric appliances, O. F. Rost, assisted by Nelson Bunn. 12. Pouchette, Dr. Richards. 13. Polyhue Yacht Club. 14. Beachwood Rod and Gun Club. Beachwood Athletic Association. The fair was opened promptly at 4 P. M. on Thursday, August 11th, by O. Frederick Rost, president of the Property Owners' Association. Max DeRochemont was general chairman of the fair committee and Mrs. George D. Siffert chairman of the booths in charge of the Wo-man's Club. The receipts from sales were $2,170.17; cash donations, $137; total, $2,307,17; expenses, $331,30, leaving a net result of $1,975.87. Of this, the sum of $1,645.99 was paid for the handsome four-wheel chemical fire engine, which was on exhibition during the fair, and which had been previously ordered by vote of the board of trustees of the Property Owners' Association and actually purchased by President Rost on his personal responsibility. After paying for the apparatus, there remained a cash balance of $329.88, according to a report made to the association on August 27th.

Rev. E. A. Francke conducted the services on Sunday, August 14th, and Rev. W. W. Payne, of Toms River, on August 21st.

The Yacht Club regatta on Saturday, August 20th, was won by Beverly Robinson with the orange colored sail. W. A. Stephan was second with the green sail (William Mill Butler's Helen Irene). It was one of the prettiest contests of the summer.

Mrs. William Mill Butler, who had charge of the annual cake sale for four years, broke her own record at the fair when the receipts reached $152.86. Her total in four years was $465.26.

The State authorities put a dust layer on that part of Atlantic City Boulevard running through the borough. This is all we get for some $6,000 or $7,000 taxes we pay the State each year. It ought to put in a concrete highway for us.

A wild rumor published in the local papers, that Pathé was going to establish a large moving picture studio, "on the point between Beachwood and Pine Beach," was probably caused by the taking of amateur moving pictures, with a Movette camera, by William Mill Butler, whose property is on the point in question. Further cause for the rumor was given by the presence in Beachwood of William Ashton Stephan, one of the members of Mr. Butler's staff in New York, who assisted in the taking of the pictures. On August 21st, the Beachwood fire department obligingly turned out and extinguished an imaginary fire in the club house, which was duly recorded by the camera.

The Albertype Company, of Brooklyn, put out a series of pretty colored postal cards of Beachwood scenery, including the Polyhue Yacht races, the bathing beach, Indian Spring, residences on Bayside Avenue, etc.

Labor Day ended the season as usual, as the children had to return to school. The celebration was another festive occasion. The land and water sports were again in charge of Commissioner C. H. Haring, assisted to some extent by members of the Athletic Association; and he received high praise and three cheers and a tiger in the evening at the Borough Hall meeting. The winners were as follows: Peanut scramble, boys, Fred C. Jussen, Jr.; peanut scramble, girls, Virginia Rynehart; peanut scramble, seniors, Mrs. Eva L. Powell; sack race, boys, William Kunze; sack race for girls, Norma Nearing; 100yard dash, final, Munn Craig; hoople race, fat men over 200 pounds, Winfield Scott Nobis; 50-yard dash, children under ten years, Warren Levett; three-legged race, mixed, Junior Wemple and Miss Garrison; three-legged race, girls, Miss Beatrice Levett and Miss Bettie Mc-Laughlin; three-legged race, go as you please, Miss Beatrice Levett and Miss Bettie McLaughlin; 50-yard swim, boys, Fred C. Jussen, Jr.; 50-yard swim, girls, Betty Jussen; diving contest, juniors, Edward Hayes; diving contest, seniors, Edward Sanders; diving contest, girls, Gypsy Garrison; canoe doubles, Alice Jussen and Caroline Zucker.

The end of the season celebration included the annual evening card party in charge of Mrs. B. A. Levett, assisted by many willing workers. Gentlemen as well as ladies participated in this event, the weekly card parties being for the ladies.

The sacred concert of the Religious Association, in Borough Hall, September 4th, had an attendance of 228 people and was very enjoyable. The soloists were: Robert A. Decker, Fred C. Baldwin, J. H. Nienstadt, and a quartet, composed of Misses Benedict and Zucker and Messrs. Smith and Decker, also sang. Miss Hilliard gave a recitation and O. Frederick Rost made an address.

Francis P. Butler, son of Judge Butler, rescued a young woman whose canoe had upset and kept her afloat until Robert Nickerson reached him with a boat. He then put the girl in the boat and swam ashore.

The annual election of officers of the Woman's Club, on September 1st, resulted as follows: President, Mrs. George D. Siffert; 1st vice-president, Mrs. J. H. Senior; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. A. D. Nickerson; secretary, Mrs. William H. Talmage; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. F. Parker; treasurer, Mrs. C. T. Ziegler. The retiring president, Mrs. Talmage, was given a rising vote of thanks.

Anita N. Busch, of Beachwood, covered 6,000 miles in the far south and west, during the summer, driving a Ford car all the way herself.

Mrs. St. Clair McElway, wife of the editor of The Brooklyn Daily Eagle, and her niece, Miss Foster, were the guests of Dr. Mary A. Line and Miss R. Brickell Holmes for a week-end in September and were greatly impressed with the natural beauty of Beachwood. A flying boat of the Aeromarine Airways, Inc., in charge of Pilot Delos Smith, who held the record for 20 hours and 10 minutes in the air with a navy airplane, began taking passengers in the air at Toms River and Beachwood on September 26th.

Beachwood movies were first given at the Yacht Club, on the evening of Saturday, September 10th, by William Mill Butler, assisted by William Ashton Stephan. There was a large attendance and the pictures showing animated scenes in the Beachwood yacht races, etc., were much applauded. An admission fee of 25 cents was charged and the proceeds turned over to the pines protection fund.

At a meeting of the borough commissioners, on September 24th, a petition was received from residents of Beachwood Heights asking for more improved streets, more street lights and better police protection. The petition was favorably received although it was explained that the blocks between Wave street and the water front, about oneeighth of the borough's total area, paid 51 per cent. of the taxes, and if improvements were first made in this area it was for the benefit of all the residents, as everybody goes to the water front.

Mrs. Ada Collins, State president of the King's Daughters, was among the visitors to Beachwood in September, being the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Norman L. Rowe.

One of the striking incidents of Labor Day was the formal presentation of the fire ring system and the fire apparatus to the borough by the Property Owners' Association. O. Frederick Rost, president of the latter, made the presentation speech, in front of the club house, and Mayor J. H. Senior responded for the borough. The suggestion for a volunteer fire department was made about this time.

In the fall Geoffrey G. Mayo, son and executor of the late B. C. Mayo, came from his home in Los Angeles, Cal., to settle his father's estate here and in Brown's Mills. He arranged with agents to sell the Mayo holdings in Beachwood, which included desirable lots between Atlantic City boulevard and the water front.

The Rod and Gun Club had a trap shooting event on October 30th, at which it was reported that the membership had reached 140.

Another interesting event, on Labor Day, was the final Yacht Club race for the season. After all the points were added up the judges announced the following results for 1921: 1, Red Wing, red sail, H. R. Wemple, 70 points. 2, Pampero II, orange, Dr. E. P. Robinson, 58 points. 3, Helen Irene, green, William Mill Butler, 56 points. 4, Hoggle-Boggle, dark blue, A. H. Garrigues, 51 points. 5, Gee Whizz. light blue, Dr. F. A. Zucker, 48 points. 6, Lydia, pink, B. J. Forsythe. 7, Vamp, lavender, J. H. Senior, 39 points. 8, Tweet-Tweet, yellow, Dr. F. G. Young, 36 points. 9, Comet, white, Mrs. C. H. Hoard, 10 points. 10, Polly, white, F. C. Jussen, 9 points.

At the fall election Gilbert Ebere and James McDonald were elected constables. There were 156 voters registered and over 50 per cent. voted.

Beachwood had 38 children at school in 1921.

On November 23rd, John Lovett, a young Beachwood boy, won the prize offered by M. L. Cranmer, of the Chevrolet Agency, Toms River, for the nearest guess as to the number of beans contained in a jar which held $3\frac{1}{2}$ pints. There were 1,028 beans and young Lovett guessed 1,008.

Mrs. E. D. Collins attended the exercises in Washington, D. C., in honor of the "Unknown soldier" and placed on his casket a wreath and helmet as the representative of the National League for Women's Service.

Following the Thanksgiving Day shoot of the Rod and Gun Club, a turkey supper was enjoyed by a large gathering.

Rev. and Mrs. Martin L. Stimson returned from their visit to Japan and China. In Japan they attended the World's Sunday School convention at Tokyo.

The State highway department made promises of a road building program which would include a concrete road in the near future from Adelphi through Lakewood, Toms River, Beachwood, Barnegat and Tuckerton to Atlantic City,

The Rod and Gun Club began the New Year with a trap shooting contest in which upwards of forty entered. The club house was also used by hunters during the winter season.

At the first winter meeting of the Woman's Club, held at the Hotel Astor, New York, on the afternoon of January 5th, Mrs. George D. Siffert, president, addressed the members and urged them to take an active part in the election for borough commissioners in May. Several members offered to open their homes in Beachwood for the accommodation of Mrs. Barton J. Forsythe was in charge of arrangements for the meeting, and Mrs. F. G. Young and Mrs. E. P. Robinson were hostesses. Bridge and other card games were played. There were 56 ladies present.

The borough commissioners, at their first meeting in January, put through the final passage of an ordinance for the purchase from the estate of B. C. Mayo, of lots 51 to 56, in block B-28, plot B B, map 7; also, for the purchase of a small triangular plot next to lot 56. This property constitutes the ground upon which the Jersey Central railroad station is located and which now belongs to the borough, together with the building. The tax ordinance for 1922 was given its final passage by the Commissioners on January 27th. The amount to be raised by taxes was $16,375.

Henry South, the vulcanizing expert, removed from Toms River to the Northern Beachwood line, on Atlantic City Boulevard, where he opened a workshop and gasoline station.

There were reports in the papers that Island Heights, Seaside Park and Bayhead would enter the 15-foot races with the Polyhues of Beachwood the coming summer.

The school board appropriated $2,000 for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mill Butler had a strenuous time, owing to the snow, moving their household effects to Beachwood from the apartment which they had occupied over nine years at 454 Fort Washington Avenue, New York. The first vanload arrived at their new garage on the Pine Beach line, to put goods in storage, on January 20th, and the second and third arrived five days later; but the fourth and fifth got caught in the snow which fell during the blizzard. One truck broke an axle four miles this side of Freehold. The other van got through, unloaded on February 1st, and returned for the contents of the crippled van which was in a farmer's yard guarded by him over night. From this time on Mr. Butler became the farthest down the line New York commuter on the New Jersey Central line.

Commissioner Charles H. Haring addressed the second winter meeting of the Woman's Club at the Washington restaurant, Newark, on February 2nd, his subject being: Civic Affairs in Beachwood, with a clear explanation of the budget and its appropriations.

One of the 15-foot sail boats, made so conspicuous by the Polyhue Yacht Club, was exhibited at the motor boat show in New York beginning February 17th, by the builder, J. Howard Perrine, of Barnegat. The beautiful orange sail of Commodore Robinson was displayed on the boat and The New York Herald stated that it drew the largest crowds on the opening night. Mr. Perrine also showed a photograph of the Polyhue fleet. Herreshoffs, famous builders of America's cup defenders, purchased the exhibited model, saying they did not see how Mr. Perrine could make so fine a boat for the price he asked.

The second annual Borough Day

dinner (and the fourth annual dinner of Beachwood residents) was held at the Hotel Astor, in New York, on Tuesday evening, March 7th. The announcement promised a first-class dinner, good entertainment, dancing (dress informal) at $3 per person, and it was wonderful what the dinner committee, of which Clinton H. Hoard was chairman, accomplished for this very reasonable sum. With him were associated O. Frederick Rost, Mrs. George D. Siffert and Mrs. Rost. In spite of a heavy rainstorm, all but five of those who had made reservations were present, and a large and representative gathering of Beachwood people attended. Grace was said by Rev. J. Dykema, of Red Bank, and after the dinner was enjoyed, O. Frederick Rost, president of the Property Owners' Association, who acted as toastmaster, introduced T. E. Maxfield, treasurer of The New York Tribune, as the first speaker of the evening. Mr. Maxfield, in the course of his remarks, referred to Bertram C. Mayo as the founder and father of Beachwood and the Tribune as its mother. The Tribune, he said, had no idea of the magnitude to which this child was to attain. Mayor Senior, the next speaker, announced that after serving terms aggregating nearly five years as mayor, he had decided to sever all his official connections in Beachwood and devote his limited time to the many pleasures which the borough affords. Commissioner Charles H. Haring, following Mr. Senior. explained in detail the problems confronting the collection of taxes: also the process of registering and voting by mail, and urged all to make Beachwood their voting place. Remarks were also made by Mrs. George D. Siffert, president of the Woman's club: E. D. Collins, chairman of the board of directors of the yacht club; F. C. Jussen, secretary of the Rod and Gun Club, and Mr. Rost, who urged those present to come together and hold an informal meeting to decide upon candidates for the May 9th election. Dancing wound up the evening's festivities.

At the meeting of the trustees of the Property Owners' Association, in New York, March 9th, the treasurer reported funds on hand as follows: Pines account, $63.43; fire protection fund, $686.56; dues account. $295.23. A motion was carried that the Borough commissioners enforce the ordinance relative to outsiders picknicking and parking automobiles, and it was also recommended that the free use of the bathing beach be restricted to residents and their families, and that outsiders be charged a proper fee. The commissioners were also requested, if found legal, to create a pine tree commission with power to act for the preservation and increase of the pines, and it was suggested that $300 for expenses might be included in the next budget.

The third winter meeting of the Woman's club was held at the Sherman Square Hotel, New York, on March 2nd. Mrs. B. A. Levett was chairman for the day assisted by the president, Mrs. George D. Siffert, and Mrs. F. O. Price. At the following meeting, March 16th, the coming election for commissioners was discussed.

Out of thirty townships and boroughs in Ocean County, Beachwood ranked ninth in the amount of assessed valuation in 1922, the figures for the borough being $857,963.31. The total valuation of Ocean County was $27,979,415.33. Only five townships and boroughs had a lower tax rate than Beachwood, whose rate was 3.4236.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Levett were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Mill Butler at the twenty-third annual dinner of the Society of the Genesee, Hotel Commodore, New York.

Frank J. Turner, borough clerk and marshal, resigned to take the three months' training course with the State police.

The Rod and Gun Club attracted a large attendance at its week-end shooting matches.

Subscriptions toward the engine fund of Toms River Fire Company,

No. 2, were received from a number of Beachwood residents as the company aimed to protect property in the outlying districts, including Beachwood.

In the course of an article headed, "Beachwood's wonderful growth in a few years," the Ocean County Leader, of Point Pleasant, said: "One of the most progressive yacht clubs along the coast, Beachwood Rod and Gun Club, municipal dance hall where weekly dances are held, tennis, horseback riding, bathing, boating and fishing go to make up the attractions of this resort which are continually drawing patrons and adding many beautiful homes."

In announcing his candidacy for the office of Commissioner, John J. Nolze stated that he had residence in the borough since May 8, 1920, which made him eligible. He asked "the support of those who wish a resident commissioner."

Miss Hattie W. Widmaier, daughter of Mrs. Freda Widmaier, a summer resident of Beachwood, was married on April 20th to Clifford Leeland Campbell, of Toms River. Another Beachwood romance.

A flaming meteor passed over this section on the night of Sunday, April 23rd, and exploded, somewhere out in the Atlantic Ocean, with a loud noise.

Henry S. Gamp, having added several more lots to his holdings on the corner of Barnegat Boulevard and Spring Street, started to improve and beautify the place.

As far back as 1922 the Ocean County Gas Company, which supplies Beachwood among others, promised to put in a gas purifier to relieve the residents from noxious smells which threatened the health and lives of the people. Where was the board of health?

meeting of the Woman's Club, at the Sherman Square Hotel, New York, May 4th. Mrs. Charles T. Ziegler and Mrs. B. J. Forsythe held highest scores at bridge, and Mrs. William Mill Butler and Mrs. D. J. Pioselli at 500.

Considerable excitement much bitter feeling was engendered by the election of Borough Commissioners, on May 9th, for the four ensuing years. Mayor J. H. Senior had positively declined to consider another term, although four years previously he was an open candidate for the office. Criticism of his political opponents irritated him so that he wished to resign before his term was out, but his friends restrained him from taking this step. At the May election there were four candidates in the field and only three could be elected. The total number of votes cast was 116; necessary for a majority, 59. George F. Middleton received 76, Edwin D. Collins 64, John J. Nolze 48 for first choice, 2 for second, 5 for third and 1 other, making 56 in all; Charles H. Haring 51 for first choice and 2 for Despite his declination, twenty-three, mostly members of the Woman's Club, voted for J. H.

Senior in order to defeat Commissioner Haring, who made no campaign for re-election. Messrs. Middleton, Collins and Nolze were declared elected.

Ex-mayor J. H. Senior sold his bungalow on Bayside Avenue to Arthur Hotaling of Hotaling News Agency, New York. Mr. Senior purchased a new residence on Long Island and decided to withdraw from Beachwood on account of his unpleasant experience in local politics.

The Scoble house on the Boulevard was renamed the Jack O' Lantern, as a stopping place for motor parties.

The Beachwood Property Owners' Association, at its own expense, printed a special illustrated edition of the Beachwood Echo for May, numbering 10,000 copies, and this edition was sent out with the 1922 tax bills. Twice before had the association placed at the disposal of the borough commissioners descriptive matter of Beachwood and its many advantages, with the result that taxpayers who had never visited the place felt impelled to do so, and new buildings and summer residents were added. For this good work O.

Mayor Edwin D. Collins

Commissioner George F. Middleton

Frederick Rost deserved special credit.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Edwards returned from their winter home in Florida.

Berkeley Township and Ocean County started work, in May, on the road connecting Beachwood, Pine Beach and Ocean Gate.

The Beachwood borough commission organized by making Edwin D. Collins mayor and director of the department of public safety; George F. Middleton director of revenue and finance, and John J. Nolze head of the department of streets and public improvements, parks and public property. Mrs. Ruth Opdyke was appointed borough clerk, Judge William Howard Jeffrey, borough counsel, and Addison D. Nickerson, collector of taxes.

Considerable activity in new building operations was noted in May and June.

on June 16th, to attend the National Homeopathic Convention, where Dr. Julia Holmes Smith, aunt of Miss Holmes, was the guest of honor. Later the two Beachwood summer residents went to the Pacific coast and at San Diego, Cal., called The Polyhue Yacht Club, which opened the racing season on Memorial Day, held a second race on Saturday, June 17th, the winner being the Helen Irene, William Mill Butler's green sail craft. Hoggle-Boggle (dark blue), A. H. Garrigues, was second; Red Wing, H. R. Wemple (red), third; Gee Whisz, F. A. Zucker (light blue), fourth; Tweet-Tweet, Commodore F. G. Young (yellow, fifth; Pampero II, Beverly K. Robinson (orange), sixth. The winning time was 40 minutes, one second, over a four-mile course. B. J. Forsythe, in the Lydia (pink), had the misfortune to capsize. The official scoring methods of the Barnegat Yacht Racing Association were adopted by the club.

Among the summer residents this year was J. Van Wickel, representative of the American Trading Company in the Orient, who, with his family, had returned to the United States after three years' sojourn in Shanghai, China.

Many Toms River people motor to Beachwood during the heated term, to enjoy the bathing on the beach which was used by them long before Beachwood was settled.

The Beachwood Volunteer Fire Company was organized on June 23rd, with the following officers: Chief, Mayor E. D. Collins; deputy chief, Capt. E. F. Parker; captain, Jacob J. Hoffman; foreman, John J. Nolze; secretary and treasurer, William B. Brown.

Lieut. James McDonald, late of the New York City police force, was appointed by Mayor Collins as captain of the Beachwood police, with instructions to organize the force, including reserves that would serve, like himself, without compensation.

The first dance of the season was held at Borough Hall, July 1st, by the Rod and Gun Club, the proceeds to be applied to the improvement of its grounds and the road leading to the club house.

In a letter received from Madam Schumann-Heinck by Collector A. D. Nickerson, in remitting her taxes, the great singer wrote: "It is our desire to retain our property in Beachwood and ultimately to build a cottage, where some day we may be able to spend the summer in Beachwood and enjoy its beauties and advantages."

Justin Lawrie and Fernando Guarnari, once more back in Beachwood after a successful season, gave a fine concert on July 3rd, at Borough Hall. Many were present from surrounding places.

A car, in which a party of New Yorkers were motoring to Atlantic City, was demolished by a train at the Beachwood crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad, June 26th. The occupants jumped and saved their lives.

The officers of the Polyhue Yacht Club for 1922 were elected as follows: Commodore, Major Frank H. Young; vice-commodore, Alfred H. Garrigues; secretary, Clinton H. Hoard; treasurer, Robert B. Smith; regatta committee: F. M. Schermerhorn, chairman; E. F. Parker, R. A. Decker, F. C. Jussen and Joseph Clancy.

On July 4th Mayor Collins was one of the passengers to go up in the hydroplane. The boat stood it well, as also did Mr. Collins.

The Fourth of July races of the Polyhue Yacht Club were won by H. R. Wemple's Red Wing, in 1:49:25. Other boats came in as follows: Tweet-Tweet, Commodore Young; Lydia, B. J. Forsythe; Helen Irene, W. M. Butler; Pampero II, B. K. Robinson; Hoggle-Boggle, A. H. Garrigues, and Gee Whizz, Dr. F. A. Zucker.

The Woman's Club gave its first card party of the season on July 6th, at the Yacht Club. Mrs. B. A. Levett was unanimously re-elected chairman of these parties.

Briggs, the Tribune cartoonist, took Mrs. H. P. Staton as a subject for one of his funny "Tedious Pastimes" pictures. She had waited some time for her new car. Mr. Briggs is an intimate friend of the Statons, and cartoonists often make use of their friends in the papers.

On July 7th, at a meeting of the fire company, Jacob J. Hoffman, John J. Nolze, and Chief of Police James McDonald, were appointed a committee to secure a Ford chassis upon which to mount the fire apparatus. Also to look for a site for a fire house. The chassis was soon promised by the Property Owners' Association which originally donated the apparatus, which was hand drawn.

Rev. R. S. Nichols, of Toms River, conducted the religious services, Sunday evening, July 9th, and Justin Laurie sang. Mrs. Mary Cash, of Winston-Salem, N. C., played the offertory.

Owing to reckless driving within the borough limits, the commissioners put up signs stating that the State speed laws will be strictly enforced. These permit twelve miles an hour in the borough.

Notice was given that campers in Beachwood must obtain permission and have their camps inspected by the local health authorities.

At the first meeting of the season of the Property Owners' Association, a communication was received from the new board of commissioners who were elected May 9th, suggesting that, instead of purchasing a separate hand-drawn fire apparatus for use in Beachwood Heights, a Ford truck chassis be placed at their disposal, and then the fire apparatus previously presented to the borough would be mounted upon the chassis at borough expense and made available for use in all parts of the borough. It was also promised that a volunteer fire department with fifty or more members would at all times be ready to respond to fire alarms. The trustees of the Property Owners' Association thereupon voted to purchase the chassis without delay and present it to the borough. E. D. Collins, treasurer, reported that upwards of 200 new applications for membership had been received, making over 800 on the roll. A committee consisting of C. H. Hoard and J. F. Holmes was appointed to make a drive for the bringing in of delinquent membership dues. It was reported by William Mill Butler that definite plans for the protection and increase of the pines would be submitted to the Borough commissioners and their cooperation invited. It was urgent to check the continued decrease of these trees, without which Beachwood would lose most of its peculiar charm and attractiveness. It was also urged that the commissioners put the street signs in first-class condition to enable visiting taxpayers to locate their lots.

As by a miracle, George Arway, Frank J. Turner (who was driving) and Mr. and Mrs. Justin Lawrie and their little son escaped injury when Mr. Arway's car was sideswiped, overturned and wrecked by a disabled truck at Waretown.

At a meeting of Beachwood Volunteer Fire Company, No. 1, July 14th, a total membership of 24 was reported. Also, $80 subscribed toward the company's equipment.

As in previous years, Beachwood adopted daylight saving time.

The salary of the borough clerk was increased from $100 to $200 per annum.

At a regular meeting of the commissioners the Beachwood Board of Health was created with the following members: Dr. Frank G. Young, Mrs. George D. Siffert and Dr. N. L. Rowe.

Beachwood was represented for the first time in a regatta away from home, at Mantoloking, on Saturday, July 22nd, where there were six clubs represented, Island Heights, Seaside Park, Lavallette, Bayhead, Mantoloking and the Polyhue. Twenty-seven out of the 35 entrants finished and among these were six from Beachwood, as follows: Hoggle-Boggle, Garrigues (dark blue), time 1:18:15; Lydia, Forsythe (pink); Red Wing, Wemple (red); Pampero II, Robinson (orange); Helen Irene, Butler (green), and Tweet-Tweet, Young (yellow). The winning boat was So Long, Thomas, Mantoloking, time 1:10:28. The Beachwood colors made a fine appearance.

The annual cake sale of the Woman's Club, at the club house on Saturday evening, July 29th, was a very enjoyable affair. Mrs. Ida M. Craig was the chairman in charge, assisted by Mrs. C. T. Ziegler, and there was also held in connection with the cake sale a sale of household and fancy articles in charge of Mrs. O. F. Rost, assisted by Mrs. George D. Siffert. There was no auctioning of cakes or other articles.

Rev. Leon R. Land was the speaker at the Sunday evening services, July 30th, and Justin Lawrie, assisted by Mrs. Lawrie, furnished beautiful music.

On Saturday evening, July 29th, Commodore F. G. Young and a number of ladies and gentlemen, members of the Polyhue Yacht Club, paid a visit to the Toms River Yacht Club and were hospitably received by Commodore and Mrs. Percy L. Grover and the Toms River club staff.

The subscriptions to the equipment fund of Volunteer Fire Company, No. 1, had reached $161 by August 1st. The amount required was $250.

The children's fancy dress party, under the auspices of the Woman's Club, August 2nd, proved a very pretty sight, at Borough Hall, and was in charge of Mrs. B. J. Forsythe. The children represented advertisements and the first prize was awarded to Ruth Godes as Aunt Jemima; second, Shirley Lowenhaupt as Jack-O'-Lantern; third, Henry Garrigues as Mazda Light; fourth, Paul Reese as Babbitt's Cleanser; fifth, Muriel Young as Polyhue Yacht Club.

Home of Frank W. Goodrich on Atlantic City Boulevard

Complaints were made concerning the attire, or lack of attire, of some of the bathers at the beach, and the aid of the commissioners and the Woman's Club was invoked.

An ordinance was passed to vacate Cliffside Way, from the easterly line of Larboard Street to the easterly line of the borough. Cliffside Way was originally laid out to provide an entrance to a number of lots which were later absorbed by the owner of surrounding property.

Despite threatening weather, Volunteer Fire Company, No. 1, had a fine dance at Borough Hall, Saturday evening, August 5th. Property owners all agreed that fire protection was necessary and declared that those willing to give their time to fight fire should be commended and encouraged.

Commodore Frank G. Young and his gallant Tweet-Tweet with her canary colored sail, brought home the trophy of victory to the Polyhue Yacht Club on Saturday, August 5th, having won the 15-foot class race at Lavallette from a fleet of 27, including boats from Island Heights, Seaside Park, Bayhead, Mantoloking and Lavallette. His time was 1:51:47. The rejoicing was general, especially so as the Beachwood yachtsmen were rather looked upon as amateurs by the old salts of Barnegat Bay. Other Beachwood boats which finished in the regatta were: Red Wing, Hoggle-Boggle, Helen Irene and Lydia.

In avoiding another car, a young son of ex-Judge James A. Butler ran his father's car into a telegraph pole and snapped the pole in two, on the shore road, near Island Heights, August 6th. Judge Butler, who was in the car, was badly cut about the head by broken glass.

Rev. L. M. Stimson was the speaker at the services on Sunday evening, August 6th, and gave a most interesting description of his missionary labors in China with Mrs. Stimson. J. H. Nienstadt sang and Mrs. John Vosburgh played.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Chase, of Beachwood Heights, entertained for Earl Christy, the artist, on the evening of August 3rd. During his stay Mr. Christy painted a picture of the Chase bungalow and presented it to Mrs. Chase.

One of the big events of the season was the Polyhue minstrel show given at Borough Hall, August 12th, for the benefit of the Yacht Club's building fund. The hall was packed and even standing room was at a premium. When the curtain went up about a dozen "undertakers" with high hats and solemn faces were discovered. Re-enforcements trooped in, in the shape of a half dozen "tramps," whose make-up evoked roars of laughter, and then Robert A. Decker, the interlocutor, started the fun. Others who took prominent parts were: Arthur J. Butler, Mayor E. D. Collins, Barton J. Forsythe, D. J. McLaughlin, Commodore Frank G. Young, Dr. F. A. Zucker, J. H. Nienstadt, Robert B. Smith, Chester Zucker, and the University Glee Club quartette. There was a beautiful tableau in the grand finale in which Miss Muriel Young represented Miss Polyhue. Great credit for the success of the entertainment was given to Clinton H. Hoard, manager and producer; Robert B. Smith, stage manager; Commodore and Mrs. Young and the various committees. The performance was repeated on August 19th, at Toms River, for the benefit of the Toms River Yacht Club, when heavy rain interfered with a large attendance.

The first marriage license in Beachwood was issued to P. H. W. Ross and Miss Florence Louise Kellett, whose wedding took place in the pretty bungalow of Miss M. Evelyn Miller on Barnegat Boulevard, the marriage ceremony being performed by Rev. W. W. Payne, of Toms River.

Rev. Van Dyke Conover, of Camden, a cousin of Mrs. F. C. Jussen, conducted the services on Sunday evening, August 13th. Mrs. Lowenhaupt sang two charming solos.

Mrs. Meda Terry Ogden, of West Flatbush, church soloist, member of the New York Press Club, and also of the Kings County Republican Club, and of the New York schools, was a summer resident on Atlantic City Bouleyard.

A summary of the audit made of the Borough's finances by William T. Newbury, was published in the New Jersey Courier of August 25th.

The annual meeting of the Property Owners' Association was largely attended at the club house on August 19th.

Twenty-footers and fifteen-footers were in the Bayhead Regatta on August 19th, and Island Heights won in three races, Garrigue's Hoggle-Boggle was third in the 15-foot class; Forsythe's Lydia sixth, Young's Tweet-Tweet tenth, and Wemple's Red Wing eleventh.

Visions of cheaper electricity vanished when Edmund B. Fritz, president of the Ocean County Electric Company, which proposed to build a dam at Toms River, was arrested at Lancaster, Pa., in August, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Rev. A. E. Francke, who, with his family, enjoys his vacation annually in Beachwood, led the Sunday evening services, August 20th.

Bids to carry 30 or more pupils to and from school at Toms River were asked by the board of education in August.

At the services, Borough Hall, Sunday, August 27th, trustees of the Religious Association were elected as follows: O. F. Rost, George D. Siffert and F. O. Price. George F. Middleton and Mr. Price were appointed a committee to obtain information regarding a chapel site.

At a regular meeting of the Woman's Club, August 30th, Mrs. Albertine Keller was appointed chairman of a committee to have the club incorporated. Mrs. E. F. Parker,

New Types of Two-story Houses on Barnegat Boulevard. One of these is the home of Engineer Hallaburton, of the Shenandoah from the improvement committee, reported that a large flower bed would be made near the station in the fall.

The children's annual masquerade on August 30th, was as good as ever and caused much amusement. The costumes were so well designed that the judges found it difficult to award the prizes, the winners being: Miss Shirley Lowenhaupt, Colonial Girl; Master Jack Nagel, Colonial Boy; Frank Young, Bunny; Miss Edith Clark, Scotch Girl; Jack Clark, Hawaiian Boy; Miss Muriel Smith, Douglas Fairbanks; Master A. Godes, Little Pullet. Again Mrs. B. J. Forsythe had charge and again deserved hearty congratulations.

The Woman's Club held its annual meeting at the Yacht Club, August 31st. Mrs. J. H. Senior, chairman of the building committee, reported the lease of six lots on Bayside Avenue and then an estimate for a club building had been received. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. George D. Siffert, re-elected; first vice-president, Mrs. E. D. Collins; second vice-president, Mrs. J. H. Senior; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles T. Ziegler.

On Friday evening, September 1st, occurred the annual card party for men and women under the auspices of the Woman's Club, Mrs. B. A. Levett was chairman, assisted by Mrs. E. D. Collins, Mrs. Dominick J. Pioselli, Mrs. George D. Siffert and Mrs. Frank G. Young, as hostesses. There was an attendance of over 100 and the decorations of cedar and pine and the varihued gowns of the ladies made it a most artistic and long to be remembered occasion. B. A. Levett announced the prize winners and caused much merriment by his witty remarks.

On Saturday morning, September 2nd, there was trap-shooting at the Rod and Gun Club. The final race of the season for the Commodore's cup, Polyhue Yacht Club, took place in the afternoon and was won by Horace R. Wemple with Red Wing (red sail), Major F. G. Young's Tweet-Tweet (yellow sail) was second, and Albert H. Gar-rigues Hoggle-Boggle (dark blue sail) was declared third.

The annual masquerade on the evening of Saturday, September 2nd, called out one of the largest crowds ever assembled at Borough Hall. The committee confined the prize contestants to home-made costumes and this accounted for the fact that there were not so many masked this year. The K. K. K. were in evidence, and aroused curiosity and amusement, as did also "Volunteer Fire Department, No. 2," made up of ladies masked and attired as firemen. The grand march began at 9.30, and after the unmasking there was dancing until midnight. The prizes were awarded as follows: For the most beautiful costume. Mrs. Frances Dooley; most original, Misses Dolores Mills and Caroline Zucker (a pair of dice); most grotesque, Mrs. Albertine Keller (colored mammy); best character portrayed, Walter Scott Nobis (Indian); best symbolical of Beachwood, Mrs. Walter Scott Nobis.

The sacred concert on Sunday evening, September 3rd, was largely attended and proved a most inspiring meeting. Soprano solos were sung by Mrs. H. J. Lowenhaupt, Miss Mary T. Thomas and Miss Bertha D. Knoke; tenor solos by J. C. Craig; bass solos by Wilfred Edge. Paul Jellenck rendered several fine piano selections and there was also a pleasing vocal selection by Chester Zucker and Walter Stuttiford. In the midst of the musical program O. Frederick Rost, chairman of the board of trustees, launched a campaign for a nonsectarian chapel building fund. Subscription cards were distributed to the congregation, the members of which entered into the proposition with the true Beachwood spirit, so that before the meeting closed in the neighborhood of $2,000 had been pledged in sums from $1 to $100. Besides this some fifty cards were taken home for consideration. with promises that they would be sent in by mail. Nor was the enthusiasm confined to money subscriptions. One of those present, who wished his name left secret, offered to purchase four lots and donate them for a chapel site; another offered to do the electrical work and supply materials free of charge; still another offered to draw the plans and specifications free of charge. A building contractor offered to erect the chapel, charging only actual cost of labor and materials, and to make no charge for the work of supervision. A special committee was appointed, consisting of Frank O. Price, chairman; George F. Middleton and Mrs. George D. Siffert, to meet with the board of trustees and decide upon plans for the building.

The championship race of 15-footers, at Seaside Park, on the morning of Labor Day, in which each club in the Barnegat Bay Yacht Racing Association had the privilege of entering its three leading craft, resulted in victory for Woof, owned by Mr. Truitt of the Island Heights Yacht Club. Out of fifteen boats which finished, two were from the Polyhue Yacht Club—H. R. Wemple's Red Wing, and Albert H. Garrigue's Hoggle-Boggle.

A new feature connected with the Labor Day celebration was the music furnished by Bond's band of Toms River, on the club house veranda in the morning, the vacht club veranda in the afternoon and Borough Hall in the evening. of course, Harry P. Staton; announcer, Clinton H. Hoard; judges, Mayor E. D. Collins, Thomas L. Kennedy, J. H. Senior, F. A. Zucker and E. Sander. The prizes were presented by President Rost of the Property Owners' Association at Borough Hall, in the evening.

Beachwood Volunteer Fire Department, No. 1, held a parade at 2 o'clock on Labor Day, headed by Mayor Collins and Captain James McDonald and a number of police reserves. The firemen were dressed in their new uniforms of dark blue trousers, shirts and caps, with badges on the front of the latter. Then came the newly-equipped automobile fire truck, manned by volunteers, and followed by an automobile driven by Mrs. B. A. Levett, in which rode Mrs. Wanda E. Lohr, the original agitator for fire protection, and Mrs. Albertine Keller and Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Richards, who had all assisted in getting up the first entertainment for the benefit of the fire protection fund, out of which grew the fair and final presentation to the Borough of the fire fighters' apparatus. Then, in the parade, came the wives of the firemen, dressed in white and wearing white cockade hats. parade came around the plaza to the club house where President Rost, on behalf of the Property Owners' Association, formally presented the Ford chassis, upon which the chemical engine was mounted, to the Borough, the engine, hand-drawn, having been presented the previous summer. Mayor Collins accepted the gift with appropriate remarks. In behalf of the committee on Labor Day games and sports, Mr. Rost also presented a siren to the fire company for the purpose of sounding alarms.

The annual farmers' picnic at Beachwood, on September 6th, brought the largest attendance and the largest number of prize vegetables, poultry, canning, sewing, etc., yet seen at any of these gatherings, there being fourteen classes of exhibits. It was sponsored by the Ocean County Board of Agriculture and all State and County organizations that were endeavoring to build up the farming interests. The day being very warm, the visitors enjoyed the bathing. Beachwood not being an agricultural district, no local exhibits were entered, although the summer residents were delighted to see the wonderful products shown. In one respect, however, Beachwood was ahead. A Beachwood baby, Richard Valentine Mee, 6½ months old, took the first prize at the baby show held in connection with the picnic. Mr. and Mrs. John R. Mee, of Beachwood Heights, were the proud parents.

In accordance with instructions from the mayor, Captain James McDonald, chief of police, appointed the following special police reserves, and they were duly sworn in and given badges before Labor Day: William B. Brown, William Mill Butler, Clinton H. Hoard, Fred C. Jussen, Edward J. Quinn, J. H. Payne, O. Frederick Rost, Harry P. Staton, Peter Ward and Major Frank G. Young. The reserves were to pay particular attention to speed violators and make arrests if found necessary.

Dr. and Mrs. John H. Richards returned from a motor trip in the south, covering 725 miles.

The house to house registration of voters began on September 12th, for the fall election. The primary election was on September 26th.

The members of the Woman's Club decided to continue their efforts in behalf of a separate club house. With its incorporation the club became an assured factor in the civic and social life of Beachwood.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mill Butler returned on October 3rd from a three weeks' western trip. While at Denver, Mr. Butler visited Pike's Peak and went up to the top, 14,109 feet above sea level.

On October 28th the Woman's Club gave an enjoyable Hallowe'en party at the club house and as a result nearly $30 was added to the building fund. Cards and other games were played and cider and doughnuts served. Among the amusements was a mock trial. Major F. G. Young was plaintiff; Harry P. Staton, defendant; O. Frederick Rost, judge; Ex-Judge James A. Butler, counsel for plaintiff, and B. A. Levett, counsel for defendant. The latter won the case.

Captain and Mrs. E. F. Parker entertained the members of the Woman's Club and their husbands on November 6th. Next day was general election day. Beachwood had no local candidates.

In order to purchase a site and erect a borough hall and fire house on Atlantic City Boulevard, near Beachwood Boulevard, the commissioners decided to issue temporary improvement bonds, to the amount of $6,500. Notice to bidders were issued November 29th.

The Rod and Gun Club celebrated Thanksgiving Day with a shoot, for which live turkeys, geese, ducks and chickens were offered as prizes.

A. W. Perelstrous, formerly of Beachwood and later of Brown's Mills, was indicted with Stephen Robinson, Jr., and Emmons J. Gardiner, of Philadelphia, on a charge of using $280,000 of stolen bonds as collateral at the Corn Exchange Bank. Mr. Perelstrous' attorney promised to satisfactorily explain his client's connection with the tranaction.

Stanley D. Brown, trustee for The New York Tribune, who made out the original deeds for all Beachwood lots, turned over to Tax Collector Nickerson a list of 300 persons who had never recorded their deeds. Mr. Nickerson communicated with the parties, with the result that many recorded their deeds, received their tax notices and paid their taxes.

The winter population of Beachwood consisted of 64 families in December, according to a count made by Postmaster Brown, and several more were expected to locate here soon. Among the year-round residents were quite a number from the Naval air station at Lakehurst.

Some fifty persons attended the Christmas prize shoot of the Rod and Gun Club. Not a Beachwoodite, however, took a prize.

The Double Trouble Company bought the cranberry bog on Jake's branch, at Beachwood.

Bids for the new fire house and borough hall were invited for January 27th.

The first winter meeting of the Woman's Club was held at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, January 11th. Mrs. George D. Siffert, president, addressed the club informally on the work of the coming season, and cards were played, as usual. The chairman was Mrs. B. A. Levett, and the hostesses were Mrs. Frank G. Young and Mrs. Frank O. Price. Meetings were to be held each month, the next one at the Sherman Square Hotel.

Dr. Andrew G. Slonaker, for six years a resident of Beachwood, died in a hospital at Camden, N. J., on January 9th. He had been ill for several months. He was formerly a dentist in Brooklyn, and at one time spent eight years practicing in Turkey, the Balkans and Italy. He was devoted to Beachwood and its interests and was elected a member of the board of education, March 18, 1919.

After a hearing before the commissioners on January 13th, the budget for 1923 was adopted. The amount to be raised by taxation was $16,007, as against $15,775 for 1922.

Residents of Beachwood, to the number of nearly 200, gathered in the Rose Room in the Hotel Astor of New York City, Saturday evening, February 24th, to attend the annual dinner and dance of the Beachwood Property Owners' Association. The dinner was served in the Astor's best style, while "Deacon" Johnson's colored dance band entertained with songs and lively music. The University Glee Quartette, composed of Messrs. Bergan, Craig, Cushman and Lundquist, rendered several selections which were greatly appreciated by the diners. President O. F. Rost, of the Property Owners' Association, as usual officiated in the capacity of toastmaster. He introduced as the first speaker, Mayor E. D. Collins, who delivered a brief but interesting annual message concerning the affairs of the Borough. He mentioned the new Borough Hall which was in process of erection and which also contained ample quarters for the volunteer fire department. He stated that steps were being taken to provide for a new crossing of the railroads to Beachwood Heights and also conveyed the gratifying news that Beachwood would soon have a recorder, a magistrate who would act in conjunction with the police department and see that the laws of the Borough would be enforced at all times. In behalf of the Polyhue Yacht Club, Commodore Frank G. Young told the diners of the activities of that splendid organization. Mrs. George D. Siffert, president of the Woman's Club, spoke of the plans of the proposed new club house and of the various civic improvements which the club had made. President Fred C. Jussen was called upon to say a few words concerning the Rod and Gun Club which he did, urging all those present who were fond of shooting to come and join. Mr. Rost, speaking for the Beachwood Religious Association, described the plans that were being formulated for the erection of a community chapel, undenominational in character, which would be ready for use by July. He also briefly touched upon the work of the Property Owners' Association. After the addresses the assembly adjourned to the reception room, while the dining-room was being cleared for the dancing which was kept up until midnight.

While the Pennsylvania Railroad threatened to discontinue railroad service to a few of the smaller summer resorts, no such attitude was assumed toward Beachwood, which is practically the only resort between Asbury Park and Atlantic City that can boast of two railroads. The Pennsylvania Railroad and Central Railroad of New Jersey cross at Beachwood station and both maintain regular service throughout the year from New York and Philadelphia to Beachwood.

The cornerstone of the new Borough Hall and Fire House was laid on Sunday afternoon, March 18th, in the presence of over 100 people from Beachwood and Toms River. The Star Spangled Banner was played by the American Legion Orchestra of Toms River during the raising of the flag and the Rev. R. S. Nichols of the same village offered prayer and delivered an address before the cornerstone was put in place. The stone bore the inscription, Borough Hall and Fire House. A copper box, donated by Frank Goodrich, was placed inside and contained a brief story of the Borough Government written by William Howard Jeffrey, the Borough Counsel, besides papers of various civic and social organizations which were read by Commissioner John J. Nolze, director of public property, before being sealed up. Mayor Edward D. Collins made an address in which he treated upon the high hopes and ambition of the present Borough Government for a greater Beechwood. Mrs. Wanda E. Lohr, as the original advocate of fire protection, was also called upon for a brief address. The new building is of concrete block with asbestos shingle roofing. It is 25 feet by 40 feet and two stories high. ground floor is for fire house purposes and the upper floor for the Borough Hall and accommodation of the Borough officials.

The Ocean County Tax Board reported Beachwood's assessed valuation at $843,890, which exceeds that of eleven of the sixteen Boroughs in Ocean County and is exceeded only by four. Beachwood's tax rate, it appeared, was lower than that of every other Borough excepting two, and as regards the towns, four have a higher assessed valuation than Beachwood and five have a lower tax rate. A great showing for Beachwood, the youngest of all.

Miss Mildred T. Perrine, of Rochester, N. Y., during her visit to Beachwood, sang in the Easter Service of Christ Episcopal Church in Toms River.

Work on the upper level of the new place of William Mill Butler on the dividing line between Beachwood and Pine Beach was finished early in April. The work had been going on for nearly two years in charge of Frank Gifford. Thousands of loads of black muck were drawn from the lagoon and spread over the grounds fronting on Bayside and Springfield Avenues to the depth of 8 inches, over this 3 inches of fine top soil, obtained near Toms River was spread, making an ideal lawn.

In the current Beachwood Echo appeared a review of the activities of Beachwood's civic and social organizations during the winter and an outline of some of their plans for summer of 1923, also a plan of the proposed Union Chapel of the Religious Association, 35 feet by 80 feet, and the main auditorium, 35 feet by 60 feet, providing seats for 250 persons. At the south end of the main auditorium was placed the library and reading room, which has a floor level of 2 feet above that of the auditorium.

O. Frederick Rost, chairman of the Board of Trustees, delivered an address descriptive of the efforts which had culminated in the very attractive house of worship.

The annual evening card party of the Woman's Club was a great success, socially and financially. The Auditorium (formerly old Borough Hall) was handsomely decorated, and bridge, 500, pinochle and pouchette were played. Mrs. B. A. Levett, as usual, was the chairman in charge, assisted by Mesdames Siffert, Collins, Ziegler, Pioselli, Rost, Price, Staton, J. A. Butler, Parker, Young, Talmage, Lowenhaupt, Hoard and Ortel.

The Woman's Club elected officers for the ensuing year as follows, on September 5th: President, Mrs. George D. Siffert; 1st vice-president, Mrs. E. D. Collins; 2nd vicepresident, Mrs. O. F. Rost; recording secretary, Mrs. F. O. Price; corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. G. Young; treasurer, Mrs. Charles T. Ziegler. Mrs. Siffert, being elected for the third term, was presented with a bouquet of flowers, on behalf of the members, by little Catherine Oriel, dressed as a fairy. The trustees elected were: Mrs. George F. Middleton, Mrs. W. H. Talmage, Mrs. A. Wolf, Mrs. John B. Carberry and Mrs. Joseph Oktavec.

The girls' choir of the chapel presented Mrs. Harry Lowenhaupt with a fern dish and bronze bookends as a mark of esteem for her work in organization and instruction.

Mrs. M. P. Bergen, of Nunda, N. Y., visiting her cousin, Mrs. William Mill Butler, was free from hay fever while in Beachwood during the summer, although a sufferer for years from this trouble. This confirmed the experience of many others in the pines.

Among the guests of Mrs. P. Broderick during Labor Day was Miss Beatrice Anderson, a well-known long-distance swimmer on the north shore of Long Island. As a little try-out, Miss Anderson swam to the Island Heights trestle and back.

The Labor Day exercises and festivities marked the end of the season, as usual, and were participated in by large crowds. For the annual masquerade and the land and water sports, the annual prizes were awarded, but we fail to find a published record. Perhaps those in possession of the information will favor us with it for the 1925 edition of the Directory.

Plans were under way at last for the long-talked-of new club house of the Polyhue Yacht Club. The site secured is on a point jutting out into the water at the west end the borough, on Brigantine Street, not far from the old boat shed in which the boats have been stored over winter. The view from the point down the bay to Island Heights and beyond is a fine one, so that the races each season can be viewed from the club house. The plans adopted call for a concrete structure, 34 by 72 feet, so arranged that it can be added to at any time. The building committee, consisting of Commodore E. P. Robinson, Vice-Commodore E. D. Collins and former Commodore Frank G. Young, reported about this time that $1,500 was subscribed toward the building fund and another $1,000 in sight. Road building to make the new club house accessible was begun.

O. Frederick Rost, president of the Beachwood Property Owners' Association and leading spirit in the erection of the new chapel, became a property owner also in Toms River this year, purchasing the large Brackenridge estate, extending from Washington Street to the water, and also a business building on Main Street.

On September 8th the following officers were elected for the ensuing year by the Polyhue Yacht Club: Commodore, E. P. Robinson; vice-commodore, E. D. Collins; rear-commodore, Alfred H. Garrigues; treasurer, H. P. Staton; secretary, Clinton H. Hoard; fleet captain, R. A. Decker. Mr. Decker, unable to be in Beachwood this season, resigned.

P. H. W. Ross, having resigned his position as president of the Marine League of America, of which he was the founder, became trade consultant to the city of Newark.

Beachwood, being under the commission form of government, had no local ticket to nominate in the primaries.

Weeks and John J. Nolze formed a partnership to be known as Goodrich, Weeks and Nolze, real estate and insurance.

Mrs. Frank J. Perry gave a surprise wedding shower and dinner at her home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Knowles. The house was prettily decorated and many useful gifts were received by the bride.

Postmaster William B. Brown intends to build a concrete block post-office and residence on Beachwood Boulevard, near the railroad station. The cellar was excavated this fall.

Mrs. Frieda Widmaier decided to become an all-year-round resident of Beachwood, on Ship Avenue. The number of those remaining here winter and summer is constantly increasing.

Between six and seven o'clock on Sunday morning, October 14th, the house of William H. Waters, former borough policeman, was burned to the ground. Mr. Waters had built a fire and gone into the yard to attend to some chores when he observed flames coming through the roof. He rescued his wife and two children by pulling them through their bedroom window. The house was built by Mayor Collins and was among the first in Beachwood, being erected when the place was still a venture and a few people were trying it out by building small bungalows. On October 18th Mr. Waters issued a card of thanks for help and kindness extended to him and his family in their trouble, saying: "It makes a fellow feel that he 'belongs' when a community rises en masse with offers of help in a sudden calamity."

Frank W. Goodrich, one of the new State fire wardens, attended a conference of these newly appointed officers at Toms River, October 22nd, 23rd and 24th. It was pointed out by C. P. Wilder, State Forester, that two million acres in New Jersey suitable for timber growing could be made to yield $5 in value per acre, and were it not for forest fires New Jersey might be producing its own timber instead of importing nine-tenths of it at a yearly cost of thirty or forty million dollars.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Schauer, of Beachwood, were in a Dort touring car, with four other young people, when it collided with a furniture van in Waretown early on the morning of November 1st. Mr. Schauer had several ribs broken and was otherwise injured, so that he had to remain in the hospital for some time.

Justin Lawrie sang several times at the two weeks of meetings held in the M. E. church in Toms River in October. Mr. Lawrie's next engagements were with Rev. Charles L. Goodell, of New York, at Waterbury, Conn., Portland, Me., and Wilmington, Del.

There was no excitement at the general election of November 6th. Beachwood voters voted at the new borough hall and fire house.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren T. Burnett, of Beachwood Boulevard, returned in November from an extensive Eastern trip, including leading cities in Maine. They visited several weeks with their relatives in Maine and New Jersey, and reported a most delightful time.

Among many other missives taken up for distribution, a letter of congratulation on the birth of a son to a nephew in Massachusetts, written by A. D. Nickerson, was dropped from the Shenandoah by Lieutenant Sheppard, U.S.N., while the airship was cruising over Boston. The incident was mentioned in the Boston papers.

A rumor was published in November that the New Jersey Utility Board had granted the borough permission for a crossing over the Jersey Central Railroad tracks, to match the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing just west of the railroad station, an improvement so long and sorely needed by the residents of Beachwood Heights. Their rejoicing was short-lived, because the Jersey Central refused to recognize the permission granted unless upon certain conditions, which the borough commissioners deemed impossible to accept.

An ordinance fixing the salary of the borough marshal at $1,200 per year and the salary of the borough clerk at $300 per year was passed on December 15th.

On December 17th the voters of the school district of Beachwood authorized the Board of Education to borrow $4,500 for the school year ending June 30, 1924. The object was to purchase a new school 'bus in which to transport pupils to Toms River and back. It is understood that 75 per cent of the outlay will be gradually returned to the borough by the State. The proposition was carried at the polls by 42 to 12.

Mrs. Middleton, wife of Commissioner George F. Middleton, lost her mother through death at Baltimore. The funeral took place on December 29th.

Bids for the concession privileges for the lodge, kitchen, dining-room, and bath-house for the seasons 1924 and 1925 were opened by the commissioners on December 29th. The concessions were subsequently awarded at $1,200 per year to Mrs. George Arway, who had worked so hard and faithfully during the long illness of her husband to serve the people of Beachwood and transient visitors.

To those who might wonder at the absence of mention during the season of any activities on the part of the Rod and Gun Club, it may be explained that vandalism and riotous proceedings on the part of outsiders at the club house in the woods caused it to be abandoned by the members of the club, who voted to have the building torn down and the concrete blocks donated to the Polyhue Yacht Club for its new club house. It is a pity that the law-abiding people of this borough should not be able to enjoy themselves in a rational manner without the infliction of rowdyism upon them. Perhaps a vigilance committee might do some good if the police are unable to cope with the disturbers.

The first winter meeting of the Woman's Club was held on January 3rd, at the Sherman Square Hotel in New York, which, by the way, has been for several years past the winter home of B. A. Levett and family. Forty-four were present at the meeting. Mrs. Levett was chairman and Mrs. F. O. Price assisted as hostess.

Another Beachwood baby was added to our population on January 4th, a daughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. C. Leeland Campbell. They named her Carolyn Mae.

The newly elected officers of the Beachwood Volunteer Fire Company, No. 1, are: Chief, Peter E. Ward; Deputy Chief, C. S. Coryell; Foreman, H. Russell; Assistant Foreman, John Polsan; President, Gilbert Ebere; Vice-President, W. T. Burnett; Recording Secretary, John H. Payne; Financial Secretary, C. L. Campbell; Treasurer, William B. Brown; Trustees, J. J. Nolze, F. W. Goodrich, Ray Staples.

Beachwood Firemen's Relief Association has elected these officers: President, John J. Nolze; Vice-President, Gilbert Ebere; Secretary, John H. Payne; Treasurer, C. S. Coryell; Collector, Peter E. Ward; Fire Police, W. B. Brown, F. W. Goodrich; Trustees, W. T. Burnett, H. Russell, Walter Godfrey.

The new school 'bus is a fine car, mounted on a two-and-a-half-ton Garford truck and capable of carrying forty to fifty children.

The Ocean County Gas Company of Toms River, which supplied Beachwood with gas, went into the hands of Judge M. L. Berry, as receiver, January 29th. The poisonous unfiltered gas which this concern has been sending through its mains should long ago have made the Board of Health interfere.

Among the first things promised by Judge Berry is a purifier.

A number of Beachwood girls formed a cooking club, to meet regularly at the home of Mrs. E. A.

George Parker, formerly of Ocean City, a brother of Captain E. F. Parker, decided to become a resident of Beachwood and build on the corner of Barnegat Boulevard and Spring Street. A party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Parker was given at the home of Captain Parker on February 8th, and attended by many residents of Beachwood. Among those present was Justin Lawrie, who delighted all present by singing a few songs.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Steinert, summer residents of Beachwood, lost a suit for $50,000 damages brought by them against George Tryon, of Newark, with whose car they came into collision at the junction of the Lakewood and Whitinsville roads. Mr. Tryon's defense was that Mr. Steinert's car was going at the rate of sixty miles an hour and that he could not, therefore, recover for the serious injuries which he sustained.

The road scraper was out on Sunday, February 10th, to clear away the snow.

A gravel road was made continuing Brigantine Street to the water, where the new yacht club house is to be built. A road was also started to run through the swamp from Beachwood Boulevard to the yacht club.

A card party for the benefit of the Beachwood Library Fund was given at the home of Mrs. William J. Moore, 141 St. James Place, Brooklyn, February 4th. Mrs. Clinton H. Hoard and Mrs. Moore were the hostesses. Thirty-six ladies were present.

Mrs. Harry P. Staton, assistant librarian and treasurer, and Mrs. E. F. Parker have had the library open in the chapel every Wednesday afternoon.

The library has been registered at Trenton and Washington. As soon as deemed advisable the State library will loan books permanently and furnish other works monthly by means of the circulation system.

Slowly but surely Beachwood is getting on the maps, but a curious mistake was found in the latest "Soil Survey" of New Jersey, issued by the government at Washington, in which Beachwood is assigned a place between Island Heights Junction and Good Luck Point on Barnegat Bay. Congressman Geran promised to have the error corrected.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Levett, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton H. Hoard and Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Rost were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Mill Butler at the twenty-fifth annual dinner of the Society of the Genesee, at the Hotel Commodore, New York, February 19th.

The bay was closed with ice three times during the winter.

The newly elected Board of Education organized with the following officers: President, Frank W. Goodrich (re-elected); first vice-president, Frank J. Perry; second vice-president, Peter E. Ward; district clerk, Howard F. Weeks. The board decided to hold meetings on the evening of the first Monday in each month and invited all citizens to attend.

A very enjoyable party was held at the fire house by the firemen and their wives on the evening of February 21st.

The Borough Commissioners planned to secure the land needed to make a circle park at the intersection of Beachwood Boulevard and Atlantic City Boulevard. The idea was first suggested by Dr. E. P. Robinson several years ago.

The volunteer fire department were called out on February 25th by a fire which caught in the chimney of Charles F. Houck's house. Toms River Company No. 2 also responded. The damage was slight.

A jolly crowd attended the birthday party of George Arway, Jr., on

The commissioners, on March

8th, considered an ordinance amending the building code so that it will be necessary to have a permit to build or make repairs, and to post the permit conspicuously.

The need of a better fire-alarm system was discussed. It is claimed that one switch operating the siren on the top of the fire house is insufficient. The system should be extended to different parts of the borough by wires run along the electric-light and telephone poles.

The building of new houses in the borough was brisk again this spring.

The fourth annual dinner of the Beachwood Property Owners' Association was held on Saturday evening, March 29th, at the Hotel Astor, New York, and was, as usual, a most successful and enjoyable affair. There were 150 guests present and every one of them was well pleased. After a delicious dinner had been partaken of, President O. Frederick Rost, acting as toastmaster, called upon Mayor E. D. Collins, who outlined the work of the past season and told of the plans for 1924. Commissioner William L. Dill, head of the State Motor Vehicle Department, was the next speaker and gave interesting and valuable information relating to the prevention of accidents. "Deacon" Johnson's colored comedy musicians furnished the music in their inimitable way, and one of the special features of the evening was the singing of Justin Lawrie, who was applauded to the echo. Great credit was due to the dinner committee, of which Clinton H. Hoard was chairman and O. F. Rost treasurer.

A shower was given for Mr. and Mrs. William H. Waters, on March 29th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund A. Smith, on Beachwood Boulevard. A dinner and dance added to the evening's enjoyment.

A spark from a New Jersey Central train ignited the grass along the tracks on April 8th, but Fire Warden Goodrich and J. J. Nolze got the fire under control before the high wind blowing from the west could carry it into Beachwood.

A Boy Scout troop has been organized in Beachwood and Borough Marshal Joseph Furrer is drilling and instructing them.

Much indignation was expressed at the meeting of the commissioners on April 19th at the attitude of the New Jersey Central in digging up the gravel which the borough filled in for the crossing at Ship Avenue. Several times the borough put the gravel back, only to find it taken away, so that the crossing could not be used—a kind of "off ag'in, on ag'in, gone ag'in, Finnegan" performance. The dog in the manger attitude of the railroad company, in the face of the permission granted the borough for the crossing (a permission recognized at once by the Pennsylvania Railroad on its nearby tracks), made the council decide to obtain an injunction if the obstructive tactics are not abandoned. This community cannot be bulldozed into paying for gates and flagmen at crossings. Do other boroughs or cities do so?

The sad news was received that J. H. Green, recently transferred from Lakehurst to the Great Lakes Naval Air Station, was killed on April 23rd when his seaplane fell from a height of 1,500 feet. Mr. and Mrs. Green built, and for some time occupied, the pretty bungalow on the corner of Lookout and Fore-peak.

At a meeting of the commissioners on Saturday evening, May 3rd, the ordinance to acquire title to the four corners at the intersection of Beachwood and Atlantic City Boulevards was passed unanimously on final reading, after several taxpayers were heard on the subject. This is a timely improvement which will provide for traffic safety when the State highway is concreted and Atlantic City Boulevard will be even a greater speedway than at present. The commissioners are to be commended in trying in advance, when the lots are unimproved and of reasonable value, to provide a safe plan for the control of cross traffic at this busy point. After considerable discussion, the commissioners also announced their decision to strictly enforce the dog law.

Jesse B. Robbins, son of S. Robbins, station agent of the Central Railroad of New Jersey at Toms River, is in charge of the ticket office at Beachwood this season.

The community was greatly shocked to learn of the sudden death, after an operation for appendicitis, of former Judge William Howard Jeffrey, Beachwood's borough counsel and staunch and true friend and adviser ever since the birth of this place. His untimely death, on May 15th, at the age of thirty-nine years, was deplored by all, and his funeral at the Methodist Episcopal Chruch in Toms River. on May 18th, was said to be the largest ever held in Ocean County. Two large floral pieces were sent by the borough government and mutely attested the love and esteem in which he was held in Beachwood.

Miss Mary C. Kearin, formerly of Beachwood, was married on June 1st to Ambrose F. Hagan, of New York

Decoration Day marks the opening of the season in Beachwood, and many of the summer residents come to spend the holiday. The leading event of the day this year was the laying of the cornerstone of the new yacht club house, which is being erected on the point on the water at Brigantine Street. At 11.30 a.m. all preparations were completed and members of the yacht club and friends gathered, in automobiles and on foot, to witness the ceremony. In the absence of Commodore Robinson, the vice-commodore, Mayor E. D. Collins, officiated. He was introduced by Major Frank G.

Major Frank G. Young's Attractive Bungalow on Bayside Avenue (side view)

Young, chairman of the building committee, who also made a few appropriate remarks after the Stars and Stripes had been hoisted over the cornerstone. Mayor Collins briefly touched upon the work of the building committee in making possible the new and handsome structure which is to house this leading social organization. praised the public spirit of the residents who were responding well to the canvass for funds and new memberships. The success of the project was assured, he said, if all who have not yet done so will join in the efforts made. The audience joined in singing "The Star-Spangled Banner."

BEACHWOOD DAYS SONG

(Air: "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes")
Dear Beachwood days, how lovingly
We drink this health to you:
Your golden seasons all too short,
Your summer months too few.
And yet we're thankful for them all,
And pray for many more;
So here's a health to Beachwood days,

When wintry days are o'er.
WILLIAM MILL BUTLER.

Dog Licenses

In 1922 the number of dog licenses issued in Beachwood was 27; in 1923, it was 43, and in 1924, to July 21st, 39.

Daylight Saving Time

Beachwood has officially adopted daylight saving time each year for a number of years past.

Restrictions in Beachwood Deeds

Every deed for real estate in Beachwood executed by Stanley D. Brown, trustee for Bertram C. Mayo and Amy G. Mayo, his wife, contains the following provision:

"Said party of the second part [the purchaser], by the acceptance of this deed, covenants and agrees, as a covenant running with the land hereby conveyed, that no intoxicating liquors of any nature or name, to be used as a beverage, shall ever be manufactured or sold on said premises, nor shall the said property or any part thereof be sold, rented or conveyed to any person of any race other than the Caucasian race."

Number of Building Permits Issued

No one is permitted to erect a building in Beachwood without authority from the borough commissioners. (See building ordinances.)

J. H. Payne, borough clerk, in answer to an inquiry, writes under date of June 3, 1924: "The records in my possession show that for the year 1919, building permits to the number of 22 were issued. For the year 1920, the number issued was 19; for 1921, 28; for 1922, 45; for 1923, 48, and to date, for 1924, 26 permits have been issued.

Every Taxpayer Should Read This

[A. D. Nickerson, collector of taxes for the Borough of Beachwood, upon request, prepared the following for the Directory]:

The method of assessing and collecting taxes in the borough is probably little understood and a brief explanation may be interesting. Taxes for any current year are made as of November 1st of the preceding year. Specially prepared books, in duplicate, are furnished to the assessor in November. If a property owner does not give the assessor a list of his property and its valuation, the assessor must use his best judgment and knowledge in determining values equitable to all. If a property owner is dissatisfied he may appeal, on blanks prepared for that purpose, to the county board of taxation, before June 15th, and must file a copy of his appeal with the borough clerk. Any voter is entitled to $100 exemption on his personal property; soldiers and sailors are entitled to $500 exemption, in the place where they maintain their legal residence.

By January 10th of the current year, the two assessment books must be delivered to the county board of taxation, together with the local budget as prepared by the borough commissioner, after a public hearing at which all taxpayers may appear and voice their approval or objection. To this budget the county board adds the State and county taxes, and the local school appropriation which is made by January or February of the current year. The approval of the local valuation by the county board is subject to the instructions of the State board of taxation. From the local total valuation, the State, county, local budget and school appropriation, the county board determine and fix the local rate of taxation. the borough has only a partial voice in the matter. The rate, in detail, is explained in the tax bills, the State and county taxes amounting to about two-thirds of the local taxes. In other words, the borough itself spends only about onethird of the taxes which it collects.

When the books have been approved they are returned to the assessor who computes the individual tax to be paid by each property owner and then delivers the completed assessments and taxes to be collected to the tax collector, about the middle of April. There are about 7,500 property owners in Beachwood, but mainly because some have never recorded their deeds, and because others have not furnished the collector with their present address, as well as for various other reasons, about 1,000 property owners cannot be reached. This leaves about 6,500 bills to be prepared and mailed as speedily as possible, as the law states that taxes are due April 1st and become delinquent With but one collector and June 1st. no provision for clerical assistance, it is impossible to have all of the 6,500 bills in the mail before the latter part of May. To the credit of Beachwood, its taxpayers are very prompt, from 200 to 500 letters being received daily thereafter until nearly all have paid. From the time the returns are received until the checks are banked and receipt mailed back, thirteen distinct operations are required for each tax bill. The collector is thus swamped with his work and necessarily gets much behind. This very fact increases his work as many write to him to know if their remittance has been received, and, if so, why a receipt has not been returned. A written reply is made to all such inquiries.

In April, 1922, when the present collector was appointed, a partially completed list of delinquents showed about 3,000 names of those who owed one or more year's taxes, from 1917 to date. This list has recently been completed by adding all delinquents for 1917, 1918 and 1919; and on the 1924 bills all delinquent taxes have been added and interest at 9 per cent. computed. About one-half of the property owners in 1922 were de-linquent. The collector has made an earnest attempt to collect all taxes, and as a result most of the delinquent taxes have been collected or accounted for by satisfactory evidence of prior payment. It is expected that, when the delinquents have been reduced to a minimum, a tax sale will be held. To have prepared for such a sale in 1922 or 1923, would have entailed a big expense on the borough.

The matter of paying poll tax, which most voters treat rather lightly, is a serious one. The law provides that every registered voter must pay a poll tax, and failure to do so gives the collector power and authority to seize the person of the delinquent and imprison him until such tax is paid. It is hoped this will not be necessary in Beachwood.

Let us all bear in mind that before the borough can use any of its tax money the large State and county taxes must first be remitted by it, and upon the whole assessed valuation, no matter whether taxpayers pay or are in arrears. It is important, therefore, that taxes be paid promptly.

Beachwood's share of the taxes, since it became a borough, are applied to improvements within its boundaries, instead of being collected by a township which had no special interest in us and spent the money where it pleased.

Taxpayers should be sure that their deeds are recorded in the county clerk's office, Toms River, in order that they may receive their tax bills.

All communications in reference to taxes should be addressed to "Tax Collector, Beachwood, N. J.," and not to the Borough Commissioners or Property Owners' Association.

New Jersey's Tax Rate for 1924 At Trenton, on May 8th, the State Board of Taxes and Assessment announced that the average tax rate in New Jersey for 1924 will be $3.671 per $100 of valuation, an increase of 11 cents over the 1923 rate and the highest on record.

In 1907 the "average rate" was $1.627. It then increased gradually until 1917, when it reached $2.34. In 1918, because of a decision by the Supreme Court striking out a new rate in Jersey City, the "average rate" went down to $2.29. Since that time it has mounted rapidly until the present year with $3.671.

Not only has the rate itself greatly advanced, but there has also been a tremendous increase in the total ratables of the State. For 1924, the ratables will amount to $4,504,047,295, an increase of $375,723,928 over the ratables for 1923. This is by far the largest increase in ratables that the State has ever had. With the increased rate and increased ratables, the total tax raised to meet municipal budgets for 1924 will be $165,-326,814.45, an increase of $18,307,686.98 over 1923. The amount raised for municipal budgets is also the largest that the municipalities of New Jersey have ever spent.

For the tax year of 1924, the State Board has been particularly active in forcing adequate assessments in many of the counties of the State. Many millions of dollars have been added to the ratables through the investigations and orders of the board.

Life Work of the Founder of Beachwood

Bertram Chapman Mayo, son of Noah and Eveline R. Mayo, was born March 23rd, 1865, in Boston, Massachusetts, in the shadow of the historic Old North Church.

He attended the public schools in the old North End until his eighth year, when, with his parents, he moved to the Back Bay District and was graduated from high school.

Giving up a contemplated course in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for the lure of his first business offer, he started in with the wholesale clothing house of Whitten, Burdette & Young at a salary of two dollars per week.

His ability as a salesman was soon evident and he was sent "on the road" with success, being called shortly to a larger field, increasing both territory and salary rapidly.

While in his early twenties, he had earned the enviable reputation of being one of the cleverest cloth-

Interior of the Club House which was built by Mr. Mayo as a social and recreation center ing salesmen taking a line out of New England. His keen love of competition and zest for making a goal led him to overtax his strength and he was obliged to forsake traveling and for a while tried to content himself in a less strenuous venture with a friend in Boston, Chafing from the mental and physical inactivity of the narrower field, he decided to try journalism as an outlet for his ideas in advertising and, accordingly, joined the publicity department of a chain of daily papers.

In this field he gradually worked west with California and its curative climate as his objective, and eventually was called to the circulation department of the Oakland Enquirer. In this capacity his genius and energy had full swing, and in a very short time the increase in the Enquirer's circulation proved the value of advertising in the daily, to the merchant and to the public.

Mr. Mayo soon became general manager of the Enquirer and at the time of the San Francisco fire and earthquake, the Enquirer issued the first extra and immediately established the first relief bureau where the distressed and separated were united and the homeless made comfortable.

It was about this time that premiums were popular with the daily papers and, among other things, the Enquirer made it possible through the coupon system for the family man to acquire his Saturday night box of candy by subscribing for the Daily Enquirer.

The response to the love of sweets was so instantaneous that Mr. Mayo induced the leading theatre manager of Oakland to present souvenirs of candy to the ladies on what are regarded as "off nights" in the profession and the box office pronounced it a success.

The idea of giving to the people a lot of land for an insignificant sum of money as a premium was conceived at this time through a jest.

Hoping to strike oil, Mr. Mayo with a business friend acquired a strip of land in the well-known "Red-woods" north of Oakland. Failing to produce a gusher, the beautiful forest land retrieved itself by proving a productive, restful fishing haunt for a group of congenial sportsmen.

It was after the return of a jolly party with their catch to an old camp in the woods, that Mr. Mayo and his dreams and schemes were made the butt of the chaff and jokes. "B. C.," said one, "you have fed candy to the children, given theatre tickets to the mothers and clocks to the fathers, if they will only buy your daily sheet; what next to add another figure to your circulation, a house and lot?" "Just that" came back the quick reply. "I'm going to give away these red monsters of mine for a premium." Retorts were drowned in a roar of derisive laughter.

Instantly, however, the possibility of the idea seized Mr. Mayo's fertile imagination, matured rapidly and the jest became a fact. He bought out his partner's interest, worked out every detail of financing that he might virtually give away his "red monsters" and thus through the Enquirer, "Casadero Woods," the smallest, yet the most beautiful of all his developments, was launched, for the trifling figure of $5.40 per lot.

Mr. Mayo undertook nothing unless he gave himself wholly to the project, thus it was not surprising after "Casadero Woods" was a reality, that he sought the milder climate of Los Angeles for a rest.

To a man of such productive energy, rest meant but a change of work. With an ideal of his future developments, his avowed life work, possessing him, he was soon casting about for acreage.

Thoroughly imbued with the idea of bringing recreation homes within the means of the mass of people, the young man with a family, and knowing the pitfalls of the average land development, he determined that the spot must be accessible to a large centre, healthfully located and possess natural beauty.

Resigning from the management of the Oakland Enquirer, Mr. Mayo had his heart set upon securing a certain tract in the beautiful canyon section of Beverly Glen, adjacent to Los Angeles. Seeking the owner, Smith by name, he found him to be sort of a rough-diamond character, about town, an ex-Klondike millionaire of inferior presence but keen mind, with large holdings in realty. Indifferent as to selling. he refused to parley on the first two approaches. At the third interview, Mr. Mayo unfolded his whole scheme, even his finished plans of financing the deal and dwelt on the tremendous benefits to all concerned. His enthusiasm and assurance so appealed to Mr. Smith, that he vielded, declaring Mr. Mayo was a crazy man and would make a failure. Full of confidence, the latter spent his last dollar buying acreage and options. Immediately the publicity heralded the price per lot and general plan, the unknown developer was branded as a fraud.

Local real estate men joined hands to hamper him in every conceivable way, prevailing on the banks to withhold credit, watching for technicalities on which to arrest him, in short giving him the hardest fight for existence he ever had. Determined not to be pushed to the wall, his dogged perserverance and ingenuity overcame all obstacles. Lots sold with a rush and option payments were met prompt-Smith's curiosity and doubts gave way to ardent faith and admiration and he announced publicly that he would back Mr. Mayo for any amount.

In the face of such prestige, hostilities ceased, credit was abundant and through the medium of the Sunset Magazine. Beverly Glen was populated, and is today connected with Los Angeles by trolley.

Two years later, "Lakewood," Michigan, was developed through the Chicago Evening Post. This was probably Mr. Mayo's largest venture, drawing on Chicago and environs for its colonists and is now a flourishing resort with hotel, department store, motion picture theatre and several miles of traction running through the property.

About three years later "Beachwood," a restful, healthful spot among the pines, an arm of Barnegat Bay, at Toms River, New Jersey, became a reality. The splendid comradeship that has obtained among the bungalow and lot owners was evident from the opening.

The efficient management and fostering and carrying on of Mr. Mayo's ideals, was a constant source of satisfaction to him and it was an open secret that of all his developments "Beachwood" was a sort of pet.

Then came "Brown's Mills in the Pines," an artistic bungalow colony easily accessible from Philadelphia, with every indication of becoming an all-year-round resort.

Each development had its own peculiar problems, its hardships and tangles, ere one was fairly launched, search had begun for acreage, with just the right requirements for the next. Before it was certain he could even buy the titles to a location that suited him, Mr. Mayo had gone over the whole tract and visualized his finished development. No architect, no landscape engineer, and no publicity expert was called in consultation. Mr. Mayo's was the master mind that conceived and planned and pushed to a successful finish every detail from the style and location of the club house and essential buildings down to the pins in the cushions on every dresser. It was his hobby that the improvements promised in his literature should not prove to be in a hazy, uncertain future, but all must be in readiness on opening day. The lot owner or prospective lot owner must find the cozy club house heady to make him feel at home, a gathering place where he could meet and mingle with his fellow-men. big, glowing hearth must fill his heart with a desire to linger, and its ever present message, Hearth Fire Burns for You," must convey to him a sense of possession.

Realizing too that if a man is to be thoroughly comfortable and at peace, he must also be fed-so-always there was an inviting, airy dining-room and a good dinner served at nominal price.

Little families might wish to revel in the freedom, close to nature, over a week-end, before the bungalow was ready, so also there was always a "Tent City," or comfortable Lodge ready to gather them in for a nominal rate.

In keeping with his desire to give the maximum of freedom, comfort and enjoyment to his people, the entire waterfront was always reserved for their playground. Intense interest in the welfare of his fellowmen kept Mr. Mayo at his chosen work, when many times the tremendous burden of details seemed overwhelming.

Keenly sensitive, preferring the background, kind, severe, thoughtful, critical, generous to a fault, he was an unusual combination of attributes that made him a geniusa man apart.

Old friendships were sacred and his personality will always live in the memories of those who knew him well.

"Beachwood Days Are Lovely"

(From the announcement of a trap-shooting tournament in Beachwood, June 13, 14, 1924, by J. Leonard Clark of Toms River.)

About ten years ago a tract of pine woods lying along the southern shore southeast of Toms River, was developed into a popular summer resort. This is the Borough of Beachwood, where salty air from Barnegat Bay mingles with the resinous fragrance of the pines; where the sandy beach offers a children's playground, and the gentle slope of the sand into the water a safe bathing place. The borough authorities have administered Beachwood's affairs with intelligence and few resorts are more comfortable.

On the clear, bright days which are usual in this vicinity, to breathe the sweet air of Beachwood, to watch the brightcolored sails on the blue waters, to smell the rich odors from the surrounding woods and hear the ripple of waves and the sigh of the trees, to feel the healing peace of water and woods, is to enjoy life to the full. Beachwood days are lovely the year round.

Beachwood Post Office

Beachwood Post Office was opened for business in the railroad station building, March 1, 1921, William B. Brown having been appointed postmaster on February 11, 1921, by A. S. Burleson, Postmaster-General. The postmaster was determined to make it a permanent institution for the betterment and growth of Beachwood.

There were twenty families resident in Beachwood the winter of 1921; the following year there was an increase to forty families; the next year the number had increased to seventy families, and the past winter of 1924, eighty-six families were resident, and many owners spent the holidays and week-ends here the holidays and week-ends here.

The growth of Beachwood is shown by the figures. In 1921 there were one hundred and ninety-seven bungalows, all but thirty-two of summer type. This year, 1924, there are two hundred and fifty-three bungalows, and all but eighty-four are all-year buildings.

The compensation of a postmaster of a fourth-class office is based on a percentage of the cancellations of out-going mail. It was necessary to secure the appointment of a resident tax-collector that the borough business would all pass through Beachwood Post Office. This was accomplished. Other civic changes and improvements were advocated, to the end that the substantial growth of Beachwood would give a more uniform return to the postmaster than the heavy summer business and the light winter business; this also was accomplished.

A fourth-class post office is maintained, equipped and operated entirely at the expense of the postmaster; a most exacting proposition, affording the least pay for the greatest amount of work and responsibility. The regulations require the postmaster to have an assistant, but no allowance is made for the payment of the service rendered. In addition to performing the duties of his office, he has been the information bureau, directing strangers where and how to find their friends or their lots; and, in the absence of the ticket agent, also supplying train time.

The records of the office for the forty months, March 1, 1921, to June 30, 1924, give the following figures:

Compensation$2,831.25
Sales 4.438.19
Cancellations 4.088.54
Box rents
Excess on Sales 9.84
1145 Money Orders 9,071.54
Fees 73.76
The profit to the Government:
Sales$1,252.58
Rents 85.94
Excess 9.84
Fees

The compensation of the Postmaster cannot exceed the sum of $250 in a quarter (three month period), which is equivalent to $83.33 per month, and that sum is only obtainable during the summer season, when the cancellations are $200 per month.

The Post Office is open every day in the year except Sunday from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 a.m., a ten-hour work day, with an additional two hours to perform the book-keeping, prepare remittances, requisitions, returns on C.O.D. and other things necessary to keep the office in proper working condition. In addition to the office routine the postmaster is required to haul the mail to and from the trains, although this is supposed to be done by the railroad.

The postal department has always been conducted "For service, not for profit." The postmaster can truthfully say that there is no profit to him.

Mails arrive twice a day, morning and afternoon, depart twice a day, morning and evening, subject to the time-tables of the railroad.

Beachwood Board of Health

(Extract from Ordinance finally adopted August

The Board of Commissioners of the Borough of Beachwood, in the County of

Ocean, do ordain:

1. There shall be in and for the Borough of Beachwood, in the County of Ocean, a Board of Health, in accordance with the provisions of the act of the legislature of the State of New Jersey, entitled "An Act to establish in this State boards of health and a bureau of vital statistics, and to define their respective powers and duties," approved March 31, 1887, and the several supplements thereto.

2. The said Board of Health shall consist of three members; and Norman L. Rowe, Frank G. Young and Bessie Siffert be and they are hereby appointed to constitute said Board of Health of this Borough. That Bessie Siffert shall hold office for the term of one year; that Frank G. Young shall hold office for the term of two years, and that Norman L. Rowe shall hold office for the term of three years. All members of said Board hereafter appointed, except when appointed to fill vacancies, shall hold office for the term of four years. Vacancies shall be filled for the unexpired term.

3. Said Board of Health shall adopt rules and regulations for its government, and shall elect a President from its members, and shall appoint a registrar of Vital Statistics, which officer, however, need not be a member of said board.

4. Said Board of Health may also appoint such other officers or assistants as said Board may deem necessary. All appointees of said Board of Health shall be governed by the rules of said Board, and they may be removed for cause by said Board. The marshals of said Borough, when on police duty, shall be sanitary inspectors, and they shall promptly report to the Board of Health every violation of the health ordinance of the Borough, which may come within their observation or knowledge.

5. The said Board of Health shall not contract any debt or debts of any kind beyond the amount of the appropriation made for its use by this Board of Commissioners.

 This ordinance shall take effect upon its passage and publication according to law.

Birdville

Have you ever paid a visit to Bird-ville?

It is situated between Beachwood and Toms River, off the bend of Atlantic City Boulevard, where the newly improved street leads to the Pennsylvania

Birdville is one of the quaintest and most unique places to be found anywhere. Here A. P. Greim, a master of his art, and a man of rare good taste, devotes himself to the pleasant task of manufacturing Rustic Cedar Bird Houses. The business is carried on in a combination of carpenter shop, residence and private chapel, known as Oratory Bethlehem.

Houses of many varieties and designs for the feathered tribe are turned out by the thousands, during the busy season, in one part of the very original and attractive one-story building. In a wing adjoining is the office and dwelling, and again adjoining this is a private chapel upon which Mr. Greim and his assistants have been lavishing a labor of love for several years, when other work was slack. In fact, they have not finished yet. Of very original design, built solidly of concrete, with arched roof and dome and many artistic niches and original decorations of tile, it is one of the sights of this region and already visited by many people. The whole thing is so finely conceived and carries such a restful and reverent air, that one is at once attracted and held fascinated. It would seem as if Mr. Greim and his fellow-workers belong to the distant age of cathedral builders-men who took a pleasure in their work of rearing memorials to

The bird houses annually turned out at Birdville find a ready sale in all parts of the country. They must be especially pleasing and comfortable to the songsters of this country because they come from so rarely beautiful and restful a place. We wish Mr. Greim and his assistant manager, Stanley Grover, every success in their endeavors.

4. Mrs. W. H. Talmage, 1919-1921.

5. Mrs. George D. Siffert, 1921-1924.

Extract from club minutes of August 31, 1916: "Charter members: Mrs. M. W. Brashears, Miss M. B. Cleveland, Mrs. E. B. Gantz, Miss Josephine Gantz, Miss R. B. Holmes, Mrs. P. S. Harmon, Dr. Mary A. Lines, Mrs. E. P. Robinson, Mrs. J. H. Senior, Mrs. W. H. Talmage. "Officers elected the first year: President, Mrs. M. W. Brashears; 1st Vice-President, Miss R. B. Holmes; 2d Vice-President, Mrs. Clinton H. Hoard; 3d Vice-President, Mrs. B. A. Levett; 4th Vice-President, Mrs. F. M. Vom Saal; 5th Vice-President, Mrs. A. D. Nickerson; Treasurer, Mrs. A. N. Busch; Secretary, Mrs. M. L. Williams."

The following members have served on the executive board of the club for Mrs. B. A. Levett, Mrs. C. H. Hoard, Mrs. E. F. Parker, Mrs. G. D. Siffert, Mrs. J. H. Senior, Mrs. G. D. Siffert, Mrs. W. H. Talmage, Mrs. C. T. Ziegler.

The newly founded colony of Beachwood, New Jersey (promoted by Bertram C. Mayo, a man in sympathy with the good that comes from living in the outof-doors), was fortunate in that women of far-sighted vision realized the importance of organization for the best development of the community.

In August, 1916, a meeting was held in the club house, at which a woman's club was duly organized and took over the social program for the colony and materially advanced borough improvements. A weekly social program was planned, in which a children's dance was held every Wednesday evening; a card party every Thursday afternoon; a concert, moonlight sail, cake sale or some form of entertainment, Friday evening, and a community dance on Saturday evening. These functions have continued until the present, with the exception of the Saturday night dance, which was discontinued under the patronage of the club during the summer of 1920.

It would take too long to dwell upon the affairs of the club in detail, but it seems just to enumerate what were the results of the club's civic accomplishments. In 1917 a flag and a piano were bought for the club house; a gravel walk was paid for, extending from the Boulevard to the Yacht Club, and $165.74 was donated to the American Red Cross.

The following season a flagpole and weather vane were donated to the borough. The women knitted squares for an Afghan for a soldier at the Lakewood Hospital; $50 was sent to the Lakewood Hospital for soldiers; groups of soldiers from the Lakehurst Experimental Camp were entertained every other Saturday; 112 comfort kits, 100 housewives and 15 pairs of socks were donated to the Red Cross; $25 was sent to a canteen in France and $50 donated toward a chocolate fund for soldiers in France.

A baby parade furnished an opportunity for all to show the prize children of the community.

In 1919 the boardwalk, extending from the Yacht Club to the Spring, was paid for, and the Yacht Club, Club House and Borough Hall were wired for electricity.

The next year an operetta, which gave the young people an opportunity to show their histrionic ability, was held for two nights, and a stage, stage properties, and lighting outfit were added to the club's assets.

During the winter a series of card and social meetings were held at one of the Newark or New York City hotels.

The year 1921 found the club ready to assist in buying a fire apparatus for the borough. Every week the members gathered at a porch party, where plans and work were perfected for the proposed fair, held under the auspices of the Property Owners' Association. The club had seven booths and a silver cup was awarded it by the president of the association for its splendid co-operation.

With the usual Beachwood pride to serve the borough to the advantage of the community, an efficient committee was appointed during the season of 1922-23 and an attractive flower-bed was planted at the station. This same committee has planned other flowerbeds near the station in order to make the approach to the colony more attractive every year.

In support of the excellent fire department organized during the year, the club voted $25 to Volunteer Fire Company No. 1 of Beachwood. The usual activities were held as in all previous years, with the same splendid support as formerly.

During the summer of 1923 the club gave its loyal support in establishing a public library for the residents of Beachwood for the entire year. More than 500 books were placed in the reading room of the chapel and contributions aggregating $100 were placed in the library fund.

We members took over the management of the club house and auditorium for the summer of 1924 in order to restore them to their former usefulness and helpfulness to the borough.

Mrs. George D. Siffert. President. Mrs. C. H. Hoard, Historian.

Officers elected at last annual election for the year 1924: President, Mrs. George D. Seiffert; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. E. D. Collins; 2d Vice-President, Mrs. O. F. Rost; Record-ing Secretary, Mrs. F. O. Price; Corre-sponding Secretary, Mrs. F. G. Young; Treasurer, Mrs. C. T. Ziegler.

THE BEACHWOOD LIBRARY

During her term as president of the Beachwood Woman's Club, Mrs. Henrietta K. Hoard (1917-1918) appointed a committee on circulating library and for three years ten of the members circulated books among themselves weekly. This was her first thought on the subject of a library for Beachwood, but she never could secure a place in which to keep the books until the chapel of the Religious Association was built. Mrs. Hoard explained her ideas to O. Frederick Rost, chairman of the board of trustees, and the latter voted the use of the reading room for a public library which should have no connection with any club.

Early in 1923 Mrs. Hoard, fully alive to her opportunity, invited a number of Beachwood women to her cottage and planned a "book day" for August 24th, and the event was most successful, many donations of books being received.

During the past winter Mrs. Hoard held a card party in Brooklyn which netted $50 for the library. And the result is that Beachwood has a public library, starting with 600 books, $100 in the bank, and library equipment worth

The library is registered at Trenton, N. J., and Washington, D. C., as the public library of Beachwood, with Mrs. Hoard as librarian. The trustees of the chapel have voted the use of the reading room for the library and Mrs. Hoard as librarian, and the borough commissioners have also given their recognition and approval. Mrs. Harry P. Staton is secretary and treasurer. Both Mrs. Staton and Mrs. Edwin F. Parker have faithfully opened the library every Wednesday to members desiring books and over ten families have taken out books regularly.

During the present summer Mrs. Askew, chairman of circulating libraries, Trenton, N. J., is expected here to organize a library association in accordance with State library rules. Whenever Beachwood is ready to accept the offer the State library will instal 100 books for circulation and send 50 books by parcel post every month for exchange.

Some day, when Beachwood is a city and her library and branches rival those of Carnegie, due recognition must come to the faithful and loving work of our pioneer women.

The Boy Scouts of Beachwood

Children who are allowed to grow up with the idea that they can take anything which does not happen, in their opinion, to belong to some one else, or that believe they can misuse and destroy things which are not watched every minute, will sooner or later come to grief. A more correct principle to instil unto their minds is that if a thing does not belong to you, you have no right to take it or destroy it no matter whether the owner is unknown. Though the thing itself might be considered unimportant the principle must be considered. Carelessness in small things leads to worse than carelessness in larger matters and, in many cases, to law-breaking and jail. The Boy Scout movement is intended to improve the minds of the younger generation, instil ideas of personal honor, responsibility and respect for law and the rights of others, as well as love of country. Thanks to the efforts of Borough Marshal Joseph Furrer, a troop of Boy Scouts has been organized in Beachwood. The picture reproduced herewith shows some of the members with their leader. On July 4th they had a parade and picnic. Mayor Collins presented them with a beautiful flag and made a brief address, followed by Commissioner Nolze, who donated the finest regulation troop flag obtainable. The picnic was a most enjoyab!e one and among the guests present were Rev. Mr. Wainwight and Superintendent of Schools Morris, of Toms River, and Assistant Scout Master Wooley. Officer Furrer and the boys wish to return thanks to all who helped him to make the new organization a success.

A Prophecy Concerning Beachwood

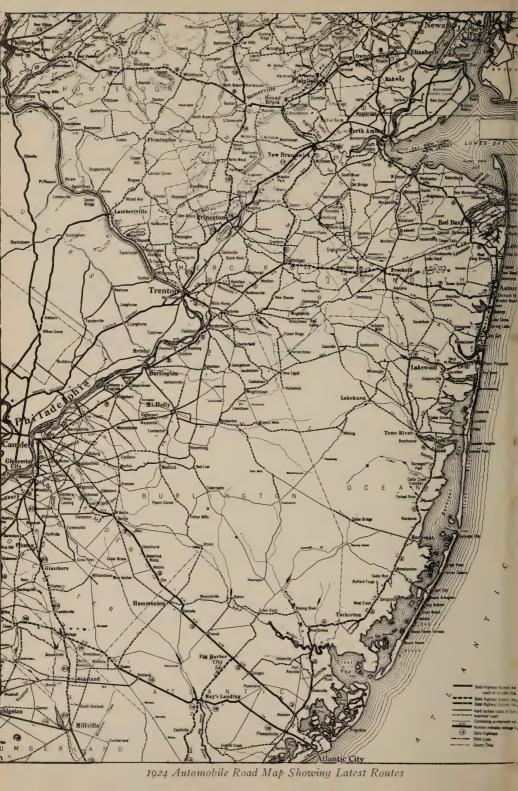

(From a brief sketch of the history of the Beachwood Borough Government, placed in the cornerstone of the new Borough Hall and Fire House.)

The compiler of this brief synopsis wishes to prophesy a prosperous and bright future for Beachwood as a summer resort. By 1933, he predicts, it will have attained the leadership among the summer resort towns of Ocean County. The Queen City of the Pines, with its balmy air, free from malaria, its shores kissed by the pure waters, and with its progressive citizenship, is destined to succeed.

WILLIAM HOWARD JEFFREY.

HOW TO REACH BEACHWOOD

Most of those who are tax-payers in Beachwood come from Northern New Jersey and greater New York. The reason is found in the fact that the discovery and development of Beachwood was a New York Tribune enterprise

In coming to Beachwood from the north, all should make Perth Amboy the objective point. Those leaving New York or Brooklyn have the choice of crossing the ferry and coming by way of Jersey City, Newark, Elizabeth, and Rahway to Perth Amboy, or taking the ferry from the New York side to St. George's, crossing Staten Island and reaching Perth Amboy that way.

As the map shows, from Perth Amboy motorists may proceed, via Morgan's Point, to Matawan, Freehold, Adelphia, Lakewood and Toms River, to Beachwood. This is the shortest route. Any one preferring a shore drive can cut across from Matawan to Red Bank, and then proceed by way of Eatontown, to Long Branch, Asbury Park, etc., down the coast. At Point Pleasant there is a good road back to the original route at Lakewood, or the motorist may, instead, keep right on down to Seaside Heights, where there is a bridge and road leading to Toms River and Beachwood. The shortest motor route to Philadelphia is by way of Lakehurst, Brown's Mills, and Mt. Holly.

By rail the shortest route from New York to Beachwood is by way of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, via Red Bank, Lakewood, Lakehurst and Toms River. The Pennsylvania Railroad affords a fine route by way of the shore resorts, but it is not so direct. This railroad is, however, the only direct route from Beachwood to Philadelphia. To go to Philadelphia by the Jersey Central you must first go to Lakehurst and there change to trains going to Atlantic City. In either case passengers must cross the ferry at Camden for Philadelphia.

Motorists, Obey the Law

The commissioners of Beachwood have notices on the principal streets stating that the speed laws will be strictly enforced. This means that 12 miles an hour should not be exceeded within the borough limits.

Least of all should residents of Beachwood be guilty of speeding here, and possibly adding to the death toll of 12,000 or more a year which afflicts the nation.

In case of continued infraction of the law, the borough authorities should conduct speed traps on Atlantic City Boulevard, Bayside Avenue, and other streets on which speed-maniacs take delight in endangering the lives of children and others.

The following special police reserves were appointed in 1922, duly sworn in and provided with badges: William B. Brown, William Mill Butler, Clinton H. Hoard, Fred C. Jussen, Edward J. Quinn, John H. Payne, O. Frederick Rost, Harry P. Staton, Peter E. Ward and Major Frank G. Young. These reserves were instructed to pay particular attention to speed law violations within the borough limits. For the first offense a printed card was to be handed to the speeder; after his name and number were taken. On the card was the following warning:

"Beachwood Police Traffic Regulations—The speed limit in Beachwood is 12 miles per hour as fixed by State law. YOU have exceeded this limit, and this is the FIRST WARNING. The next violation will subject you to arrest."

The question of curbing speed mania, which costs the United States over 12,000 lives a year, besides many times that number of crippled and injured, is one of the most important before the American people. Recently the editor of the Directory noticed a State highway official counting the number of automobiles passing the busiest corner in Toms River, and in conversation the officer expressed his conviction that the bloody trail on every highway would never be abated until a National law governing automobile traffic was enacted. He said such a law must not only regulate the speed of automobiles but make it impossible for them to exceed it, by employing a restrictive device in their mechanism. In other words, vehicles for general use of the streets and highways should be rendered unable, by some locking or regulating device, to go faster than the prescribed number of miles per hour. Something of this kind was done, we understand, with army trucks during the war.

This echoed the opinion of the editor, many times expressed in the past few years. We hope that others will give it thought.

To Our Readers

This being the first attempt to publish a Directory and Who's Who for Beachwood, there may be omissions and perhaps here and there an error. Please help us correct all such in the next edition.

Why a Dogs' Paradise?

What was Beachwood intended to be, a health resort for human beings or a paradise for dogs? We are sometimes tempted to ask this question when suddenly confronted by ugly brutes, apparently upon murder bent, roaming the streets at will, or jumping out from some bungalow, ferociously barking, unable to distinguish friend from foe. The dog nuisance has become so great that many women are afraid to walk the streets or call upon their neighbors, and children, going upon an errand, or to the post office, return almost sick with fright. Even when the animals are held in leash they are dangerous to life and limb, thoroughly irresponsible, implacable in their likes and dislikes, fighting among themselves, often snapping at and biting the very hands that would foolishly pet them.

Bertram C. Mayo put a provision into every deed conveying land in Beachwood which prohibits Negroes, Chinese and Japanese from ever owning or renting property here. And yet not one of these would run the streets threatening you with deadly assault and tearing your nerves to pieces with horrible noises. How wise it would have been to say that dogs as well as non-Caucasians should be prohibited here. If Mr. Mayo were alive to-day and could spend a few nights here and listen to the howlings of the four-footed tribe, late and early, he might come to this same conclusion.

There is no doubt that some dogs are intelligent, loving and harmless; as puppies they are a delight, but how soon they lose the innocence of puppyhood! The vast majority of all dogs are as dangerous as rattlesnakes, and their habits are disgusting and inimical to the morals of a community. They go about everywhere befouling the landscape and destroying plants and flowers.

There is no need for a horde of dogs in this borough. There is no need for them anywhere. The good they do, even their noble deeds in isolated cases, would be offset by a single case of hydrophobia which they are liable at any time to catch and inflict upon human beings, not to mention many other diseases they are liable to transmit to those who fondle them. Think of the unspeakable agonies which their poisonous teeth have caused.* Even the many Pasteur Institutes are powerless to eradicate this canine plague which man's thoughtlessness and greed fosters and perpetuates. Even as we write news comes from Weehawken, N. J., that citizens have been given per-

*During the first six months of 1924, in New Jersey alone, according to the State Department of Health, rabid dogs bit more than 125 persons. mission to shoot unmuzzled dogs at sight, one of the beasts having inflicted forty wounds upon a little girl. Many similar cases are constantly reported in the daily press. We have had strong and brave men in Beachwood tell us that they go armed with sticks and stones, because of the dogs whose bite they consider worse than that of a reptile.

We concede the fact that every person has a right to own a dog if he wants to do so, but he positively has no right to inflict him upon others or to maintain a nuisance upon his own premises. Nor has he a right to inflict cruelty upon the dog by keeping him closely confined. Then what is the remedy? The dogs themselves are really not to blame for being brought into life. Man is to blame. Dog fanciers, we suppose, must live. Kennels must make money. Pasteur Institutes must be encouraged and supported.

Some people have a fervent belief that dogs are necessary for their protection. This might be true if we were living in a country infested by bandits or in the underworld, but shall we in Beachwood be so distrustful of our neighbors that we must keep ferocious beasts to watch them? In that case abolish the law against carrying fire-arms and let every man revert to the savage state and be a law unto himself. And with amusing inconsistency every dog owner will assure you that his particular pet does not bite. If so, what good is he? It is a dog's business to bite. It is our business to abolish the biting nuisance or to reduce it to a minimum, permitting and licensing only such breeds as are known to be inoffensive and banishing all vicious, dangerous brutes.

Ah, but some people have no other friend and no one else to love but dogs. If they are the right kind of people and love really dwells in their hearts; if they must love something, why not try loving a child? There are more children than dogs yearning for kindness and affection, and poor, friendless children at that. The Great Teacher of mankind did not gather unto himself the mongrel or highbred curs of the neighborhood, but the toddling infant, the neglected child, the big-eyed wondering buds of man and womanhood, the hope of the future, and He said, "Suffer little children to come unto me." Many American women will do no suffering; they prefer bloodhounds and police dogs and chows and poodles.

As we have said, we have a right to our choice, but it is not always wise to insist upon all our rights. When we run the gauntlet of women's legs, crossed here and there in public conveyances, we often wonder what it would be like if everybody, men as well as women, insisted upon the right to sit cross-legged. Just so with dogs. If everybody in Beachwood insisted upon his right to own a dog, to say nothing of two or more, would not the most ardent dog worshipper eventually flee the place as a pest-hole? Then why encourage the breeding of animals which are unnecessary and a constant danger and needless expense? Each dog will eat more food than would keep alive a poor, starving child in the slums of our great cities. Think of that; abolish dogs and love and help the children.

Human beings are good enough for us.

PROCLAMATION CONCERNING DOGS

I, Edwin D. Collins, Mayor of the Borough of Beachwood, in the County of Ocean, by the advice and consent of the Board of Commissioners of said Borough, and by authority missioners of said Borough, and by authority of the statute, do issue this proclamation: WHEREAS, numerous pet and stray dogs are running at large in the Borough of Beachwood to the detriment of property and public health, and whereas, this nuisance should be abated; and whereas, the State law requires all dogs to be placed upon a leash, muzzled and licensed.

dogs to be placed upon a leash, muzzled and licensed;
NOW THEREFORE, I, Edwin D. Collins, Mayor of the Borough of Beachwood, do hereby proclaim that all dogs found running at large in this Borough will be impounded and to this end the sum of One Dollar will be paid for each dog so brought to the pounds, located at the Borough Garage, at Lookout and Spithead Streets. Any pet dog so impounded may be redeemed within 48 hours by its owner upon the payment of a fee of $2.00. I earnestly request each citizen to assist in the abatement of this nuisance. of this nuisance.

Given under my hand and seal of the Borough of Beachwood, in the County of Ocean, this 11th day of August, 1923.

EDWIN D. COLLINS,

Attest: JOHN H. PAYNE, Borough Clerk.

Borough of Beachwood Building Ordinance

An ordinance to regulate and control the construction, erection, alteration and repair of buildings and structures of every kind.

The Board of Commissioners of the Borough of Beachwood, in the County of Ocean, do ordain:

1. No person or persons, corporation or corporations, shall construct, erect, alter or repair any building or structure within the corporate limits of the Borough without having first applied for and obtained from the Board of Commissioners a permit in writing so to do.

Any such application for permit shall be in writing and signed by the applicant, or the duly authorized agent or agents of any such applicant, and shall designate the lot and block numbers whereupon it is proposed such improvements shall be made and a description of the work proposed to be done. In the event that a new building or structure is to be constructed or erected a copy of the plans and specifications shall be annexed to such application.

2. No such permits shall issue until the Board of Commissioners shall, by resolution, authorize the issuance of the same. Said permits shall be signed by the Borough Clerk and shall be under the seal of the Borough. The fee for any such permit shall be One Dollar, which said sum shall accompany any such application. Upon the issuance of such permit said sum shall be paid into the Borough Treasury. In the event that a permit is refused the said sum shall be immediately returned to the applicant.

3. It shall hereafter be unlawful to construct or erect any building or structure of any kind on the Beachwood Boulevard, between Atlantic City Boulevard and Central Way and Pennsylvania Way, or on the northerly side of Atlantic City Boulevard, between Lookout Street and the Pennsylvania Railroad, nearer than five (5) feet from the front or street line of the lot or plot of land upon which it is to be erected or constructed. No part of any such building or structure shall be nearer to the street line than five (5) feet.

4. It shall hereafter be unlawful to construct or erect any building or structure of any kind within the corporate limits of the Borough, except along those portions of Beachwood Boulevard and Atlantic City Boulevard set forth in the next preceding section, nearer than twenty (20) feet from the front or street line of the lot or plot of land upon which it is to be erected or constructed. No part of any such building or structure shall be nearer to the street line than twenty (20) feet.

5. It shall hereafter be unlawful to construct or erect any garage, privy, barn, stable or other outhouse or outbuilding whatsoever within the corporate limits of this Borough, nearer than fifty (50) feet from the street line of the lot or plot of land upon which it is to be constructed or erected; provided, however, that this section shall not apply to any public garage erected on Atlantic City Boulevard or Beachwood Boulevard between the points enumerated in Section 3 hereof.

6. It shall hereafter be unlawful to construct or erect any frame building within the corporate limits of this Borough of a greater height than thirty (30) feet above the level of the ground.

7. It shall hereafter be unlawful to construct or erect any building or structure for commercial or business use, in that portion of the Borough included within the following boundaries:

Beginning at the intersection of the Pennsylvania Railroad with the Central Railroad of New Jersey, thence in a northwesterly direction up the right of way of said Central Railroad to a point where the right of way of said Central Railroad intersects the northwesterly line of the Borough, thence in a northeasterly direction following said northwesterly line of the Borough to the Toms River, thence in a general southeasterly direction along the high-water line of Toms River to the southeasterly line of the Borough, thence in a southwesterly direction along the southeasterly line of the Borough to the northerly line of the right of way of the Pennsylvania Railroad, thence in a westerly direction along the northerly line of the right of way of the Pennsylvania Railroad to the place of beginning; provided, however, that this section shall not apply to lots or parcels of land fronting on the northerly side of Atlantic City Boulevard, between Lookout Street and the Pennsylvania Railroad, or on either side of Beachwood Boulevard between the Atlantic City Boulevard and Central Way and Pennsylvania Way.

It being the intention of this section to hereafter limit the construction or erection of buildings and structures within the area described, to buildings or structures for residential purposes and necessary private garages, barns, stables, outhouses or other outbuildings connected therewith and to prevent and make unlawful the further construction or erection of buildings or structures within said area, for commercial or business use, except on Atlantic City Boulevard and Beachwood Boulevard as aforesaid: provided, however, that this section shall not apply to lands within said area now owned by the Borough.

8. No building or structure heretofore erected within the area described in Section 7, except on those portions of Atlantic City Boulevard and Beachwood Boulevard as set forth therein, not now used for commercial or business use, shall hereafter be converted into or used for commercial or business use; provided, however, that this section shall not apply to lands within said area now owned by the Borough.

9. No building or structure hereafter constructed, erected, altered or repaired within said area, except on Beachwood Boulevard and Atlantic City Boulevard as set forth in Section 7, shall thereafter be converted into or used as a building or structure for commercial or business use; provided, however, that this section shall not apply to buildings or structures constructed, erected, altered or repaired within said area now owned by the Borough.

10. It shall hereafter be unlawful to erect or construct any outside privy or toilet, other than flush toilets, in that portion of the Borough lying between Bowline Street and Railroad Avenue from Bowline Street to the southeasterly line of the Borough and the Toms River.

11. It shall hereafter be unlawful, within the area described in Section 7 hereof, to use for commercial or business use any tent; provided, however, that this section shall not apply to lands within said area now owned by the Borough.

12. Hereafter, any application for a permit to construct, erect, alter or repair any building or structure, within the area described in Section 7 hereof, shall specify the use for which the proposed building or structure is to be used, and no permit for such construction, erection, alteration or repair shall be granted unless the same is so specified in any such application.

13. Any permit for the construction, erection, alteration or repair of any building or structure within the area described in Section 7, except on Atlantic City Boulevard and Beachwood Boulevard, as described therein, shall contain a clause or provision that the building or structure therein authorized to be constructed, erected, altered or repaired shall not thereafter be used for commercial or business use; provided, however, that this section shall not apply to lands within said area now owned by the Borough.

14. Any person or persons, corporation or corporations violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction therefor, forfeit and pay a fine of not more than Two Hundred Dollars. or be imprisoned in the County Jail for not more than thirty days. The Magistrate before whom any violator of this ordinance is convicted shall have power to impose any fine or term of imprisonment not exceeding the maximum fixed in this ordinance. In default of the payment of any fine imposed hereunder, any person convicted of the violation of this ordinance may, in the discretion of the Magistrate by whom convicted, be imprisoned in the County Jail for any term not exceeding thirty days.

15. In case for any reason any section or provision of this ordinance shall be questioned in any court and shall be held to be invalid, the same shall not affect any section or provision hereof except so far as the section or portion so declared invalid shall be inseparable from the remainder or any portion thereof.

16. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

17. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

The above ordinance was finally passed at a meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Borough of Beachwood, held November 12, 1921.

Frank J. Turner,
Borough Clerk.

AN ADDITIONAL BUILDING ORDINANCE

An Ordinance to further regulate and control the construction, erection, alteration and repair of buildings and structures of every kind.

The Board of Commissioners of the Borough of Beachwood, in the County of Ocean, DO ORDAIN:

1. No building permit shall hereafter be issued for the construction, erection, alteration or repair of any building or structure unless the same is to be erected on concrete piers or retaining walls of sufficient strength to carry anticipated loads to be imposed upon them, nor shall any such permit be issued unless all floor beams, rafters, studding and framing of any such building or structure is to be spaced and of sufficient strength to carry such loads as shall be imposed upon them.

2. The provisions of this ordinance shall be in addition to the provisions of prior ordinances regulating the construction of buildings.

3. This ordinance shall become effective immediately upon its passage and publication according to law.

The above ordinance was finally passed at a meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Borough of Beachwood, in the County of Ocean, State of New Jersey, held on September 29, 1923.

Beachwood Park Circle (Extract from an Ordinance finally adopted May 3, 1924)

An ordinance to provide for the widening of Beachwood Boulevard, at its intersection with Atlantic City Boulevard, and to lay out and make available to the public an open space to be known as Beachwood Park Circle; to acquire by purchase, gift or condemnation such lands necessary for said purposes and making the necessary appropriation therefor and authorizing the issuance of Temporary Improvement Bonds to meet such appropriation.

The Board of Commissioners of the Borough of Beachwood, in the County of

Ocean, do ordain:

1. That Beachwood Boulevard, on both sides of the intersection of the same with Atlantic City Boulevard, be widened, and that there be laid out and made available to the public an open space, to be known as Beachwood Park Circle, according to a plan prepared therefor by Arthur C. King, Civil Engineer and Surveyor, dated March 25, 1924, and heretofore approved by this Board of Commissioners and which said plain is designated "Plan of Proposed Beachwood Park Circle, Beachwood, N. J.," now on file with the Borough Clerk.

2. It is hereby determined to take and appropriate and acquire by purchase, gift or condemnation, for the purposes aforesaid, the following lots or parcels of lands in this Borough:

(a) Lots Twenty-five (25), Twenty-(26), Twenty-seven (27) sixTwenty-eight (28), in Block B29;

(b) Lots Twenty-seven (27), Twenty-eight (28), Twenty-nine (29) and Thirty (30), in Block D26; (c) Lots Twenty-nine (29), Thirty

(30), Thirty-one (31) and Thirty-two

(32), in Block B28;

(d) and Lots One (1), Two (2), Three (3) and Four (4), in Block D38, upon making compensation to the owner or owners, by purchase thereof at a price to be agreed upon, and if an agreement as to compensation cannot be made in any case by the payment of damages according to law, and to accept by deed of dedication such of said lands as may be dedicated by gift to the Borough by the owners thereof.

3. Said improvements are undertaken as general improvements and the damages resulting therefrom shall be awarded and paid, and the moneys necessary for that purpose and for compensation to the owner or owners where purchase is made shall be raised by general taxation. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars be and the same is hereby appropriated for the

4. For the purpose of meeting said appropriation and of temporarily financing said improvement, $5,000 Temporary Improvement Bonds shall be issued in pursuance of an act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey entitled, "An Act to authorize and regulate the issuance of bonds and other obligations and the incurring of indebtedness by county, city, borough, village, town, township or other municipality governed by an improvement commission," approved March 22, 1916, constituting Chapter 252, P. L. 1916, and the various acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto.

5. Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of not exceeding six per cent per annum and may from time to time be renewed. No bonds issued in pursuance of this ordinance shall mature more than six years from the date when the purpose for which they are issued has been carried out. Said bonds shall be executed by the Mayor and Director of Revenue and Finance, and attested by the Borough Clerk, under the seal of the Borough and shall recite that they are issued to temporarily finance the widening of Beachwood Boulevard, at its intersection with Atlantic City Boulevard, and to lay out and make available to the public an open space to be known as Beachwood Park Circle and to acquire by purchase, gift or condemnation such lands necessary for said purposes.

6. Said bonds shall be sold by the Director of Revenue and Finance and shall be in such form and shall mature in such time or times, subject to the provisions hereof, and all other matters in respect thereof shall be hereafter authorized and determined by appropriate resolutions and proceedings therefor.

7. Said bonds shall, at maturity, be paid out of the proceeds of funding bonds, or if not so paid a tax shall be levied and collected sufficient in amount to pay said bonds as they mature. In each year after the date of said bonds a tax shall be levied and collected sufficient in amount to pay the interest on said bonds.

8. This ordinance shall become effective upon its final passage and publication as

Is Modesty a Thing of the Past?

The world war brought with it many evils which ought to make the nations of the earth resolve never to engage in slaughter again without a referendum of the people who pay the cost. One of the evils is a shortage of men of marriageable age, some twenty million of the flower of the earth's manhood having been cut The natural reaction is a scramble for the article which has become scarcer, and this finds expression, unconsciously, in the behavior of the earth's female population. The wave of abnormality has reached this country, as well as the rest of the world, and nowhere is this more conspicuous than at the seashore resorts. It almost seems as if modesty were a thing of the past, and the shock to the community at large is a severe one, so much so that in many places the law against indecency is being invoked and arrests are being made.

The pendulum has swung very far, indeed, in the wrong direction. It depends upon the mothers of America to say when it shall swing back to normal again.

The Mosquito Question

One hundred thousand lineal feet of mosquito ditches were cut this spring and early summer on the meadows bordering Barnegat Bay, north of Toms River. The work was done by H. I. Eaton, of Atlantic City, at the rate of two and a half cents per foot. This is the same rate paid last year for similar contracts. The ditches are a foot, two feet or three feet deep, according to the location, and twenty inches wide. The work is supplemental to ditching done some years ago.

As in all other summer resorts, we have mosquitoes, but they are not malarial or disease carrying, and sometimes days and even weeks will pass without annoyance from them. We cannot help thinking if our government would really determine to rid the state of mosquitoes and devote to the work something like it cheerfully spends for war and its blasting consequences, New Jersey would soon be made a seashore paradise.

BEACHWOOD DAYS*

I'll sing you no ambitious lays
Of war and war's a'arms;
My song shall be of Beachwood days
And Beachwood's many charms.

Thrice now has the diurnal orb Described the rounded year, Since first fair Beachwood did absorb The flying seasons here.

It seems but yesterday, indeed, Like twinkling eyes a few; Since here our pioneers decreed A budding life-place new.

All hail to him who broke the ground And with a wizard's touch Made inn and lodge and club abound— The shelters needed much:

Who decked the beach with comforts

With seats and hammocks, too; Who built the little bowers where Romance could bill and coo;

Whose rustic fences spanned the height By silver-powdered walks. Where, in the sunshine, pure and bright, Resound our laughs and talks.

The pine-wood's dormant days were o'er When Mayo came to plan; He placed a crown upon this shore, This new Aladdin man.

But come, let us salute him now, In all his modest worth, Then on the yellow hilltop's brow Revert to mother earth.

Come tread th' awak'ning turf with me, Where high banks kiss the bay; The sweet arbutus trailing see— The laurel's blossomed spray.

Springtime in Eden never gave
A rarer fair delight;
The gladsome pine and dancing wave
Acclaim the winsome sight.

The mosses from their winter nap,
The scrub-oak and the vine;
The cedar with its nodding cap,
All lovingly entwine.

The balmy breezes from the blue, Where roll and swash the waves, Invigorate our lungs anew— Oh, happy city slaves!

*Written in 1917. First edition published in 1918; second edition in 1920; third edition, herewith.

And some there are who love the sands
Upon thy shores so fair,

Who stoop with eager, busy hands
To pick thy pebbles rare;

While 'mid the reeds of Barnegat
The wild-fowl sport and play—
Ye cawing crows, ye fish-hawks scat!
And do not spoil our day!

Dear to our hearts the blue-jay shrill, The Bob White's spoken song; The brown thrush, and the whippoorwill When twilight creeps along.

But, hark! yon strangely vibrant pool With clarion notes is filled; Our frogs at evening singing-school Hold ev'ry hearer thrilled.

Pan's pipe itself could not surprise Us more in marsh or bogs Than the odd ah-ha's which arise From the assembled frogs.

Aye, let them sing, till soon adrowse, Our sleeping-porch within, We dream of softly moohing cows With faces all agrin;

We dream of coming masquerades, Of cavemen and of clowns; Of mandarins, Scheherezades, And red-faced imps with frowns—

The cottontails now hop—
And nibbling deer and gentle fawn—
To taste our garden crop.

But what of that! To see them skip Make joyous living here;
We prize the boon companionship
Of rabbit, squirrel and deer.
The scenes before our eyes;
Now Spring in Summer's sweet embrace,
'Mid lingering perfume, dies.

And Summer reigns in sweltering mood; July and August bring The regulation Jersey brood, With here and there a sting.

But what of that! When, with a cheer, We splash in cooling swirls, And lead a life aquatic here, With lovely summer girls.

Meantime the earth, well tilled, brings forth,

And gardens bloom and glow; Each tiller finds new pleasure, worth His perspiration's flow.

And thus the hours of summer dance
Their merry lives away,
While grasshoppers and beetles chance
Upon their food each day.

Each tiny, thoughtless prodigal, Feasting from morn till night. Stops only now and then to call And chirp his keen delight.

Happy each bungalow peeps out From shaggy clumps of pines; Neater than wax, within, without, Till all of Beachwood shines.

Her sand-waves in the wooded green Glisten as pure as snow, The rival of a winter scene In summer's genial glow.

And on the bay a hundred sail
And motorcraft flit by;
The Commodore leans o'er the rail
To cast a tempting fly.

And fish and crab and clams galore
The fishermen lure out;
The lazy loungers on the shore
Put many more to rout.

And summer comes and summer goes,
With Palm-Beach suit and hat;
Lawn tennis claims the maids and beaux;
They play and court and chat—

Until the moon in silver writes
Love poems o'er hills and dales;
There's dancing at the club these nights,
And merriment prevails.

Nor is due reverence denied To sentiment profound; The meeting doors are open wide When Sabbath rolls around.

And here, 'mid songs and music good, Forgot are creeds outworn; We only know that Brotherhood Should thus be newly born.

But time rolls by on speeding wings—Soon summer's heyday wanes, Until the breath of autumn brings The pumpkins, corn and grains.

The meek red-berried wintergreen All through the woods is sown; The huckleberry pie is seen Right here in Beachwood grown.

The blue-jay's bell-tone deeper grows,
Up in the fragrant pines;
The curling smoke from chimney blows—
Each day makes short declines.

Fall-time is creeping on the scene, With changes manifold; The shrubs assume a crimson sheen, And some a cloth of gold; For sly Jack Frost hides in the woods, To paint the hectic glow Of autumn's many dying moods, Before he brings the snow.

The little pearls on cedar boughs Burst into jewelled view; All other evergreens arouse Themselves to splendors new.

And cranberries and holly here Camp on their native heaths; They bring us thoughts of Christmas cheer And pretty Christmas wreaths.

Dear Beachwood, must we close the book
Until another spring?
Then on thy waving flag we'll look
And hail it as we sing.

For lo, the annual exodus Begins on Labor Day;
The youngsters strive for prizes, thus
To crown the finished stay.

Like mummers at the masquerade
We humans now must go;
Like birds of passage, overstayed,
While urging breezes blow.

Hushed are the waters by the sea, And in the marshy bog; We'll turn the lock and leave the key To Julius and his dog.

Then come the legions musical
To close old autumn's sway;
A swan-song in each little shell
Devoted to decay.

Infinitesimal madrigals,
Dirges in miniature;
What tender odes and parting calls!
What elegies demure!

The cricket and his merry wife, In sobered chirps, declare The vanity of insect life When all the fields are bare.

The katydid staccatos, too,
Her fears from bursting heart,
That wintry days may soon be due;
That summer friends must part.

And so it is with larger folks, Even with you and me, Whose voice with melancholy chokes At nature's stern decree. Upon the ground brown matted hair, With green boughs overhead; Oh, curled-up oak leaves, grasses bare, Why is the earth so dead?

I never knew that anything Could be as chill as this, When wintry winds with dirges bring The Frost-King's pallid kiss.

Cats or Song Birds?

Dear people of Beachwood, you who love its pines, its broad waters, its ocean breezes, and the sweet songs of its thousands of birds of many varieties, may we not urge upon you the fact that you cannot have cats and outdoor song birds at the same time? If you bring cats here and allow them to breed litter after litter, it will not be long before Beachwood, the yearly home of the feathered warblers, will become deserted by them. Only the other day an estimable resident of Beachwood told us how she saw the neighbor's cats pick three robins off her lawn; and if this is repeated in every part of the borough, day in and day out, how long will it be before birds of all kinds will be exterminated or scared away. Cats are not needed in Beachwood any more than dogs. If we want a unique place in the pines we will do all in our power to preserve the trees and the happy songsters, who not only charm the ear and eye, but pick off the insects which would otherwise overrun us and make life a burden.

But what of that! Our hopes remain— Our faith and love thrice blest; For sweetest flowers bloom again At nature's fair behest.

Beachwood, farewell! a parting sigh Re-echoes through the haze; Till gentle spring again draws nigh, Farewell, dear Beachwood days!

WILLIAM MILL BUTLER.

No Doctor Cures His Cases

All doctors treat to relieve their patients and aid Nature in a return to normal. The Osteopathic Physician is the best aid you can get in attempting to get your Physical Machine back to a normal condition.

RESPECT YOUR "PHYSICAL MACHINE!"

For your own comfort and long life, make it a habit to consult your Osteopathic Physician whenever you feel your physical "machine" to be "out of sorts."

Correction in the early stages of any ill is far better than the necessarily slow process of eradicating it after the condition has become chronic.

THE CAUSE IS THE IMPORTANT THING

Chronic cases of almost every sort can be successfully treated by the Osteopathic Physician because long training in the adjustments of the human body makes the location of irregularities a comparatively simple matter.

It is these irregularities which are the hidden cause of many disorders.

While it is always better to consult your Osteopathic Physician as soon as a difficulty manifests itself—for this permits speedy action—still, in cases of long standing the highly specialized training of the Osteopath can accomplish truly amazing results.

You are invited to investigate the possibilities of this great Healing Science, entirely without obligation—it may mean worlds of good to you.

After you have enjoyed

Looking at the many beautiful views of Beachwood in The Directory and Who's Who,

It will further interest you to know that most of the Photographs were taken by CHARLES R. BERRIEN, Toms River's Veteran Photographer, who is a master of his art and always courteous and painstaking in his work.

The editor of The Directory and Who's Who commends Mr. Berrien for his splendid cooperation in getting out these Pictures.

The Beachwood Garage Machine and Repair Shop

Has been appointed Official Alemite Service Station for Ocean County. Study this cut a moment.

There are 20 to 40 vital points on your chassis. They need thorough lubrication every 500 miles. Failure to do this is the cause of most of those annoying squeaks—and later on repairs.

Our expert Alemite Lubricating service protects you against both. It puts an end to guesswork.

You run your car in on our rack, provided for this purpose, and we flush out each bearing under 2,000 lbs. pressure. Force out the worn-out grease, dust and grit. Pack the bearings with genuine Alemite Lubricant. Let us show you how it works.

This is one of the up-to-date services for which the Beachwood Garage is noted. Our expert mechanics are ready to take care of all kinds of ignition and motor car troubles. We tow in and repair wrecked cars.

Goodrich Tires and Tubes and a full line of accessories, gasoline and oils constantly on hand.

How to GET PURE WATER

The water problem is becoming year by year a matter for the greater attention and most careful consideration of the people.

Both springs and dug wells draw their supply of water from the water veins near the surface, comparatively, and of course become more or less impure as the surface drainage carries into it the increased decay and disease germs constantly gathering.

Every year we find that more and more must we draw our pure water supply from the deeper streams in the earth, and our wells must necessarily be sunk far deeper in order to reach those streams.

Even the more shallow wells must be carefully cased to protect them from surface drainage.

Water is the best solvent known and will hold in solution almost everything soluble. As a natural consequence surface water coming into contact with decaying vege-table matter, decomposing animal matter and the many disagreeable odors around outbuildings, etc., must partake in a great measure of these impurities. These facts, together with the one well known, that the dug well, owing to the open work of the wall and cover, oftentimes becomes at once the death bed and burial place of many of the smaller animals, ought to convince reasoning people that this is a dangerous source from which to draw their water supply.

when the supply of surface water is not sufficient, the dug well fails to furnish a supply; also in many lo-calities, owing to the nature of the soil, quicksand, gravel, etc., it is al-most impossible to get a dug well. Owing to the above facts, and many others which I might mention, the dug wells are fast becoming superseded by the drilled well.

It is now well known that by drilling, pure water can be found in nearly all portions of the world. and at the exact spot where wanted, while worthless land has been made fertile from the drilled well.

Nature has nearly everywhere provided a bountiful supply of pure water, though the stream is often deep-seated in the earth. The sands and gravel are at once a filter and purifier of it. Nowhere can purer or more deliciously cool water be obtained than in Beachwood. Wells sunk to the second stream secure a never-failing supply.

People are fast being aroused to the importance of pure water, and no process of procuring it has been looked upon with such universal favor as the drilled well, for it has been demonstrated beyond a doubt that water taken from the deepest streams is as pure and harmless as it is possible for water to be.

The only successful way of getting this supply of pure water at any place is by sinking a casing (thus shutting off all impurities from the surface) and continuing to sink till a supply of pure water is reached.
